What a Fortunate Time
For Those $8.00 Overcoats!

Fall Overcoats are the active movers just now. From those good all-wool at $8 to finest at $35, with especial success in the middle ranges at $10, $12, $15 and $18. Some merchants have an unaccountable liking for being thought "exclusive." That is just what we are not—inclusive—is better. We want everybody to buy of us. The more we sell, the bigger we grow; the bigger we grow, the better we can serve, and the more we can serve; and so we grow bigger and serve better—no limit.

Our only exclusion shall be the false.

Clothes, Shoes, Hats, Furnishings, and your money back if you want it.

Why, Wife, How You Smile!

Well, John, ain't those Buns enough to make any person happy. There! You smile yourself. I should say so! You always thought I was a poor baker, but now you see the flour has a good deal to do with it. I ordered a sack of this morning and this is the result. Of course they charged me 10 cents more than we have been paying; but, dear me, it is worth the difference for one baking.

IMPERIAL FLOUR

CZAR POISONED

Report That the Russian Emperor Has Been Slowly Put to Death by Scientific Means.

The Nihilists Said to Have Caused His Fatal Illness by the Use of Poison.

A Very Serious Row is Now Going on as to Who Will Be His Successor.

The Czarevitch is Friendly to Germany and To Reform and Opposed by the Clergy.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 15.—Has the czar of all the Russians, been skillfully poisoned and slowly put to death by scientific means in the hands of nihilists? Dr. George F. Schmidt, the German traveler now in Minneapolis, has just received special dispatches from St. Petersburg which throw a strong light on the crisis in European politics caused by the impending death of the czar. These dispatches came written in sympathetic ink on an apparently blank piece of paper. The application of heat brought out some strange stenographic characters which the doctor readily translated. He showed the dispatch to an Associated Press reporter this morning and remarked that in order to send such things from St. Petersburg it was necessary to doubly protect them by the use of sympathetic ink and a secret code. The most sensational matter in the dispatch is the intimation that the czar's illness has been caused by other than natural means. The doctor translated the dispatch for the Associated Press as follows:

"The czar is lying at the point of death. The excitement of the highest circles of Russia is simply tremendous. It is understood in a wide circle in Russia that the czar's sickness was brought about by scientific means and that his death will not be a natural one. It is on account of this that the journals contain the fact of the czar's sickness. There is a party that wants to set the czarvitch on the throne. The czarvitch is of a cranky, melancholy nature, is inclined to institute the most radical reforms throughout Russia, and has already made plans for such action. He is very much hated by the clergy. "The patriarch of Moscow, who is at the head of the Greek church, has traveled about with the czar in order to persuade him to put his second son on the throne instead of the czarvitch. The Greek Catholic church of Russia is feverishly excited. The reichsrath, or council of the empire is daily holding secret councils. The Pan-Slavic party is with the church against the czarvitch, who is a great friend of Germany. Should the czar decide to place his second son upon the throne, this would be looked upon as a direct insult to Germany and would be followed with the most serious results.

"The second son of the czar is very inimical to the German, friendly to the French, dreadfully despotic and a strong autocrat. It is feared that on the death of the czar the church influence will succeed in inducing him to call his second son as his successor. As this second son is very hot-headed, he is sure not to remain long on the throne without becoming seriously involved in state troubles. The 88-year-old patriarch of Moscow had a short conference with the czar at his death bed, but no one knows the purport of this talk.

"The second son of the czar is very despotic, opposed to the idea of Asiatic Russia, but also to attempt the tremendous task of bridging the Bering straits and extending his empire in the direction of America. This prince is by all odds one of the greatest generals in Russia, having been with Gorka and Timaschiff and having studied with the latter. All of the cabinets of Europe are alarmed.

"It is rumored that the entrance of England into the dreibund, that is the triple alliance, is about to take place. Already between Russia and France secret relations have been entered into." Dr. von Schmidt is a second lieutenant in the Prussian army traveling on leave. He is bound for Japan and the Orient.

VICTORY FOR MRS. BYERS.
She Secured Appointment of a Guardian for Her Husband.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 15.—The long and sensational struggle for the person and estate of Ebenezer M. Byers, the Allegheny iron master, was decided today. Henry Warner was appointed guardian for the lunatic.

Mrs. E. M. Byers and A. M. Byers, the lunatic's brother, it is really a victory for Mrs. Byers. Byers is still in the hospital for the insane at Philadelphia.

Receiver Oakes Exonerated.
MILWAUKEE, Oct. 15.—Judge Jenkins' decision which was filed in the United States circuit court today confirms that portion of Special Master Cary's report which exonerates Receiver Oakes. The judge commends at some length the conduct of Mr. Oakes both as an official of the Northern Pacific road and receiver of the company.

Snow in New York.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Oct. 15.—The first snow flurry of the season swept Orange and Sullivan counties last night. There was quite a heavy fall also in Delaware and Chenango counties.

THE READING RAILWAY.

The Harshorn Committee Opposes the Petition of the Receiver.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15.—The first effort toward the rehabilitation of the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad company was taken today before Judge Dallas in the circuit court when a hearing was had upon the petition of the receivers for authority to enter into an agreement to unite with the Olcott-Earle reorganization committee in giving effect to the provisions of the plan, and also for authority to pay the 2 1/2 per cent commission contemplated therein.

The Reading receivers were represented by Samuel Disston; John G. Johnson and Mayor Sulzberger appeared for the reorganization committee. John R. Dospassos, of New York, and Charles B. McMichael, of this city, looked after the interests of the committee of the general bondholders, and Nathan Bijur appeared for Isaac L. Rice and the Harshorn committee.

When court was opened the room was full of lawyers and judges. Mr. Bijur stated that he knew of no precedent where the court had authority to act in some such case before reorganization was effected and the court was asked to take no active part in the rehabilitation of the Reading company. He quoted decisions of different judges throughout the country. Among others he cited the decision of Judge Howell E. Jackson, of the supreme court, in reference to the Central railroad of Georgia, in which he instructed the receivers of that road to take no part in the reorganization of the road.

Before Mr. Bijur had concluded his objections Judge Dallas interrupted him and said that owing to this being the regular day for the opening of the United States circuit court to hear jury trials, he would be instructed to refer the present petition to the master, and that he be directed to make a speedy report, and that he be taken up by the court without interference.

There was no objection to the suggestion and the court made an order to this effect. The case was then adjourned to Master George L. Crawford, Jr.'s office where it was resumed at 12 o'clock.

THE STRIKING CLOAKMAKERS.

Three Thousand Return to Work on Their Own Terms.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—The executive committee of the striking cloakmakers claim that proof of their readiness to return to work under the terms specified in the joint agreement formulated by the strikers and signed by factory owners who do not belong to the manufacturers' union.

Two hundred cloakmakers employed by Meyer, Jonasson & Co., joined the strike this morning. At a meeting of the cloak makers' association said that the cloak factory owners of New York paid $8,000,000 annually to the 14,000 employees. This allows an average of $500 a year to each worker. "The factory owners cannot hold out," said he. "There can be no unanimous action among them. They are all at different points and desire to ruin each other."

ALL FOUR PERISHED.

A Woman and Three Children Burned to Death in a Barn.

ELIZABETH, N. J., Oct. 15.—Mrs. Jennie Harrigan and her three children perished by fire in the barn upon their farm in the outskirts of this city today. The residence also burned. The husband and father was absent at the time of the calamity.

The general belief is that Mrs. Harrigan became suddenly insane and set the house on fire; then she took her three children and went into the barn and, locking the door, set the hay on fire. As the flames began to close around them and held them until they were overcome. The eldest of the children was 14 months.

In Big Demand.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—The demand for Columbian half dollars is far beyond the expectation of the treasury officials. The indications now are that the supply will fall far short of the demand. At the time of the late New York $50,000 in sub-treasury coins were exchanged for gold during the first three days they were on sale. The demand in Washington is also unexpectedly heavy.

The Fall River Strike.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 15.—All except the Laurel Lake and Richard Borden mills which are closed for repairs, started up today with only half of the looms running. About 1000 weavers, nearly all young men, paraded the streets and went to South Park where a mass meeting was held. It is believed that many of the weavers will stop work at noon but the mill owners appear confident that the trouble is over.

The Amount Decreasing.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—President L. C. Weir, of the Adams Express company, said today that he believed the loss from the Aquia creek train robbery would not exceed $5,000 and the sum would probably be less, as part of that sum doubtless was in drafts and bonds not negotiable.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 15.—A special from New Madrid, Mo., to the Post-Dispatch says the boiler in the Protectors Lumber company's sawmill exploded today and Volney Burton and James Holmes were killed outright and B. Bon fatally injured. The boiler was torn into three parts and buried several hundred feet and the mill seriously damaged.

Requisition for a Murderer.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 15.—Governor Pattison today issued a requisition for the extradition of Garrett, the Lebanon, Pa., wife murderer, who is under arrest at Columbus, Ohio. Chief of Police Ringler, of Lebanon, left here at noon today with the papers.

MEADS IS SHORT

An Ex-Receiver of the United States Land Office at Marquette Short in His Accounts.

The Money Paid in by Homesteaders When Making Their Entries, Final Proofs or Commutations.

The Pacific Express Company's Office at
The Dalles, Ore., Robbed of Fifteen Thousand Dollars.

An Important Decision in an Insurance Case Handed Down by the Supreme Court Today.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—A Marquette, Mich., special to the Dispatch says: The accounts of Thomas D. Meads, ex-receiver of the United States land office here, have been found short and his bondsmen have been notified. So far the shortage is $2000 but as new claims appear at intervals it is impossible, without a thorough investigation, to tell the total shortage. The money was paid in during Meads' incumbency by homesteaders when making homestead entries, final proofs or commutations, and was not turned over to the government or afterwards accounted for.

Consequently homesteaders were unable to get their receipts or patents and could not realize returns on years of privation and toil spent in perfecting their rights to homesteads. Complaints from them called attention to the matter. Should his bondsmen make the defalcation good, no criminal proceedings against Meads are likely to be taken. Meads's successor was Rush C.ovey, who recently resigned to become Democratic congressional candidate.

A FIFTEEN THOUSAND HAUL.

An Express Money Package Stolen From the Pacific Company.

THE DALLES, Ore., Oct. 15.—The Pacific Express company's office in this city has been robbed of $14,000 or $15,000. The money was sent here from Portland and arrived Saturday night. F. N. Hill, express agent, and two officers took charge of the money as soon as it arrived, taking it to the express office. Details of the robbery are very meager. It is thought that the robbers came here on a train, went to the treasure box and knew where it was consigned, and the contents, and followed it up after it arrived. They made easy work of capturing it.

Charles Tibbitts, the company's driver, sleeps in the express office but on the night of the robbery he was attending a ball and did not return until 1 o'clock. The robbery was evidently committed between 11:30 and 12:30 Saturday night while Tibbitts was absent. There is no clue to the robbery.

SUPERIOR COURT DECREE.

Important Decision Handled Down in an Insurance Case.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—Judge Cauty, of the supreme court, this morning handed down four decisions, one of which was a reversal of the order of the lower court, and it was by far the most important decision of the four. It is the case of the First National bank of Devils Lake, N. D., respondent, against the American Central insurance company, of St. Louis, appellant.

The action was brought by the bank to recover on a policy which it held as mortgage on an elevator at Fargo. The insurance company declined to pay on the ground that the conditions of the policy had been violated in three particulars, viz: that no correct proof of loss was served on the company; that in violation of a clause prohibiting the placing of any other insurance, $11,000 additional had been placed on the plant and grain, and that the policy contained a printed condition voiding it if the property insured is personal property and become incumbered with a chattel mortgage.

The last clause is what saves the insurance company. In regard to the first clause, the insurance company stated that instead of submitting a proof of loss, the insured merely made a sworn statement, but the court holds that it the return was defective, the company waived the defect by retaining the policy. As to the $11,000 concurrent insurance, it is shown that the insurance company gave verbal permission to place it on the property, and that by a clerical error when the amount was inserted in the policy, it was made only $50,000 and the company knew this concurrent insurance was there at the time it delivered the policy, so it waived its rights in that direction.

But when the final point, as to the chattel mortgage, comes up, the court holds that the written portion of the policy insuring the property of the insured is personal property and is not a commission, or sold but not delivered, did not annul or supercede the policy against the chattel mortgage incumbrance, and the placing of the mortgage on the property voided the policy.

Prize Fight at Virginia.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—A special to the Dispatch from Virginia, Minn., says: Henry Briscoe, champion colored heavyweight of Minnesota and Joe King, colored heavyweight of Wisconsin, will meet in a 20-round glove contest at Crockett's opera house Oct. 20 for a purse of $100 a side and 60 per cent of the gate receipts, winner to take all. Four-ounce gloves will be used. Both men are in excellent condition and will go to win.

Col. Clough's Father Dead.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—William Parles Clough died yesterday at the residence of his son, Col. William P. Clough, 499 Summit avenue. Mr. Clough had reached the advanced age of 70 years. He lived in Courtland county, N. Y., prior to 1840, when he moved to Erie county, Pennsylvania. His son, Col. Clough, came to Minnesota in 1867, and in 1872 came to St. Paul and is vice president of the Great Northern road. His father has resided with him in this city of late. The funeral will occur on Tuesday at 10:30 in the morning.

Lost His Right Foot.
ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—William H. Best, a Minneapolis commission man, attempted to jump from a freight train in the lower railroad yards yesterday afternoon and lost a foot thereby. His right foot was caught under the wheels and so badly crushed that it had to be amputated.

Kicked by a Horse.
ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—A special to the Dispatch from LeSueur, says: While harnessing a span of horses, M. P. Curtis, proprietor of the Clifton house livery, and J. Clifford were seriously hurt by one of the horses kicking. The horse kicked once, striking them both in the face, cutting them badly, and Mr. Curtis has his cheek bone broken.

Lost an Eye.
ST. PAUL, Oct. 15.—Joseph E. Cornican, bookkeeper for the Northwestern General Electric company, residing at 221 Bruce street, lost his left eye yesterday afternoon as the result of an accident while hunting near Como with three companions.

THE BELGIAN ELECTIONS.

The Moderate Liberals Have Lost Thirty-One Seats So Far.

BRUSSELS, Oct. 15.—Up to this hour, as far as can be judged, in the elections for parliament, the Moderate Liberals have lost thirty-one seats, mostly to the Socialists. The Catholics have lost seven seats, five to the Liberals and two to the Socialists.

Owing to the number of re-ballots necessary, it is impossible to predict the exact composition of the new chamber. Several prominent Socialist leaders have been elected.

Mrs. Hoff Has Assigned.

Mrs. Celia Hoff, a shoe dealer in business at 23 East Superior street, made an assignment Saturday to Robert Fitzgerald.

In the matter of the assignment of the Duluth Drug company Judge Moer has made an order allowing the final account of Assignee T. E. Ludington and directing him to make a distribution of the remaining funds of the estate pro rata.

The American Exchange bank has sued Marion E. O'Brien for $1400 on a promissory note which she endorsed for Moses O'Brien.

The American FASHION!

WHILE The dog star rages and all work is worry, every man who attempts to do anything is surrounded by about seven others who watch him do it. They say "such a fashion is peculiar to America, and it is certainly our fix." About every other establishment in town has succumbed either to the weather or for lack of patronage, and finds their only occupation in watching us hustle. For our amusement and our customers' benefit, we propose to keep pushing the bargains and new goods as long as the Lord gives us strength and our buyers give us BARGAINS.

LARGEST CIRCULATION IN DULUTH.
OFFICIAL PAPER OF CITY OF DULUTH.
OFFICIAL PAPER OF ST. LOUIS COUNTY.

Entered at the postoffice at Duluth, Minn., as second-class mail matter.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN., Oct. 15.—Low pressure area extends along the northern border from Alberta to Ontario. A low is located in the Hudson Bay region. A high is located in the Atlantic eastward to the Northern Rocky mountain region.

Frost occurred last night in the lower lake region, the Upper Ohio valley and Eastern Tennessee. A minimum temperature of 28 degrees is reported at Duluth. The weather is cloudy in the Upper and Middle Mississippi valleys; elsewhere fair and clear.

Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 40 degrees; maximum yesterday, 46 degrees; minimum yesterday, 35 degrees.

DULUTH, Oct. 15.—Local forecast till 8 p. m. tomorrow: Fair, slightly warmer this afternoon; south to west winds.

JAMES KENNEL, Local Forecast Official.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 15.—Depth of water at Sault falls about 10 ft. today, 14 ft. in forecast for next thirty-six hours.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Forecast till 3 p. m. tomorrow: For Minnesota: Tonight and Tuesday, fair, south winds shifting to westerly; Wednesday, today and tonight, local rain; Thursday, fair, colder; fresh southeast winds shifting to northwesterly.

What the Country Needs.
One of the stock arguments of those who favor free silver coinage is that the country requires more currency, and they blame the recent depression upon the scarcity of money and an insufficient circulating medium. The Populist orators and those who talk in this strain would have their hearers believe, and some of them apparently do believe it, that an increase in the currency would fill each man's pocket to overflowing with money and every person would be "on easy street." They are careful not to point out to their hearers that if the government issued $1,000,000 more currency daily, no man could get one cent of it unless he had something to give in exchange. Thus the vast majority would be unable to obtain any of the benefits of the increased currency, allowing for the sake of argument that there is a benefit.

But it is false to say that money is scarce now and that the amount in circulation is insufficient. The fact is that the banks are overflowing with money. Money was hardly ever so cheap as it is today. The banks and capitalists are anxious to loan it, but they cannot do so.

This shows that the country now has actually more money than it can use. Information on the subject is given in a statement just issued by the treasury department, which puts the actual amount of money in circulation in the United States at $1,655,038,082, and figures out the circulation per capita at $24.07. This is a good amount per capita, when we remember that in England the total circulation per capita is only $18, or one-fourth less than here, while in Germany the per capita circulation is about the same as in England.

The Populist orators are prone to assert that the present circulation per capita in this country is much less than it was years ago. The following summary of the currency circulation in this country before the war is interesting in this connection: The highest per capita circulation before the war, even including the flood of uncertain bank notes then in circulation, was that of 1854, which was $16.10. But by 1858 it had dropped to $13.78. The money in circulation in 1859 was $443,000,000, which was about one-fourth the amount now in the country, and but little more than one-half the amount per capita which we have at present, to say nothing of the fact that much of the money of that time was of doubtful character, while that of today is acceptable everywhere at its face value. The per capita circulation at the beginning of the century was $3.

It will thus be seen that what the country lacks at present is not money but confidence. There is plenty of money but there is a paucity of confidence. We need more confidence and not more currency. If confidence were restored the money would be quickly taken from the banks and placed in enterprises that would furnish employment to labor at the same wages as before the period of depression started. Confidence is gradually being restored, and the election of a Republican house of representatives would fully restore it. A Republican house would guarantee peace so far as the tariff question is concerned, and the business world would feel assured that no disturbing legislation would be enacted. This is one of the many reasons why every man in St. Louis county who desires to see a return of prosperity should vote for Mr. Towne. Maj. Baldwin has shown that he is one of the most radical Democrats in congress. He would follow up the Gorman tariff bill with further attacks upon the protective system, thus causing distrust and disturbance in the business world and preventing a return of confidence that is essential to the revival of prosperity.

Journalistic Changes.
The Herald regrets to learn of the retirement of M. A. Hays from the management of the News Tribune, a position which he has filled for several years, and in view of the adverse conditions confronting him, with considerable ability. Mr. Hays is a good newspaper man and no doubt he will soon be found in the harness again. Of course he will remain in Duluth where he is so well and favorably known.

Messrs. Mendenhall and Hartley, the owners of the News Tribune, have engaged A. E. Chantley, for a year past managing editor of the St. Paul Dispatch to succeed Mr. Hays as manager. The Herald welcomes him to the newspaper field in Duluth.

The Railroads' Situation.
Henry Clews predicts in his weekly financial review that speculative favoritism will soon be once more with the railroad stocks. The heavy losses which outsiders have suffered as a result of insiders' manipulation of the so-called industrial properties will turn the current of speculation towards securities which are governed by natural causes and not by the machinations of a few men. Mr. Clews finds that the situation of the railroads is encouraging, as far as the outlook is concerned, and although their present condition is not all that could be desired or may be expected later on, it is at least a guarantee of better things to come, and earnings are good when the general condition of business throughout the country is considered. It must be remembered that railroad returns now are being compared with those of a particularly prosperous period, when the bulk of the world's fair business was being done. When they are compared with the ordinary traffic returns, the showing is not so poor after all; and with the habits of economy now being so well learned, the prospect for a marked improvement in net receipts is good when the general business situation begins to mend with more rapidity, as soon it will.

The "Granger" stocks have suffered for a long time on the prospect of small corn crop this year; but this idea has undoubtedly been carried too far, as present indications certainly point to the prospect of considerably larger yield than at first expected. The Washington agricultural report, issued on Oct. 10, shows that wheat and corn had increased over their estimate of last month and information from private sources from almost every direction is to the effect that the crops this year are much underestimated by the government. All these factors another reason why an improvement may be looked for later on, for when a stock or class of stocks is unduly depressed, a reaction is natural when the cause for the depression is removed or discovered to be principally the result of error.

The Belgian Election.
Considerable interest is attached to the result of the elections for members of the chamber of deputies which were held throughout Belgium yesterday, because the voting was under the new compulsory system which provides a severe penalty for non-voters. It was also the first election since the adoption of the new franchise law. The electors were divided into three classes, as follows: One year residents over 25 years of age, who were entitled to one vote; married men and widowers with families, who pay a personal tax of 5 francs to the state, who had two votes; and priests and others of position and education, who had three votes.

The Clerical party under this system had great voting strength. The Socialists made a strong fight as the independent party, while the Liberals were divided. According to the latest dispatches the first trial of the new constitution has resulted in a severe check for the Moderate Liberals, to the benefit of the Clericals and the Socialists. Many rebalots, however, appear to be necessary, owing to the provision that a majority and not a plurality elects.

The Major's Farewell.

That Tired Feeling
Loss of appetite, sleeplessness, and continual headache troubled me greatly. Last April I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla and now my troubles are all gone. I gave Hood's Sarsaparilla to my baby, 8 mos., for sores on his body, and it cured him. Mrs. W. J. Roach.

Keeping the Shrine.
The smoke upon your altar dies, The flowers decay, The goddess of your sacrifice Has been away. What profit then to sing or play The sacrifice from day to day?

"We know the shrine is void," they said, "The goddess flows— Yet wreaths are on the altar laid— In bleak with fumes of sacrifice, About his fires they gaze."

"For it may be, if we still sing And tend the shrine, Some deity on wandering wing May there incline. And, finding all in order met, Stay while we worship!" —Ludyard Kilgling.

There Too Long.
Aitkin Republican: Congressman Baldwin will tell the people of this county why he thinks he ought to be sent back to congress in the court house Monday evening next at 8 o'clock. On Nov. 6 the voters will tell the doctory major that they think he and his Democratic colleagues have been there too long and will retire the major.

Eligette.
Galveston Daily News: A gentleman never steals. He borrows.

Obstacles Spur Him On.
Philadelphia Record: Mr. Hill is one of the few political leaders in this country to whom unexpected obstacles simply serve as an incentive to additional efforts. The Democrats of the Empire state know their fearless candidate for governor, and he knows them—and he knows, too, that the party is strong enough to carry the state by a great majority if the voters are brought to the polls. And if any man in the state of New York can get them there that man is David B. Hill.

Stalwart Republicans.
Two Harbors Iron News: While the term "Kinney man" was rendered obsolete in connection with the congressional nomination when he was defeated, to have been a Kinney man is now accepted as indicative of steadfast Republicanism. Accepting his advice and following him, the Kinney men almost to a man became Towne men. They will remain so, but deeply regret the present attitude of some who shouted loudest for Towne before the election.

Aitkin for Towne.
Aitkin Republican: What is Aitkin county going to do for Mr. Towne next month? Aitkin will poll about 1000 votes, and Towne will get 800 of them, perhaps more but not less. By the by, Aitkin challenges any county in the district to poll as large a Republican vote, according to the total vote polled, as she will this fall.

MEANING OF LIBERTY

Lecture by Rev. J. M. Cleary, Last Evening on the True Definition of American Citizenship.

The Safety of a Man's Rights and Privileges Depends on the Safety of His Neighbors.

A Liberal, Earnest and Eloquent Address Full of Patriotism and Sound, Wholesome Advice.

Rev. J. M. Cleary, of Minneapolis, one of the best known Roman Catholic clergymen of the Northwest, lectured at the Temple last evening on "American Citizenship." The lower floor was filled and a portion of the balcony. Mr. McMahon presided and introduced the speaker.

Father Cleary is a man of fine physique and a strong full voice. His manner is earnest, his words eloquent and his sentiments liberal. He is a kindly fellow and has a happy, pleasing way which warms his audience to him. His lecture was broad and patriotic.

The proud privilege of being an American citizen, he said, is prized by everyone cherishing an earnest feeling for freedom of the rights and dignities of manhood because nowhere else they so honestly and judiciously protected as under the American constitution. The American citizen does not enjoy his privileges because of his race, religion or any other test. He enjoys his distinction because of his manhood.

Ours is not a country built on "manhood," a complex clear and rosy and a head of Titian hair which in the sun-gleamed with gold, such was the appearance of Rose Coglian, the celebrated actress, as she stood at the doors of the Spalding this morning as a liberal citizen. The business manager of the company, "Taking my constitutional," she said laughingly in reply to a question, "I am not a citizen of this country, but I am a citizen of the world."

"You remind me now of one of your great characters, Lady Gay Spanker in 'London Assurance.' Don't you think we shall ever see you again in a round of some of those old comedies in which you were so successful?" continued the reporter.

"Do you know I am asked this question so often that I believe I could take a good company and do well in these old pieces," said Miss Coglian. "I am a good company, and by that I mean the very best such as I have with me here. The public today will not be satisfied with the 'one star' variety, but they will have an ensemble perfect in all details. I anticipated this years ago and have always had with me the very best water possible to secure in the artistic market. My patrons through the country have appreciated this, and now the general public have accepted it as a sine qua non for their patronage and I need hardly say that it is a very great pleasure to me to see my efforts rewarded as generously as they have been."

"This is not your first visit to the Zenith City?" asked the reporter.

"Oh, no, indeed," said Miss Coglian. "I claim an association with your artistic progress and career, for I opened the Temple Opera house some five years ago with a performance of 'Jocelyn,' then one of my great successes. It is now three years since I have visited Duluth, but I hear much of your wonderful increase in the number of your patrons, and I am sure that I shall find you here."

"People who come from foreign lands too often mistake liberty for license and think they have a right to plot against the government. This is not our idea of liberty. Our idea is that each man shall give his strength to the support of his neighbor's right because on the safety of his neighbor's right depends the safety of his own. If my neighbor's inalienable and God given rights are trampled upon or menaced my own are in danger. If he is proscribed because of his race or religion today, my turn may come tomorrow. The only safety I have lies in the safety of my neighbor's right. I am a Catholic, but I demand the same rights for an foreign born Protestant that I myself enjoy. If I proscribe any man because of his religion or race, I am a traitor to my own people. That is the correct understanding of liberty as we enjoy it on American soil."

The fact that the church is necessary for the safety of the government was emphasized. In our American life they are most happily blended and each receives the protection and independence necessary for it to perform its respective functions. Religion is imperatively necessary for the welfare of the people. The founders of this government understood this, but declared that there should be no discrimination or test. They understood that in matters of religion the government is incompetent. They left religion free to exercise its benign influence on the people, but guaranteed it protection. The founders of this government studied manhood and I believe Divine Providence guided and inspired them."

"Have we not great reason to be grateful that we enjoy the sunlight of freedom?" he asked. With all our shortcomings—and we are not perfect—we still have the grandest government in the world and our rights are protected by the grandest flag which has ever flown over a people. The only criterion we ask is individual merit. It is true our rights are menaced at certain times. It then becomes our duty to guard against and ward off these dangers. First among them are secret and bound societies of misguided men who meet and conspire against the religious and commercial welfare of their fellow-men. They will be short-lived. They disturb the calm, harmonious relations of the people and the American citizens will not have them. They aim at the life of liberty."

Another menace, he said, is the insatiable greed for gold. Other nations have perished because they made gold their god. It is the duty of every American citizen to drive out this evil.

Another danger is the domination of the liquor traffic, he said, "but I have great faith in the good common sense of the American people and believe they will never permit the saloon to rule them."

"With all these dangers, if we only stand together, defending our neighbor's rights, because on the safety of his depends the safety of our own, we shall continue to contribute our share to the perpetuity of this, the grandest government on which the sun of heaven has ever shone."

N. S. Murphy sang "Hosanna to Our King" and as an encore, "Fear Ye Not, O Israel." Miss Farrell also sang a solo and was warmly applauded.

CHAT WITH MISS COGLIAN. She Talks Charmingly of Duluth. Her Company and Her Plays.

A trim, lithe figure in a tight fitting riding habit showing a form worthy of a de Medici, a face full of life and animation, a complexion clear and rosy and a head of Titian hair which in the sun-gleamed with gold, such was the appearance of Rose Coglian, the celebrated actress, as she stood at the doors of the Spalding this morning as a liberal citizen. The business manager of the company, "Taking my constitutional," she said laughingly in reply to a question, "I am not a citizen of this country, but I am a citizen of the world."

FAVOR HOME MARKETS

Chamber of Commerce Urges Duluth People to Discriminate in Favor of Home Manufacturers.

City and School Authorities Are Asked to Favor Them in Drawing Specifications for Improvements.

Capt. Sharp Wants to See Duluth Made Tributary to the Northwestern Cattle Districts.

The subject of discrimination against home manufacturers was made the special order of business at Saturday's meeting of the chamber of commerce. Local manufacturers have complained that in specifications for public and private buildings preference has been given to the products of outside manufacturers, notwithstanding the fact that the local manufacturers are as cheap and of as good quality as the foreign goods.

A resolution drafted and presented by T. W. Hugo was adopted, requesting Duluthians to patronize Duluth as far as possible, and especially asking the council, the board of public works and the board of education to draw up their specifications so that Duluth will be favored.

The commercial bodies, the newspapers and the women are appealed to work up a sentiment in favor of the proposition.

Capt. Thomas Sharp presented a communication pointing out the advantage of securing a line of boats to transport cattle and fresh meats to lower lake points and thus to Eastern points of consumption, making the cattle-raising districts of the Northwest tributary to Duluth. The communication was accompanied by a map showing the cattle-raising districts are logically tributary to Duluth. A special committee, consisting of E. C. Grady, J. B. Sutphin and Swift & Co., was appointed to look the matter up and report at a future meeting, when the subject will be made the special order of business.

Some real estate men who were present urged that statistics of Duluth's advance during the panic be prepared and printed on stationery to be used by Duluth business men, and C. E. Lovett, M. Willcuts and C. F. Johnson were appointed a committee to prepare such statistics.

A communication was received from the Cleveland chamber of commerce requesting the co-operation of the Duluth chamber in obtaining for Duluth a branch office of the government hydrographic bureau. Messrs. Hugo and Johnson were appointed a committee to look up and assist the movement.

PERISHED IN THE FLAMES. A Clouet Man Lost His Life on the Northern Pacific.

Thomas Aylward, of Clouet, and formerly of Carlton, recently lost his life on the Northern Pacific road. On Sept. 25 he left Northcote, Kittson county, Minn., where he was employed and started for home, in a passenger train. He was killed by a freight train.

Freight trains are frequently crowded with passengers but upon the main stationing that he was anxious to reach his home in Clouet, as his wife was ill, the conductor agreed to carry him. Shortly after this the train was struck by another and the caboose wrecked, caught fire and burned up. The train men escaped with difficulty, but Aylward perished in the flames.

Bradstreet's Editor Here. Albert C. Stevens, of New York, editor of Bradstreet's Journal, is in the city visiting his brother-in-law, C. R. Henegge. He finds the business improvement greater in the Western cities than in the East, it appearing as though the wave of returning prosperity is moving eastward.

Government Work. A party of engineers from the United States engineer's office is engaged in making a survey of Allouez bay, located in depths, shoals, etc. This has never been completed before.

One of the government dredges is cleaning out the channel of the St. Louis river opposite New Duluth. A private dredge is also at work near the Richards & Poole dock at New Duluth improving the landing.

Ask to See. Our all wool men's socks which we sell at only 25 cents. C. W. ERICSON, 210 West Superior street.

FOR THE TEETH. Constant care is requisite, but care that is ineffectual is labor thrown away. More brushing will not suffice, and much more than that is necessary. The use of our Floridae, its use will give the teeth a pure whiteness and keep them absolutely free from all adhesive and injurious accumulations upon the surface. All such matter hastens decay and entails a premature loss of the teeth. Save yourself from the painful and toothless gums by using our Floridae and avoid the unpleasantness of unsightly teeth and an offensive breath. We have a full line of tooth brushes from 10 cents up.

Must Be Made Here. The bids for boilers for the Bryant and Irving schools occupied several hours before the board of education Saturday night. Allan Black on an average $7750 received the contract from the Bryant building and the Thompson-Vaughn company was awarded the contract for the Irving building on a bid of $7750. Both awards were made on condition that the boilers are manufactured in Duluth.

AMUSEMENTS.

Rose Coglian.

At the Temple tonight Miss Rose Coglian and her superb company of players will appear in a fine production of Victorien Sardou's famous comedy, "Diplomacy." The story of the play is largely conveyed in its title. Its structure is as complete a handiwork of the playwright's art as can well be supposed. It comprises all the elements of a great play and until the final climax the audience cannot foretell how it is going to end. It is probable that never before on the English speaking stage has "Diplomacy" been so well produced; certainly it never before attained the popularity in this country that the Coglian company has given it.

Tomorrow evening "Forget Me Not" will be played.

"Shall No. 2" will be produced at the Temple. It is a scenic and realistic production. The company is composed of one of the Minneapolis papers as follows:

Scott Alfred Nelson, who frequently plays and until the final climax the audience cannot foretell how it is going to end. It is probable that never before on the English speaking stage has "Diplomacy" been so well produced; certainly it never before attained the popularity in this country that the Coglian company has given it.

GOLD FINDS AT ELY.

One Company of Ely and Duluth Formed to Develop the Property.

According to the Tower Journal, Ely is now in the throes of a gold excitement. The precious metal is found in township 63, range 12, section 30 and the property is owned by Ed McIntosh who has formed a company consisting of A. W. Dutton, B. E. Wells, C. C. Prindle and himself to develop the find.

Numerous assays made by reputable parties, have developed from $5 to $25 of gold to the ton. The rock is a quartz with a talc slate formation and contains silver and gold with a sprinkling of galena. The assay made last week developed $10 in gold and $377 in silver to the ton.

The company has begun active operations and will strip the vein extensively and also sink a number of test pits. The property is situated on section 25, in 63-13, the town adjoining, has a crew of men sinking test pits with good results. The latest pit is 14 down 15 feet and is bottomed in quartz of a rich character. This pit is on the line dividing sections 25 and 30 and 63-13 and 63-12.

REGISTER TAYLOR'S HEAD.

Another Report that it is to Fall at Maj. Baldwin's Request.

The St. Paul Pioneer Press yesterday said: "Register Taylor, of the Duluth land office, is to quit, and the job that he has held for past six months is to be removed from him. C. P. Maginnis, ex-registrar of the Duluth office, who was fired when President Harrison was elected, has taken the stump for Mr. Baldwin, and he will get the appointment—that is if Baldwin is close enough to Commissioner Lamoreaux to secure the removal on grounds that will be described as 'for the good of the party.'"

"Mr. Maginnis has been in the western part of the district for Mr. Baldwin, but has returned home and the announcement of the change may be expected daily. The removal of Taylor will be hailed with delight by the old line Democrats and denounced by the others, but the latter are in the minority and will have to submit. Taylor was an importation, Baldwin discovered him in Dakota territorial days and brought him to Duluth, where until his appointment, he was a clerk in an abstract office. His petition was endorsed by a great many Duluth Democrats and the same people are behind the movement to have him fired."

"He has so little sense of party obligation," said a Duluth Democrat at the Merchants last night, "that he absolutely refuses to do anything now or even to contribute, and gives it out that he got the office because the people of Duluth wanted him. He will presently be given an intimation of a man losing his job."

A Herald reporter today drew Register Taylor's attention to the above, but he said he knew nothing about it and would not discuss it.

$100 Reward $100.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one honest person who has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is certain. Bala's Cough Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity, and it is a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional remedy. Bala's Cough Cure is taken internally, and directly upon the blood and mucous surface of the system, thereby destroying the formation of the disease, and the patient strength by building up the constitution and restoring nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

AFRAID OF HIS DEBTS

James E. Winn, an Employee of the Van Dusen-Harrington Elevator Company Succided This Morning.

Financial Troubles Brought on by Paying Cards is the Only Cause Assigned for the Deed.

He Left a Letter for His Mother and Sister Telling of His Troubles and Difficulties.

James E. Winn, a room-mate of Edward L. Clough, residing at 313 West Second street, is lying dead in Stewart's morgue, the result of a successful effort at self-destruction. Mr. Winn was between 23 and 24 years of age and was employed by the Van Dusen-Harrington company ever since his arrival in the city something over a year ago.

When Mr. Clough got up this morning he went down to breakfast about a quarter to 9 o'clock and after breakfast returned to his room. Winn then awoke and asked Mr. Clough what the time was, and he told him "a quarter past 9; you had better get up," and Clough then left the room.

Half an hour afterward Mrs. Hoare asked Mr. Hoare to go up stairs and see Mr. Winn. Mr. Hoare soon returned and said Mr. Winn was dead. Dr. Pillsbury was hastily summoned, but beyond a faint suspicion of heart morose there was no life left.

The deceased had evidently, while in full possession of his faculties, composed himself for death. His hands were placed under the bed clothing, which was pulled smoothly about him, and close alongside his face was a picture of his mother. He left a short note to his mother, and sister outlining the closing days of his life and telling them of his financial troubles. In closing he asked their forgiveness for taking his own life.

Young Mr. Winn was apparently of a very quiet disposition, but entered into any home amusements with heartiness, but lately he has been out very late, and his financial troubles consisted principally of some debts of honor incurred at poker. Clark Fagg, manager of the Van Dusen-Harrington company, speaks in the highest terms of Mr. Winn, whom he has known from childhood, and says that his relations with the firm were all in perfect condition. Mr. Winn's people are well-to-do stock raisers and will be notified of the young man's untimely end by Mr. Fagg's father, who has been wired of the calamity.

There will be an autopsy to determine the cause of death. A partially filled bottle of carbolic acid was found near the bedside but the appearance of the body did not indicate carbolic acid poisoning.

Register Tomorrow.

Tomorrow will occur the first day of registration for the general county and state elections. The registration boards will meet at the same places as the special election boards are holding forth, and books will be open from 10 o'clock to 12 noon.

Subsequent days for registration are Oct. 23 and 30. All voters who did not vote at the last spring election must register, and on account of the rearrangement of the precincts it is advisable for all voters to examine the poll lists and see that their names are properly recorded. The fact that they are registered for the special election cuts no figure in the matter. Next Friday is the last registration day for the special election.

Drinks Given Fines.

Richard Barrett and J. Johnson, two drunks, contributed $10 each into the city treasury this morning. The shaggy ball declared forfeited by Judge Powell. Pat Murphy, another drunk, was fined a like amount and John Samson was given a suspended sentence on account of his family. Adolph Johnson, a 16-year-old boy, was fined $10 for stealing wheat from box cars. He is one of the gang which was arrested several days ago.

Placed With Duluth.

Gen. Henry H. Lockwood, who has been visiting E. R. Brace for the past week, left on the St. Paul & Duluth this morning for St. Louis, en route to his home in Washington, D. C. He is much pleased with Duluth and thinks it has a great future before it, superior to any Western city except Chicago.

"Alumni" Game Dinner.

An anniversary game dinner was given to the "alumni" of Mrs. J. B. Koot's private boarding house last evening. A very enjoyable reunion of the ex-boarders was had. George Mackenzie contributed a Scottish number to the impromptu program which was loudly enjoyed.

Will Speak Tonight.

Hon. E. Pomeroy, of New Jersey, is in the city and arrangements were made this morning for him to speak at the Normal hall tonight on the railway question and direct legislation. Mr. Pomeroy is a young man, but is a splendid speaker and a fine effort may be looked for.

"CHIMES OF NORMANDY."

To be Presented by Local Talent at the Lyceum Next Month.

On Nov. 2 and 3 at the Lyceum, the opera, "Chimes of Normandy," will be given for the benefit of N. S. Murphy, who expects to leave soon to study vocal culture. Mrs. Emil Olund is arranging for the opera and her class, of which Mr. Murphy is a member, will present it. Mr. Murphy has always given his aid when requested to concerts, operas, etc., for the benefit of charity and has always been of great assistance and his efforts will doubtless be shown proper appreciation upon the occasion of this performance.

The cast will be an excellent one. James A. Frear of Hudson, Wis., will stage the opera and take the part of Gaspard. The following is the cast:

Henry.....N. S. Murphy
Frederick.....C. W. Erickson
James A. Frear.....James A. Frear
H. O. Lowell.....H. O. Lowell
C. P. Murphy.....C. P. Murphy
Assessor.....C. P. Murphy
Gertrude.....Miss Marion Miller
Frieda.....Miss Marion Miller
Mrs. P. N. Dean.....Mrs. P. N. Dean
Miss Florence Bailey.....Miss Florence Bailey
Miss Fannie Calvery.....Miss Fannie Calvery

The chorus will contain sixty members. It has been in rehearsal several months.

Death of Dr. Charles S. Allen in a Canoe on Lake Vermilion.

The announcement of the death of Dr. Charles S. Allen was received here from Tower by telegraph this morning. Dr. Allen had been hunting in the vicinity of Tower for three or four days and on Sunday was crossing Lake Vermilion in a canoe with James Beatty, of Tower. About 5 o'clock in the afternoon they were about 2 1/2 miles from Tower. He was talking to Mr. Beatty, when he suddenly fell over his side and expired instantly. Heart disease is assigned as the cause of death. Dr. Allen was a practicing dentist all his life coming here from Grand Rapids, Mich., fourteen years ago. He leaves a wife residing at 425 East Third street. A daughter, Mrs. Thomas Peck, of Pittsfield, Mass., the only child.

Dr. Allen was a member of Palestine lodge A. F. and M. and past eminent commander of the Duluth commandery of Knights of Templar, having been the first commander. The funeral will be on Thursday under Masonic auspices.

Death of Henry Guilbault.

The death of Henry Guilbault, aged 67 years, of pulmonary consumption, at his residence, 1113 Broadway avenue, Park Point, was reported to the board of health this morning. Mr. Guilbault was one of the earliest French-Canadian settlers of Duluth and was well known here. An infant son of John and Mary Grasshopper, the Indian family whose destination last winter was a subject of contention and relief, died yesterday. He was buried today. The child was three months old and the death was the fourth in the family within a year. The cause of death was bronchitis.

Births of sons to Dan and Josephine Kelly at 302 Pacific avenue, and Charles and Mary Anderson, at 2224 West Fourth street, were also reported.

MAY HAVE A BONSPIEL.

Duluth and Winnipeg are Talking of Having One Here.

The annual meeting of the Duluth Athletic club will be held tomorrow evening at the office of Stryker, Manley & Buck. Officers are to be elected and the constitution and by-laws will probably be amended, making the dues payable quarterly. The officers to be appointed and plans for the winter outlined.

The question of having a bonspiel will be considered. The Northern Association does not seem disposed to hold a bonspiel here unless Minneapolis and Milwaukee decline it. The Duluth men do not feel like taking the way and will probably join with Winnipeg in having a bonspiel here.

Thinks He Has Austin.

Chief Armstrong received the following dispatch this morning from the chief of police, Princeton, Minn.: "Have arrested man answering your description of Austin, except that he claims to be 60 years old." Chief Armstrong sent Detective Hayden down to look at the man. Austin is the man who was connected with the mysterious woman murdered on Park Point.

Wheat Dull and Lower.

A Flood of Bearish News Caused a Weak Market Today.

Wheat was dull, weak and lower here today. The news and the conditions were generally bearish, there being hardly a thing outside of the price, which was calculated to encourage buyers. The cables were generally weaker and private advices from Liverpool said that market was much depressed by heavy offerings of Russian wheat, while the Argentine product was also pressing on the market, as the prospects for the growing crop there were said to be on a weak, New York taking the lead. The large in-the-visible had a weakening effect. The market opened at 5c lower, than Saturday. The market opened at 5c lower, than Saturday. The market opened at 5c lower, than Saturday.

TO SUE VILLARD.

The Northern Pacific Company Asks that the Receivers be Instructed to Bring Heavy Suits.

Nearly $2,600,000 is Alleged to Have Been Made by Villard, Hoyt and Colby Unlawfully.

The Matter Made Public by Judge Jenkins
Through a Reference in the Oakes Decision.

Some of the Alleged Illegal Deals Out of Which the Large Gains Were Made.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—It has developed in the proceedings in the United States court that the Northern Pacific company, through Brayton Ives, has made good its threat and has petitioned Judge Jenkins to instruct the receivers to bring suits against Henry Villard, Colgate Hoyt and Charles L. Colby to recover nearly $2,600,000 alleged to have been made unlawfully through Northern Pacific deals. The matter was a surprise and was made public through a reference which Judge Jenkins made in his decision in the Oakes matter.

The petition refers to the report of Master Cary and charges that Hoyt and Colby were associated with Villard in his alleged illegal deals. Besides the $695,191 alleged to have been made out of the Northern Pacific & Manitoba deals, $224,800 is alleged to have been made out of the transactions of the Oregon & Transcontinental company in connection with the Chicago terminal deal.

About $400,000 is alleged to have been made out of the acquisition of the Chicago, Harlem & Batavia property, and $670,000 from the purchase of the Bridgeport & South Chicago property. From the bond distribution by the Oregon & Transcontinental company the defendants are said to have made $400,000, and from the sale of Chicago & Northern Pacific bonds by the same company $1,000,000. Still another bond sale is alleged to have netted $126,000.

AUSTRIA HAS A SURPLUS.

The Budget Estimate for the Coming Year Submitted Today.

VIENNA, Oct. 16.—In the lower house of the Austrian reichsrath today, the minister of finance submitted the budget estimate for 1895, showing a surplus of 2,457,707 florins. The minister added that the accounts for 1893 showed a surplus of 2,500,000 florins. This statement was received with a murmur and was followed by prolonged cheering.

Continuing, however, the minister of finance said that 6,000,000 florins must be deducted because the state of the treasury had been converted into coin to that amount. The actual surplus therefore was 2,500,000 florins. The direct taxes produced 2,068,300 florins and indirect taxes produced 2,451,363 florins above the same taxes in 1892.

MR. GLADSTONE DENIES.

Says It is Untrue That He Will Take Holy Orders.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The World today made an assertion subsequently shown to be untrue, which, however, is attracting considerable attention in spite of its lack of foundation in authenticity. The World asserted that Mr. Gladstone has long entertained the idea of taking holy orders, and that it was for this reason he determined to retire from parliament. The World added that if Mr. Gladstone's health and sight allow it, he will shortly be a candidate for ordination.

Mr. Gladstone, in response to a telegram of inquiry as to the truth of this statement says that the assertions were quite untrue.

PORTUGUESE SOLDIERS KILLED.

The Report of an Attack Upon Lourenço Marquez Confirmed.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—A dispatch received here today by the Pall Mall Gazette from Johannesburg confirms the Reuter dispatches in regard to the attacks recently made upon the Portuguese town of Lourenço Marquez, Delagoa bay, Southeast Africa. The Pall Mall Gazette dispatch says that nine Portuguese soldiers and two white women were killed in the attack made on Sunday last.

The dispatch adds that the Portuguese have declined the offer of the Transvaal republic to send 300 Boers to the assistance of Lourenço Marquez. The Portuguese are afraid to admit the Boers into the town, believing that it might not be easy to dislodge them when their services would be no longer needed.

Fear a Train Robbery.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 16.—The officials of the St. Louis & San Francisco road are worked up over the news that a heavily armed body of men has been seen up near Bentonville heading for their lines. The railroad officials are exercising extra precautions to prevent a train robbery.

Massey Not Indicted.

BORDENTOWN, N. J., Oct. 16.—William Massey, who has been in prison since May 24 on suspicion that he murdered Lizzyne Hallway, was released from custody today. The grand jury created a sensation last week by failing to find a bill of indictment against him. Massey came direct to his home in this city.

RULE OF THE DEPARTMENT.

District Attorneys Not Permitted to Do Campaign Work.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The attention of Attorney General Olney was today called to a statement in a telegram from Vinton, Iowa, to the effect that United States Attorney Sells has been instructed to cancel his campaign engagements. Mr. Olney said that Mr. Sells had written him on the subject of his taking an active part in the campaign and in reply the following letter had been sent him:

"It is contrary to the rule of this department—uniformly laid down in every case in which application has been made—that district attorneys should actively participate in political campaign work." It was said at the department of justice that substantially the same replies had been sent to a number of district attorneys from all sections of the country who had written making inquiry on the subject, and that the rule stated by Mr. Olney was an old one from which there had been no deviation in the replies sent in answer to inquiries upon the subject.

LEIST WAS CONVICTED.

To Be Reduced in Rank and His Salary to Be Cut.

POTSDAM, Oct. 16.—The disciplinary court today tried the case of ex-Chancellor Leist, formerly the German administrator of the Cameroons district of West Africa, who was recalled owing to the charges of brutality brought against him. The court acquitted Leist the charge of causing a mutiny of the native troops, but he was convicted of abusing his authority and immorality. Consequently he was condemned to be transferred to a minor post. In addition the court sentenced Leist to have his salary reduced one-fifth.

SHOT BY A ROBBER.

An Ohio Marshal Dangerously Wounded by an Escaping Robber.

ASHLAND, Ohio, Oct. 16.—Yesterday Byron Eby's house at Millin was robbed. The robber went to Jeromeville, but his description preceded him, and Marshal Isaac Hefflinger, of that town, attempted to arrest him in a barn. In escaping the robber turned and shot the marshal in the right breast. He will probably die. The murderer is closely pursued and will probably be run down before night.

Will Break the Record.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—Louis Gimn, the crack bicyclist, who started out on the Newburg track at 5 o'clock last evening to beat the Schorner bicycle record, will surely accomplish his purpose if nothing happens to him. At the end of the first twelve hours Gimn had made 200 miles, and was 200 yards ahead of Spooner's famous record. At midnight a heavy rain set in and Gimn compelled to leave the track for thirty-four minutes. Notwithstanding the lost time and the heavy track, he is keeping up a tremendous pace and is still ahead of the best record with a very good prospect of lowering it.

An Aged Professor Dead.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 16.—Rev. Charles Woodhouse, here, died here, aged 83 years. He entered the Universalist ministry in 1834 and occupied pulpits in New York, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Colorado. In 1865 he graduated from the Hammen medical college, in Chicago, and was later professor of medical jurisprudence in that institution. He then came to Rutland. He was twice grand master of Vermont Odd Fellows. A widow and three sons survive him.

The Cook Outlaws.

MUSKOGEE, I. T., Oct. 16.—The Cook gang of outlaws have been in the neighborhood of Muskogee several days. They have been boldly approaching places between the Verdigris and Arkansas rivers and demanding their meals for which they pay liberally. Today information is brought that the full band is camped within two miles of Muskogee, just behind the hill on the northeast side.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 16.—A Blade special from Carey, Ohio, says the boiler of a ferry boat, carrying half the building into fragments and fatally injuring the engineer, Solomon Sterling, who was being towed by the boat. Green, a laborer, had his left foot and right arm blown off by the second story window, but escaped injury.

Prince Gallitzin's Trip.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Oct. 16.—Prince Gallitzin, a Russian nobleman and an officer of a secret service department, known in Russia as the third division, passed through Albuquerque on his way to New York via Chicago and Buffalo. The prince has just arrived from China and Japan, passing through part of Mexico on his way to this country. He is traveling in America in his official capacity in the interest of his government.

The Indian Reservations.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Commissioner of Indian Affairs Browning returned today from his tour in the Northwest. He was away five weeks and visited the reservations in Minnesota and the Dakotas. He has reached the conclusion that the reservations are in good condition and that stock-raising among the Indians should be encouraged by the government.

A Michigan Murder.

SPRING PORT, Mich., Oct. 16.—The body of C. A. Waterman, a wealthy farmer, was found in the woods this morning with a bullet in the head. Yesterday afternoon Waterman drew $600 from the bank and took it home. He left the house early in the evening to do some work and was not seen again. Everything points to murder with robbery as the motive.

Medal for Bravery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—A medal of honor has been awarded to Andrew W. McCormack, late sergeant of the One Hundred and Twenty-seventh Illinois volunteers, now a resident of Monticello, Minn., for most distinguished gallantry as a member of the storming party at Vicksburg, May 22, 1863.

JENNIE REPENTS

The Daughter of Eugene Mehl, of the Ryan Hotel, St. Paul, Repents Her Hasty Marriage.

Was Infatuated With a Colored Porter and Married Him, but Now Wants a Divorce.

S. B. Rice, Who Has Been Located at St. Cloud, to be Superintendent of the Eastern.

J. W. Hamilton, Secretary to Sam Hill, to be Chief Clerk to General Manager Farrington.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 16.—Mrs. James Robinson, who lives at 1025 Harmon place and whose maiden name was Jennie Mehl, is now anxious to secure a divorce. The story of her infatuation for her dusky lover, who was employed by her father, Eugene Mehl, of the Ryan hotel in St. Paul, is well remembered, together with that of her flight to Anoka and the subsequent scandal attendant upon her ill-advised marriage. It seems now that her infatuation, which she says began with drugged wine, has worn off and she longs to break the bonds which bind her to her husband.

In order to bring about that consummation she is securing evidence against him, and when the divorce is secured she will return to her parents, who now reside in New York and with whom she has kept up a steady correspondence. Robinson, she says, does not treat her well, and she has employed detectives to secure evidence of infidelity.

GREAT NORTHERN CHANGES.

St. Paul, Oct. 16.—There is a well founded rumor about that possibly today will witness a number of important changes among officials of the Great Northern, particularly those in charge at St. Cloud. It was thought that after the recent shuffling up of the Eastern Minnesota. C. C. Ponsonby, the present efficient assistant superintendent here, is said to be booked to succeed Mr. Rice. This change will all probably make Chief Dispatcher Buskirk assistant division superintendent, unless that office is abolished, which is not likely.

St. Paul, Oct. 16.—J. W. Hamilton, secretary to President Sam Hill, of the Eastern Minnesota, will shortly leave for Duluth, where he will take the position of chief clerk to General Manager Farrington. Mr. Hamilton's position will be filled by Frank Shesgreen, chief clerk to Division Superintendent Rice, of the Great Northern at St. Cloud.

WESTERN FREIGHT RATES.

The St. Paul & Duluth's Case Not Considered by the Association.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 16.—The northern committee of the Western Freight association held a special meeting yesterday to consider the relation of the St. Paul & Duluth to the agreement on the transit incidental routine business. There were only a few lines present, and although the St. Paul & Duluth was represented no action was taken in its case and it is improbable that anything will be done this season, as the end of navigation is now in sight.

All lines agree that the withdrawal of the Duluth road will in no way affect rates, that road simply failing to approve of the agreed method of handling business as affecting certain of their local interests. The St. Paul & Duluth officials say that the only fault they have to find with the rates is that they are too low and that under no circumstances will they do anything to make them any lower, even though not bound by the agreement to maintain them.

It is probable that at the beginning of next season all the roads will come together into a stronger agreement than ever, and that a stout effort will be made to get more remunerative rates than they have had this season. Even the 22 1/2-cent rate on flour, while adhered to by all faithfully as far as can be learned, is not as high as it should be by 3 or 4 cents.

DIED IN A FEW HOURS.

Mysterious Death of a St. Paul Man at Redwood Falls.

REDWOOD FALLS, Minn., Oct. 16.—A man whose identity is unknown has been found in an unconscious condition on a grade half a mile east of Echo. He was brought to Echo and placed in the office of a livery barn and medical aid summoned. The man died in a few hours.

Nothing could be learned from him except that he belonged to St. Paul and had been in search of work. As there were no marks of violence it is difficult to say what was the cause of death. The case will be investigated.

A Beer Boycott.

LACROSSE, Wis., Oct. 15.—On account of the boycott declared on LaCrosse beer by the grand labor council, the brewers last night gave all employees the option of abandoning the brewers' union or being summarily discharged. A meeting of the union was held but its action can not be learned.

The National Guard.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 16.—A special meeting of the Minnesota National Guard association has been called to meet at the capitol on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 17, at 2 o'clock, to consider such business as may be brought before it.

Sellers Ore Company.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 16.—The Sellers Ore company of Hibbing filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state today. The capital stock is $500,000.

The Winnepig Indians.

BLACK RIVER FALLS, Wis., Oct. 16.—The Winnepig Indians are being enrolled here for their annual payment. There are about 1300 of them and they will receive nearly $200 each, to be paid in four different places.

A BLOCKADE OF MADAGASCAR.

A Paris Paper Urges the Government to Undertake It.

PARIS, Oct. 16.—The Matin urges the government to immediately proclaim and enforce a blockade of the Madagascar ports and calls upon M. Hanota, minister of foreign affairs, to fix the date.

M. Alysse, deputy for French India, has prepared an interpellation urging an immediate declaration of war against Madagascar and declaring that the French forces in the island should be at once supported by 12,000 fresh troops. The deputy adds that the conquest of Madagascar ought not to be difficult, although the Hovas will probably be commanded by English and German officers.

The Journal des Debats says the negotiations for an Anglo-German treaty in regard to the African Hinterland were not accepted, because part of the Anglo-German agreement touched the territory within the French sphere.

A BAD FIRE IN HOUSTON

A Texas Town Visited by a Fire in Which Four Women Were Burned to Death.

HOUSTON, Tex., Oct. 16.—The worst fire in the history of Houston broke out at 2:40 this morning and before it was placed under control at 4:30 o'clock, not only had a large amount of property been destroyed, but two sisters of St. Joseph were burned to death, two infirm patients also perished and a third sister was dangerously injured. The fire originated in the San Jacinto hotel, or rather boarding house, corner Franklin and San Jacinto streets, from which the blaze spread rapidly to the adjoining small building of St. Joseph's infirmary on Franklin street, destroying also a large 2-story frame annex and the new 4-story brick main building.

The destruction of these buildings was accompanied by loss of life. Sisters Deloral and Jane were burned beyond all possibility of recognition, while Sister Glubbe was fearfully burned about the face, neck, breast and arms, her recovery being in doubt. Two patients are also missing, but there is not the slightest doubt that these also perished.

On San Jacinto street the fire spread to a 1-story cottage and next destroyed Alexander's 3-story boarding house, managed by Mrs. J. J. Hussey; the 2-story brick building of W. L. Shaw, occupied by the S. M. Rushmore Grocery company; and Joe Hancock, stationer; I. Chene's 3-story furniture house and W. L. Foley's dry goods house, the largest in the city.

ABSOLUTELY NO CLUE.

The Aquia Creek Train Robbers Are Still Unknown.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The officers of the Adams Express company in this city are disappointed that no results have been obtained from the detectives who are working on the Aquia creek train robbery. It was expected that some progress would be shown by today, but the officials were obliged to confess that they were absolutely without a clue and that they had made no advancement since Saturday morning.

Judgment by Default.

WARREN, O., Oct. 16.—The suit of Thomas Guy against Robert L. Walker, assignee for Governor William McKinley, M. D. Dyer & Williams and the Fifth Avenue bank of Pittsburgh, for $12,000 came up in common pleas court here today for judgment by default as to all the defendants except in the case of Governor McKinley. The case originated from the failure of Robert L. Walker, and real estate held by him is involved. Governor McKinley was one of Walker's indorsers.

To Be Imprisoned.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 16.—Imprisonment proceedings against Health Commissioner Dr. Walter Kempster for the manner in which he has handled the smallpox epidemic in this city were begun in the common council last night. Testimony will be taken in a few days.

The Stamp Robbery.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—After a thorough investigation of the robbery at the bureau of engraving and printing, Chief Sullivan has ascertained that 52,100 stamps, valued at $1012, were purloined.

Port Arthur Captured.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 16.—It is reported that Port Arthur, the Chinese stronghold, where the Chinese fleet has been fitting after the battle of the Yalu river, has been captured by the Japanese.

Asks for a Dismissal.

In the case of M. W. Dale, against the St. Paul & Duluth the defendant has filed with the district court notice of a motion to dismiss on the ground of lack of prosecution. The case was brought in 1887 by Dale to recover for a car of wheat which was burned in the old elevator "A." It was continued from time to time and nothing having been done the road moves to dismiss.

Page Morris will speak at the following places: St. Paul, Oct. 20; St. Peter, Oct. 22; Bird Island, Oct. 23; Sauk Center, Oct. 24; Long Prairie, Oct. 25; Staples with Borgstrom, Oct. 26; Little Falls, Oct. 27.

BANDITS CAUGHT

Three of the Robbers of the Express Car at Quantico, Va., Reported Under Arrest.

One Was Captured at Cumberland, Md., Early This Morning, With Part of the Money.

Two of the Men Were Apprehended Later at Cherry Run and Sent to Jail.

President Weir Now Confident the Whole Amount Stolen Will Not Exceed Twenty Thousand Dollars.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A special from Cumberland, Md., timed 5 a. m., to the Washington Times says: "This morning at about 1:10 o'clock Officer Beck, of this city, noticed a man acting in a rather suspicious manner near the Baltimore & Ohio depot. He tried to board express train No. 9 westbound, with two satchels. The man answered the description of one who was implicated in the robbery of the express car at Quantico, Va., last week. As soon as the officer attempted to make the arrest, the man started to run but was soon caught by the officer. He claimed to have been stopping at one of the hotels in this city, and upon being taken to each of the hotels in turn, claimed that it was a different one.

"He was taken to the station house and upon being searched $1553 was found hidden in two woolen stockings. Nine hundred and twenty-three dollars were in notes and $630 in silver, one silver watch and a gold one, a lot of pawn tickets and three silver watches. A fine Colt's navy revolver was on his person. There were forty-three cartridges in his pocket and a memorandum book showing where the entire booty had been divided between the men.

"In his satchel were found old muddy shoes, a slouch hat and wearing apparel that looked like disguises. He asked to be taken to the water closet and while there tried to hide another revolver and some money but was caught in the act. The man is, rather large and weighs at least 160. He is 6 feet tall, with a smooth face and dresses neatly.

"It was discovered by the officials that he had arrived in this city at about 11 o'clock yesterday morning and had gotten away with several hundred dollars in a gambling house. The police are confident they have one of the robbers. The man claimed to belong to several orders, but refused to give his name. He is now committed to jail to await trial on Oct. 25. He is very sullen and refuses to talk, but before his commitment to jail told a number of conflicting stories. Officer Beck says the man was intoxicated and made a hard fight before he could be arrested.

Of the seven Quantico robbers, three are now under arrest. The Cumberland, Md., dispatch was shown to President L. G. Weir, of Adams Express company, who said that it agreed with the advices received by him. The Cumberland suspect, he believed, was one of the three men who were released after passing through Front Royal, Va., Monday night. The sheriff lost track of them, though he was advised of their coming.

They bought new clothes at Front Royal and were traced to a Norfolk & Western train. Subsequently two of the men were apprehended at Cherry Run and sent to jail at Martinsburg. The third escaped but was overtaken at Cumberland, Md., and is now under arrest there, where the only money so far as is reported was found. The memorandum book which this robber carried showing where the entire booty had been divided had not yet been reported by the company's agents, but it should prove a valuable clue.

Four more men implicated in the robbery have yet to be accounted for. Mr. Weir was positive that the total amount stolen would not exceed $20,000 and that even that amount would likely be reduced by further reports. Although there has been much talk of the man Carter, said to have been arrested as a suspect in Washington, he had not received a word of information concerning him.

PORTUGUESE DEMORALIZED.
Troops Being Raised in the Transvaal for Their Relief.

JOHANNESBURG, Transvaal, Oct. 17.—Many of the inhabitants in the neighborhood of Delagoa bay are embarking on board of ships bound for Natal. The Portuguese authorities at Lourenço Marques are utterly demoralized. The marines landed from the British gunboat Thrush are protecting the interests of the British residents.

Forces are being raised here and at Pretoria at the request of the Portuguese authorities, in order to relieve Lourenço Marques, but the transport of the troops to the coast will be difficult as railroad communication with the beleaguered town is interrupted.

WHOLE FAMILY MISSING.
Supposed to Be a Case of Wholesale Murder and Suicide.

HAMBURG, Oct. 17.—A sensation has been caused here by the mysterious disappearance of Herr Rothgardt, a leather merchant of the Hansa Platz, his wife and four children, and his brother-in-law, named Kruz.

The body of the youngest child has been washed ashore at the Island of Finkenwerder in the Elbe, and it is believed that the disappearance of the whole family may turn out to be a case of wholesale murder and suicide.

GILROY WILL NOT PRESIDE.

Irishmen Decline to Attend a National Federation Reception.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The members of the Irish National federation, who are preparing the reception to be tendered in the Lenox lyceum tonight to Edward Blake, M. P., for South Longford, Ireland, have received a disagreeable surprise by the refusal of Mayor Gilroy to preside after he had agreed to do so a week ago.

When the mayor was approached by Patrick Gleason and the other members of the arrangement committee and asked to help along the cause, a day or so ago the Irish Independent party, which represents the element of Irishmen in this country who favor aggressive Parnell methods in Irish affairs, instead of the doctrine of agitation, prepared a circular which was intended to broadcast through the city and vicinity. It made a direct onslaught on Mr. Blake and called upon all loyal Irishmen to repudiate him and the party he represents.

"When I heard of Mayor Gilroy's intention to preside," said Judge Lynn last night, "I lost no time in communicating with him, and made him acquainted with the facts of the case and the actual standing held by this man Blake and the party he represents among all sections of honest, patriotic Irishmen in this country. But I found that others had been ahead of me. Several of the wealthiest and most influential Irishmen in this city had talked with the mayor and had convinced him that his presence at the reception would be a grave mistake. Then he promptly withdrew his consent to be present."

WAS SHOT IN THE SIDE.
A Robber Wounded by an Express Messenger in Ohio.

TOLEDO, Ohio, Oct. 17.—At Latta, Paulding county, this morning, the express messenger on the eastbound Nickel Plate train was throwing off packages, a strange man picked up a package of fur garments and started to run.

The messenger fired, hitting the robber in the side. He dropped the package and escaped after a half mile chase, being picked up by a buggy with two men, evidently waiting for him. His entire route could be traced by the blood he lost.

SUPPOSED TO BE LOST.
A Pacific Coast Vessel Foundered With a Seafaring Editor on Board.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—As yet no tidings have been received here of the American ship Ivanhoe, coal laden from Seattle to San Francisco. She is now twenty-one days out from Puget Sound. It is now almost certain the vessel has been lost. She was commanded by Capt. C. E. Griffin and carried a crew of eighteen men.

A VERY REALISTIC SCENE.
An Actor in a Sawmill Scene Has a Hand Cut Off.

MARQUETTE, Ill., Oct. 17.—During the production of the play, "Uncle Josh Sprucey," at the opera house last night, Huse N. Morgan, one of the leading actors, in arranging the saw in the sawmill scene accidentally let his hand fall between the saw and the log and it was literally torn to pieces.

It was amputated at the wrist later. By his self-possession a panic was narrowly averted. Nearly a dozen ladies in the audience fainted.

TWO WOODSMEN KILLED.
They Were Shot by Proprietors of a Disreputable House.

ESCANABA, Mich., Oct. 17.—A double murder occurred last night at the "Old Homestead," a house of ill-fame, three miles from Rapid River.

Two men belonging to the house shot and killed two woodsmen by the name of Burns and Mercer. It is said that Burns and Mercer entered the house and wanted to leave. The proprietors objected to their going and cut their careers short.

HARTMAN VERSUS WARREN.
Motion for Review to be Heard by Secretary Hoke Smith.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—The case of Hartman against Warren, involving the validity of a location of many thousand dollars' worth of half-breed scrip in the Duluth district, has been set for hearing on Oct. 22 before the secretary of the interior, on a motion for review.

Perished in a Fire.
MUSKOGEE, Mich., Oct. 17.—During the progress of a fire in the yards of the Thayer Lumber company, this morning, John Ellens, assistant chief of the fire department, was buried under a pile of burning lumber and died shortly after being rescued. Two hundred thousand feet of lumber were burned, valued at $2000.

The Clockmakers' Strike.
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—No termination of the clockmakers' strike is yet probable. While some of the smaller manufacturers have surrendered to the strikers and signed bonds for the maintenance of price scale, the larger houses stand out unitedly and firmly.

A Centenarian Dead.
NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Margaret Murphy, aged 108 years, has died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Michael McGrath, in this city. Mrs. Murphy, who came from Ireland forty-eight years ago, retained her faculties until about two weeks ago.

Flopped to the Pops.
FORT COCKER, Col., Oct. 17.—Judge Jefferson McAnally, for many years one of the most influential Democrats in Northern Colorado, has resigned as a member of the House of Representatives and joined the Populists.

DEAD IN A WELL

The Body of Fred Molander Found at the Bottom of a Well at Pokegama.

One Hundred and Thirty Buildings Now in Process of Construction in Hinkley and Vicinity.

The Missabe Road to Build a Branch at Once From Iron Junction to Eveleth.

An Unknown Man Killed About Six Miles West of Rochester by an Express Train.

HINKLEY, Minn., Oct. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—At Pokegama everything is being pushed to its very utmost, so as to get all the houses ready for the winter. The school house is being built. J. Lippengard had a surprise yesterday. He went down into a well, which had been dug by Fred Molander before the fire. John was going to clean the well, which is 25 feet deep, so he could use the water. When he got to the water's edge he saw a hand and head. He made for dry land and reported the fact. It proved to be the body of Fred Molander, which had been there since the fire. The well was thought to be nearly empty and had been searched from the top, but it contained nearly 6 feet of water. Molander was taken up and buried. Reuelander was taken up and buried. Reuelander was taken up and buried. Reuelander was taken up and buried.

The new cemetery for the village of Pokegama has been located. The body of Jay W. Braham was removed from its temporary burial to its final resting place. Mr. Wilkinson read the Episcopal service and gave an address. Mr. Braham was 27 years old and an only son.

There are about 130 buildings in process of construction in Hinkley and vicinity and the work is in better shape in the five districts than it has ever been. Julia G. Howard, of Duluth, has charge of the building operations and his generous disposition, his hard headed common sense, his earnest fairness, his great practical knowledge, and his ever ready disposition to help every one he can, has made him hosts of friends, who will never forget him, or his help under very trying circumstances.

Unknown Man Killed.
ROCHESTER, Minn., Oct. 17.—The express due here from the west at 6:45 was thirty minutes late last evening. The train men report an unknown man killed about six miles west. Both legs and arms were cut off and the head was injured. The man was in the middle of the train, and there is no permanent advance. Business is remarkably dull.

Will Have to Lighter.
SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 17.—[Special to The Herald.]—The Escanaba which is aground at the red stake on the Canadian side, above Round island, will have to be lighter 150 tons of ore before she can be released. The heavy northwest gale which is blowing will not hurt her as she is headed into it. The gale prevents the lighter and tug going to her. A force of men from here will go up and throw the ore overboard.

AVAILABLE WHEAT STOCKS.

Increase of Nearly Four Million Bushels in the American Supply.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Special cable and telegraphic advices to Bradstreet's covering the principal points of accumulation in the United States; Canada and Europe indicate the following changes in stocks of grain last Saturday compared with the preceding Saturday:

Available supply: United States and Canada, east of the Rocky mountains, wheat, increase, 2,010,000 bushels; corn, decrease, 520,000 bushels; oats, increase, 131,000 bushels; United States west of the Rocky mountains, wheat, increase, 1,310,000 bushels; corn, increase, 1,310,000 bushels; oats, increase, 1,310,000 bushels; wheat, decrease, 1,520,000 bushels.

Larger increases of domestic wheat stocks east of the Rocky mountains now reported by the grain exchanges include 80,000 bushels of wheat at Northwestern elevators; 145,000 bushels at New Orleans; 14,000 bushels at points in Manitoba and at Fort William and Keewatin, Ont., and 70,000 bushels in Chicago private elevators.

Larger decreases include 205,000 bushels of wheat in Minneapolis private elevators. Larger increases on the Pacific coast are explained by increases of 80,000 bushels at San Francisco and other California points, 38,000 bushels at Oregon storing points and 97,000 bushels at Tacoma, Wash.

SEVERAL WORKMEN INJURED.
The Third Span of the Bridge at Louisville Falls Again.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 17.—This afternoon a portion of the third span of the ill-fated Louisville-Jeffersonville bridge toppled into the river, carrying with it five workmen.

Several lives may be lost. One man has been taken to the bridge, company's office badly injured. This is the same span which caused the fatality last December.

Later—Four men went down with the collapsed false work. One man, Harry Williams, was fatally hurt, three others slightly. The span had been completed and the false work was being taken down at the time of the accident. The falling section was about 50 feet in extent.

A Twenty Years' Sentence.
COLUMBIA, O., Oct. 17.—A special to the Dispatch from Washington court house Ohio, says: A special grand jury empaneled today indicted William Jasper, alias Doby, the negro assassin of yesterday, and he pleaded guilty to criminal assault upon Mrs. Mary C. Boyd. He was given a 20-years' sentence and will undergo the penitentiary this evening and the false work was being taken down at the time of the accident. The falling section was about 50 feet in extent.

Mrs. Springer Indicted.
CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Mrs. Warren Springer, the wife of the Chicago millionaire, was indicted this afternoon for attempted jury bribing during a suit for condemnation of some of her husband's property.

No Change in Marine Freight.
A charter of lumber to Tonawanda was reported at an advance of a shilling, but only one agent was fortunate enough to obtain that rate, and there is no permanent advance. Business is remarkably dull.

Redwood shingles in large quantities are being carried through Duluth from the state of Washington. The Vanderbilt loaded 1,045,000 yesterday.

The light-house supply ship Marigold came in yesterday morning and is at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., for the purpose of tending to the wants of the two light-houses.

Clearances: Vanderbilt, 10,500 barrels flour, 1,045,000 shingles, Buffalo; Transcon, 950,000 feet lumber, Chicago; H. W. Sibley, 1500 tons ore, Buffalo; Colorado, 200 tons ore, Port Huron; Twin Sisters, 1400 tons ore, Buffalo.

A FEUD IN KENTUCKY

The War Between the French and Eversole Factions in Perry County Has Been Renewed.

Murder of Judge Combs, Father-in-Law of the Dead Eversole Leader, Has Revived Trouble.

The Men on Both Sides Are Reported to Be Out Gunning for Their Enemies.

BIG STONE GAP, Va., Oct. 17.—The French-Eversole feud has started afresh in Perry county, Ky. Bob May, an ex-member of the Kentucky legislature and one of the principals on the Eversole side is here from Hazard, the seat of the county and of the war. Judge Josiah Combs, the father-in-law of the dead Eversole leader, is dead. The leader of the French faction, whose name was Frazier, Fulton French and two others of his faction have been arrested for his murder and more trouble will follow.

Judge Combs was 70 years old and lived in Hazard. Early on Sunday morning two weeks ago he stepped across the street where young Cash Eversole and two others were talking. A rifle cracked from the cornfield just over the fence and the bullet struck the old man in his breast and he fell. Cash Eversole wheeled and saw a man with a blackened face spring up and dash through the cornfield. He says the man was Joe Adkins.

At the same time other Frenchmen began firing and shouting from another direction to divert attention from Adkins. Young Cash with several others ran across a little spur and hid themselves in a ravine. The three men with blackened faces soon appeared, who the Eversoles said, were Adkins, Frazier and Jesse Field. As they climbed over a bank, Will Martin, a boy in the Eversole crowd fired and killed Frazier. The other two escaped, but were captured later with Fulton French in Breathitt county.

Adkins is said to have escaped, but French and Field are held. They are trying to get the county judge to come to the Breathitt line and try them, as they are afraid to go to Hazard. Only last night they received an anonymous letter saying that they would be shot the minute they put foot across the county line. Judge Combs died in a few hours. He had never taken part in the feud, though he was a man of wealth and in sympathy with the Eversoles and had always tried to get the French to trial. It was his influence that was feared.

Adkins is a noted desperado. More than thirty men have been killed in this feud in the last half dozen years. It began with the killing of the head of the Confederate Gambrills, a strong Breathitt county family, by the Union Eversoles during the war. Soon the Gambrills killed the Eversole leader, and desultory fighting went on after the war until 1884. Then Fulton French came from Virginia to Hazard and taught school and read law with Joe Eversole, the leader of the Eversole faction. The Eversoles were the richest and strongest family in the country and they always had a store in Hazard, which was the Republican headquarters.

French rented this store from Joe Eversole for a year and opened with his clerk, Bob May. French and May disagreed. Then Fulton French came to the street and made his store the Democratic headquarters of the town. When French's year was up Eversole sent him word that he must move. French, for some reason, refused, and on the day the lease expired Eversole drove into town with twenty wagons of goods, moved French into the street and opened the store the next morning himself.

That started the war. The Gambrills took sides with the French against the old foes and May and Eversole, though political enemies, joined their forces and in time there were two men on each side. Sheriffs, lawyers and judges have been with the Eversoles. French is said to have hired many of his fighters. May has left Hazard, he says, through fear of assassination. Trouble is feared in the immediate future, as the men on both sides are out gunning for their enemies.

COTTOLINE IS MADE TO EAT

It is a vegetable product, made from clarified cotton seed oil—as bright, pure and golden as the Southern sunshine in which it grew.

MANHATTAN ATHLETIC CLUB.

An Attempt to Revive the Great New York Athletic Organization.

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—For some months past there has been more or less talk about town of some social or athletic club being formed to take the Manhattan Athletic club's former magnificence home, but owing to business depression or some plan were slow in taking shape.

As long ago as last March a number of promoters and sporting men talking of organizing a proprietary sporting club on the lines of the National Sporting club or Pelican club of London, or the Olympic Athletic club of New Orleans. They intended to incorporate the club and lease the Manhattan club's former palace from the Iselins, the present owners of the building.

However, it was said, was to be the chief form of entertainment furnished to the members and from whence the club expected to derive the greatest amount of revenue. The idea apparently was that the club, being incorporated and a proprietary organization, the members could hold any sort of an exhibition they pleased within the walls of their club house, provided such exhibitions were open to members only.

After hard work a number of people were found willing to go into the scheme, but upon consulting authorities it was found that the plan would not work and that the police could stop the exhibitions whenever they saw fit.

In the meantime, however, a small but enthusiastic number of the older and more substantial members of the defunct Manhattan Athletic club, together with a sprinkling of fresh blood, have organized a new club called the Manhattan Athletic club. The idea of the club is to form a club of 1200 members and have them pay in $25 to $30 apiece to start the club with.

A SUBMARINE BOAT.

An Inventor Who Has Surpassed Jules Verne's Boat Nautilus.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17.—A Baltimore inventor hopes to make real the imaginary voyage of Jules Verne's boat Nautilus under the sea. After years of experiment Simon Luke, of East Baltimore, has invented a submarine boat which he claims is capable of accomplishing what Jules Verne suggested might be possible in the imaginary voyage of the Nautilus. Indeed, if Luke's invention is a success, the French romancer will only have anticipated what the coming submarine boat will be capable of.

William T. Malster, president of the Columbian Iron works, has become financially interested in the Luke submarine Navigation company, which owns the invention. The inventor expects to start building his first boat in a few weeks.

WANT LANDS IN SEVERALTY.

Arizona Indians Who Desire to Live as White Men.

TUCSON, Ariz., Oct. 17.—A special from Sacaton Indian agency says: Governor Hughes, by request, met the Pima and Maricopa Indians in their council. There were twelve chiefs and a large number of Indians present, representing over 4000. All the chiefs spoke. They told the governor they wanted the farming lands of their reservation allotted to themselves in severalty, in small tracts, furnished with water to cultivate the same, and wanted to live like whites, own their own homes and support themselves.

The governor told them that he would assist them as they desired in their request. The policy of the government was encouraging, as it wanted to help Indians to help themselves. This pleased the chiefs. These Indians have been friends of the whites from time immemorial and many have reached a high degree of civilization. They will make a formal application to the interior department through their agent, J. R. Young, for allotment of lands.

No Discrimination.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—The big dry goods house of J. J. O'Brien & Co., one of the largest retail establishments in the city, has issued a card to the public in which they deny that Protestant clerks in their employ have been discharged to make room for Catholics. It was charged by adherents of the A. P. A. that this firm, in connection with others, was discriminating against the Protestants.

HIPPOLYTE READY FOR THEM.

He is Preparing Himself to Meet Another Rebellion.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—From an official newspaper just received from Hayti it would appear that the president of that disturbed country, Gen. Hippolyte, is preparing himself to meet another rebellion and is ready to deal in the most summary manner with the prime movers. Here is what the paper, the Moniteur, of Aug. 8 last has to say:

"Last Sunday his excellency, the president of the republic, in the presence of some government officials and other citizens expressed himself as follows: 'Here follows the full text of the speech of which the following extracts afford an illustration: 'Before I was elected chief of this state I had taken part in the administration of the affairs of my country. Everybody had recognized in me an honest man. Today some of these parties who aided my promotion appear to tax me with being a thief. It is assuredly a glaring inconsequence on their part, because they knew me to be a thief and having selected me as chief of the nation they are thieves themselves. The public tranquility must be maintained at any cost and to effect this there is no sacrifice I would not make. I have by my side at this present time young devoted men who, should the opportunity present itself, only need to hear from me to exterminate all those who would have the folly to attack my government.'

"I know all that is said, all that is done, hence they fix Oct. 17 as the date to attack by arms. I shall, for my part, be likewise ready as well as at all other dates. And so much the worse for them should the attempt fail. The example to which I shall treat them will be terrific, because I will not remain that at the palace—it would be impossible, for it would be contrary to my temperament. They may perhaps attempt my life. I shall not allow them to do so as they did President Carnot, because the aides-de-camp that are near me know what will be the penalty should they through neglect allow individuals to approach me without my giving them orders to that effect. They may even, if they prefer, shoot at me with a gun. I announce it now, they have only to try."

SULLIVAN TALKS FIGHT.

Says Al Johnson Will Back Him to Meet Corbett or Fitz.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—John L. Sullivan last night told a party of newspaper men that Al Johnson has offered a back him for $50,000 a side to fight the winner of the coming Corbett-Fitzsimmons battle, and he thinks he will go in for it. Sullivan said: "I am quickening last Sunday for good and I'm going to be a different man. Then I'll fight anybody who comes along." He does not think Corbett will want to take a chance.

Enthusiasm for Hill.

UTICA, N. Y., Oct. 17.—Senator Hill spoke to a crowded opera house last night and was enthusiastically received. A Democratic, a prominent Cleveland Democrat, president Mr. Hill spoke for a little over an hour and dwelt at length upon the issues of the campaign, principally the tariff.

Two Men Drowned. CRISFIELD, Md., Oct. 17.—A drowning accident occurred yesterday. A small skiff containing four men was coming to the wharf from "The Only Son" when a heavy sea caused it to capsize. The captain and one of the men swam ashore, but the other two were unable to swim and were drowned. Capt. Fletcher was near being drowned as one of the men grasped him.

Accused of Embezzlement. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 17.—The jury in the case of Charles Harwin, Charlton Ellis, Charles Taylor and James Morris, charged with embezzlement of $35,000 from the Adams Express company, today returned a verdict of not guilty. The case has been on trial two weeks.

Silver for China. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—When the steamer Gaelic sailed for the Orient she carried about $750,000 in silver, consigned to China, where it will be used in paying off the army. Most of the cargo was for Japan. The hold was filled with canned meats and the supposition is that it is meant for supplies for the Japanese army in Corea.

Fight in a Palace. KINGSTON, Jamaica, Oct. 17.—Advices received here from Port au Prince, Hayti, say that President Hippolyte and fight Fitzsimmons and Corbett will fight in the palace a few days ago.

The minister of war was badly whipped in the encounter with his dusky chief and is still confined to his bed by his injuries.

Southern Pacific Changes. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17.—It is reported that G. W. Luce, local general freight agent of the Union Pacific, will, on Nov. 1, succeed A. D. Shepard, an assistant general freight agent of the Southern Pacific. Rumors of other changes in the Southern Pacific offices are current. It is stated that since the policy of retrenchment began 400 clerks have been dismissed.

THE CROPS OF EUROPE

Their Condition This Year Is Given in a Report by the Agricultural Department's Statistician.

One Hundred and Sixteen Million Bushels Likely to Be Required by Europe From Abroad.

Russia's Railroad Through Siberia Will Open Up a New Competitor to the Wheat Raisers.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—The condition of the crops of Europe for 1894, are given in the forthcoming report of the statistician of the agricultural department for October. The estimated wheat harvests amount to 1,435,410,000 Winchester bushels, against a regular consumption of 1,553,500,000 bushels. The harvest by countries is as follows:

Country.	Production.	Consumption.
United Kingdom.	61,291,000	238,000,000
France.	113,200,000	122,000,000
Spain and Portugal.	10,200,000	11,500,000
Italy.	12,200,000	14,000,000
Austria-Hungary.	27,000,000	19,000,000
Romania.	44,000,000	19,000,000
Bulgaria.	31,000,000	20,000,000
Russia.	18,500,000	25,000,000
Belgium.	18,500,000	25,000,000
Denmark.	5,100,000	25,000,000
Other countries.	14,500,000	40,000,000

This gives 116,000,000 bushels as the approximate requirement from abroad. Owing to the unfavorable harvest weather only a small part of the wheat in Great Britain is fit for milling purposes. The oat crop is considered excellent. There are about 2,475,638 bushels of last year's wheat crop in first hand. The amount necessary to be imported to meet all demands will be about 187,709,680 bushels at about 36,646,000 bushels a week. Commercial Agents Reid, of Dunfermline, Scotland, announces that the year 1894, according to authentic reports will be one of disappointed hopes for the wheat crop in first hand. The harvest has already been the effect of storms have injured the hay, damaged the grain and produced a widespread attack of disease among potatoes.

Official estimates of the crop just gathered in France show the quantity of wheat in excess of the average. The harvest makes France practically independent of outside supplies, but some wheat will probably be imported. The drawback on flour, upon exportation, made from the duty paid on foreign wheat has already had the effect of stimulating the sale of French flour in Roumania. The wheat crop in Roumania is the smallest for five years, for it would be contrary to my temperament. They may perhaps attempt my life. I shall not allow them to do so as they did President Carnot, because the aides-de-camp that are near me know what will be the penalty should they through neglect allow individuals to approach me without my giving them orders to that effect. They may even, if they prefer, shoot at me with a gun. I announce it now, they have only to try."

WILL WITHDRAW IT.

Duluth Athletic Association Will Not Have the Bospital This Year.

The Duluth Athletic association at the annual meeting last evening rose up in indignation against the Northwestern Curling association. An invitation was sent to the association to hold the bospital this year at the Glen Avon rink in Duluth. There is a strong sentiment among the members, especially the Winnipeg people, in favor of Duluth, but the association has not seen fit to take any action. The Duluth men have learned that Minneapolis and Milwaukee are the choice of the association, and that the Duluth invitation is being held in reserve to be used if the others decline. The Duluth people consider this decidedly discourteous and the secretary of the association was instructed to withdraw the invitation.

A bospital will undoubtedly be held here during the winter, the sentiment for it being all favorable. No plan was decided upon but something will be done soon.

President E. P. Towne gave a report of the condition of the association which was pleasing to the members. Over $100 in debts have been cleared up and everything except rent is paid. According to the treasurer's report $1700 was collected and $5150 remains in the treasury. George F. Mackenzie, A. R. MacFarlane and Donald MacLeod were appointed to audit the books.

Officers were elected for the coming year and are as follows: E. P. Towne, president; W. P. Lardner, vice president; W. B. Dunlop, secretary, and Donald MacLeod, treasurer. The board of managers consists of the officers and A. R. MacFarlane, James C. Hunter, George F. Mackenzie, E. S. Palmer, and J. W. Ball.

It is Free, But Worth a Fortune.

And it is worth a fortune because it is the means of giving health and strength to the weak and complaining—to you, reader. The following splendid proposition is made by Dr. Greene, of 35 West Fourteenth street, New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. Write him a letter, tell him just how you feel, and he will answer it, free of charge, explaining your case so thoroughly that you will at once understand exactly what your complaint is. Every letter receives his most careful attention, he explains every symptom, telling just what to do to be cured, and for all this he charges nothing.

He is the discoverer of that wonderful medicine, Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, which is doing such enormous good among the suffering. This is the opportunity of a lifetime for everyone, especially those living at a distance from large cities, to consult, entirely free, the most eminent and successful of specialists. No fee to pay and no journey to make. The doctor makes a specialty of treating patients through letter correspondence, and you can do better than to write at once. You will without doubt be made strong and well by doing so. Thousands of others have.

HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL.

Duluth and St. Paul Teams to Play on Saturday Afternoon.

The leading topic in sporting circles is the Duluth-St. Paul high school game which occurs on Saturday at Woodland. The Zenith City boys have shown what they can do in the way of football and the St. Paul kickers will do battle with men in every way worthy of their steel.

The Saintly City team is by all odds the strongest in the interscholastic league, but local admirers are going to pin their faith to the home team.

Capt. Draper has made several minor changes in the personnel of the team. Hammons will replace Meining at full-back and may be expected to fill the position satisfactorily. Drayley will be tried at center and with McCormick and Peyton for guards should make a hard point to back. Gilkey and Applehagen will play tackles, while Maloney and Olson will hold down the ends.

Behind the line Draper will play Edson and Murphy and will fill the position of quarterback. The team as made up is a strong one and if the St. Paul boys win they will have to put up a stiff game.

AN ADVANCED AGE.

Mrs. L. H. Merritt's Relatives Celebrated Her Eighty-Second Birthday Sunday.

Sunday was the eighty-second birthday of Mrs. L. H. Merritt of Onondaga, who was born in a quiet New England town in 1812 while the nation was in the throes of war. N. B. Merritt, the eldest son, and his family entertained Mrs. Merritt at dinner at the Onondaga hotel.

A. R. Merritt, gave a reception for her at which sixty of her old friends gathered. Twelve of her twenty-three grand children were present. There was music and refreshments and the occasion was in every way a happy one but to no one more than to Mrs. Merritt. That she might enjoy many more years of life was the wish of everyone. Her mother lived to be almost 87 years of age before being called from earth.

Attended His Brother's Wedding.

Frank George Hubbard company, is back from Minneapolis where he went to attend the wedding of his brother, George Bert Gare, a prominent druggist of the Four City to Miss Lulu Moore, a young lady well known in social circles in the Twin Cities. The wedding ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Tuttle. The bride was for a time the organist of Dr. Tuttle's church and is a musician more than any other woman in the city. The Minneapolis papers speak of the wedding as one of the leading social events of the season.

Did Not Remain Long.

Lord and Lady Ramsey arrived in Duluth in the special car yesterday and left over the South Shore road yesterday evening. They spent a short time in Duluth and then went to Superior, where they inspected the very large hotel. They were joined there by W. F. Fitch, of the South Shore road, and by Mr. and Mrs. H. Seymour, of Marquette.

Opened the Bazar.

The bazar for the benefit of St. John's French Catholic church opened in Central hall last evening. There were a number of pretty booths and a fine display of fancy and other articles. An informal musical program was given. Musical numbers will be given on Thursday and Friday evenings.

AMUSEMENTS.

"Forget Me Not."

Those who regretted that Miss Rose Coglian did not monopolize more of the stage on Monday last evening when for such complaint last evening when "Forget Me Not" was presented. She was on nearly all the time and in all the strong scenes played the leading part. The role of Stephanie, while possessing some characteristics similar to those of Zicka is quite different. Both were adventuresses but Zicka was not entirely fearless and was capable of affection; mad, passionate and dangerous as it was. Stephanie had neither love nor mercy. Nothing could move her but physical fear and before it she cowered abjectly. Every appeal to humor, science, affection and womanly qualities was sneered at, but once confronted with the man who would kill her if he knew she lived her terror took that of a frightened animal.

It is not a role that can obtain any sympathy and Miss Coglian did her best to make it so. Her conception of the part is correct and is presented in a clear and perfect manner. In the final scene of the play she recited a tremendous dramatic height but never for an instant faltered or weakened. The change from fierce rage and defiance to the most groveling fear was sudden and startling but was given with admirable faithfulness. It requires great physical and vocal strength and in neither was Miss Coglian lacking in the slightest degree.

John T. Sullivan played the part of Sir Horace Weldon in a delightful manner. He was cool and reserved at all times and his admirable impersonation added to the effect of Miss Coglian's work. Miss Maxine Elliot indeed very beautiful in the part of Alice Verney and acted excellently. In love passages she is particularly pleasing, giving them delicately and gracefully. Her work was good as the Coriscan, as was also Miss Marion Erie as Mrs. Foley.

"Shaft No. 2" closed at the Lyceum last evening to a good sized audience. The electric light scene effects again caught the people and were applauded enthusiastically, particularly the third act storm scene.

Willie Collier.

At the Lyceum Tuesday and Wednesday evening, Oct. 23 and 24, Willie Collier, the quaint comedian, will be seen in Edward F. Kilder's new comedy drama, "A Back Number." Much interest is felt in this city to see Mr. Collier in a legitimate comedy role, which he assumes in the play written for him by the author of "Peacocks Valley" and "A Poor Relation."

Farce comedy is not with Mr. Collier a thing of the past. His success in "Hoss and Hoss" was so great that his friends and admirers felt convinced that he was humorous enough not to require the surroundings of farce comedy. In fact, it is believed that his quaint humor would be seen to greater advantage if he pitched his efforts in a higher plane. To test this "A Back Number" was tried, and wherever Mr. Collier has appeared in the new field he has received the highest praises from press and public. Mr. Collier assumes a dual role and is given ample opportunity to show his versatility.

THAT FLAG EPISODE.

Mayor Lewis Investigated the Conduct of the Officers Yesterday.

Police Sergeant Ratty and Patrolman Leland were before Mayor Lewis yesterday at the investigation into their conduct on Sunday, Oct. 7, when it was alleged by Editor Lange that they caused the Norwegian flag to be pulled down, accompanying their demand with a number of oaths, and while they were in a drunken condition.

Mayor Lewis presided and City Attorney Morris conducted the examination. There were present Mayor Lange and four witnesses, Chief Armstrong and Capt. Thompson. Editor Lange knew nothing about the affair, only from hearsay, and his testimony was cut short at that account. The investigation lasted over an hour and was thorough in every particular. The allegations of drunkenness were not proven by what was deemed reliable testimony and will not be considered. The ordering down of the flag was clearly proven, but Mr. Leland, who was the most reliable witness for the prosecution, testified that he did not hear Officer Leland use any oaths at all and that Sergeant Ratty, as far as he could remember, only swore once, and that when he said "d—d rag can't go up again unless there is an American flag on it."

The mayor took the case under advisement.

When Ratty was sick, we gave her Castoria.

When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.

When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

DISMISSED BY SCOTT

The Libel Case Against Editor Rosewater, of the Omaha Bee, Dismissed By Judge Scott.

Other Judges Will Ask the Supreme Court to Compel Scott to Transfer the Case.

Little Girl Fatally Bitten by a Mad Dog and a Woman Shot in the Confusion.

OMAHA, Oct. 17.—A thousand people crowded the criminal branch of the district court this morning to witness the second chapter in the conflict of authority between Judge Scott, of that department, and the other five judges of the district respective to transferring the libel case against Editor Rosewater, of the Bee, to some other judge, owing to the allegation of prejudice made against Scott.

After critiquing the other judges for interfering in the affair, Judge Scott, on motion of the county attorney, dismissed the case, declaring that if he could not try the case it should not be tried. Preparations have been made by the other judges to secure a supreme court mandamus to compel Scott to transfer the case.

BITTEN BY A MAD DOG.

A Little Girl Fatally Lacerated and a Woman Shot by Mistake.

CUMMINGS, Okla., Oct. 17.—A large mad dog rushed among the school children in West Cummins today and bit and lacerated Leslie Gates, aged 13, in such a horrible manner that it is feared she will die. The dog also attacked a number of others. Two men attempted to shoot the dog, but the bullet struck Mrs. Littlejohn and inflicted a fatal wound.

PAT ON DECK AGAIN.

Dougherty, Who Claims to Have Discovered the Mesaba, Was Drunk Again.

Judge Powell smiled familiarly this morning when Pat Dougherty was escorted into the prisoner's pen in the municipal court. Pat is an old offender whose career commences on the Mesaba range, which he claims to have discovered, and terminate in a prison cell in Duluth. Pat is an Englishman and his tongue is as voluble as a si eve is porous, and he was charged with being drunk. "Guilty, yer honour," he shouted before the judge announced the charge. Pat appears to be reforming and it is about six months since he was run in, when previously he used to be a weekly visitor and has a record of being arrested twice in the week. In view of the change for the better and his promise to leave town today or tomorrow the judge let him go with a suspended sentence hanging over him. George Pickler, another Englishman, made his first police court appearance today and he was a dandy, with both eyes blackened beyond recognition. He had had a "dispute" with a friend and went out on Park Point to settle it, and he was knocked out with a total of a mashed nose and two sabled eyes. Pickler was sorry and on account of his general good record he was given a suspended sentence with the added injunction to "sin no more."

Fred Kersy, formerly a waiter at the Spaulding, but now a wine and beer slinger in Little Wolf's emporium of dissipation, was up for disorderly conduct. He pleaded guilty, but there were extenuating circumstances and he was let off with $1 and costs. Maud Moore, a colored dandy who lives somewhere else in the living pictures districts of St. Croix avenue was mixed up in the same row, but she will be heard Thursday at 3 o'clock, and is out on $10 bail. Charles McEnchon was charged with pounding the face of H. A. Fritz; he pleaded not guilty and the case will come up Friday.

The Woman on a Wheel.

A jury of representative women have consented to sit upon the question of bicycling for women and have of course decided that it is when properly used as an exercise for health and pleasure, a good and modest thing, says Sporting Life. Certainly women are seldom seen on a bicycle who deserve the cruel caricaturing to which feminine bicyclists have been exposed. Many riders are ungraceful, it is true, but there are plenty of ungraceful and ridiculous people on foot men and women, too, as well as on wheels.

A Real Advanced Woman.

A lady from Boston tells a good story of her new look. "I took it for granted that she was a Catholic," she says, "and on the first Sunday after her arrival I said, 'Bridget, at what time do you wish to go to church this morning?' The answer came with a lofty superiority that would have done credit to the disciples of any new dispensation. 'Oh! no' he go to church at all, ma'am. Pish, it's me-self that's what they call an egawstic.'"

PIERCE CURE OR MONEY RETURNED.

For all chronic, or lingering, Pulmonary or Chest Diseases, as Bronchitis, Leucitis, Sore Throat, Spitting of Blood, Pains in Chest and Sides, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a sovereign remedy.

In Asthma it is specific. To build up both flesh and strength, when reduced below the standard of health by pneumonia, or "lung fever," grip, or exhausting fevers, it is the best restorative tonic known.

Dr. B. B. NORMAN, Esq., of Anson, Okla., says: "I think the 'Golden Medical Discovery' is the best medicine for pain I have ever known. I am ever known. I owe it all to the Discovery."

RIGHT GLAD HE OBLIGED.

The Truth About an Unusual Scene in a

"Will you kindly keep your eye on my luggage for a moment?" asked one occupant of the benches in a railroad station of a gentleman who sat beside him.

"Certainly, sir," was the reply. So the first speaker strolled out on the platform and lighted a cigar. He seemed somewhat preoccupied, and the minutes lengthened into 15, the train he was waiting for came, the cigar was tossed away, and the traveler took a seat in the day coach beside the prettiest girl on the train, who, by the way, greeted him most civilly.

Just as the train started the gentleman who had been asked to keep his eye on that particular luggage pushed his way up the steps and into the door of the coach, with his own satchel and a bundle in one hand and the stranger's satchel, hatbox, umbrella and overcoat in the other. He pushed his way down the aisle in the coach till he reached the seat occupied by the unknown and the pretty girl. They were engaged in an earnest conversation that was only interrupted when the good natured water and protector of the luggage deposited the satchel, hatbox, umbrella and overcoat with a bang.

"Did you expect me to act as your porter, mister?" he inquired rather testily. "I beg your pardon, sir," said the gentleman beside the lady, and at the same time he blushed deeply and rose so he could speak to the one who had done him a kindness without using a tone of voice loud enough for other passengers to hear. There were a few moments of explanation, several noddings of the heads and snailings by the trio for the pretty girl also joined in the consultation—considerable blushing and an exchange of glances. That was all the passengers noticed, and the gentleman who had watched the luggage being deposited and an exchange of glances, slapped his unknown friend on the back and went into the smoker.

"They're going to Albany to be married," he explained to the acquaintance. "She lives west of here a way, and he's in business in Brooklyn. Her parents are dead, and her brother and an old maid sister objected to her marrying on account of some property complications. He went up the road to meet her and stopped off at Utica till her train should arrive. Of course he couldn't think of his luggage. I don't blame him a mite. I'm glad he accommodated him, by ginge! I'm going to stop over in Albany and see them married."

And he did.—Utica Observer.

A Go-as-you-please Railroad.

There is a branch line in the west of Ireland where, if anything was forgotten at station, the train went back from the next to recover it. On this line a traveler, getting out to stretch his legs, asked of the guard, "How long do you wait at this station?" "We'll go on just whenever it suits you, sir," was the obliging reply. He was the only passenger by the train.

Frankfort Moore tells in a recent book of a delightful station master who used to stroll round the carriages when the trains stopped, with special inquiries after the health and comfort of each passenger. The regulars he knew intimately, and all their concerns, their ailments, etc., and everything was inquired after in detail. One day a hasty commercial gentleman, whose patience had given out, attempted a sarcastic rebuke. "Look here, station master," he cried, "is there a breakdown in the line?" "I don't know, indeed, sir," was the bland reply, "but I'll try to find out for you." The station master went off and did not return for five minutes. "I've telegraphed up the line, sir," he said, "and I am happy to assure you that no information regarding a breakdown has reached any of the principal stations. It has been raining at Ballynamuck, but I don't think it will continue long. Can I do anything more for you, sir?" "No, thank you," said the commercial gentleman meekly. "I can find out for you if the Holyhead steamer has had a good passage if you don't mind waiting for a few minutes," suggested the official. "What, you are anxious to get on? Certainly, sir," he told the guard. Good morning, sir. When the train was at last in motion, a very old man in a corner pulled out his watch and then turned to the commercial traveler. "Are you aware, sir," he said, "that you have just seven minutes? You kept us back just seven minutes? You should have some consideration for your fellow passengers, let me tell you, sir." A murmur of assent went round the compartment.—San Francisco Argonaut.

Albert's First Letter to Victoria.

The following is a copy of the first letter ever received by the queen from her ever lamented husband:

My DEAREST COUSIN—I must write you a few lines to present you my sincerest felicitations on the great change which has taken place in your life. Now you are queen of the happiest land in Europe. May heaven assist you and strengthen you with its strength in that high and difficult task. I hope that your reign will be long, happy and glorious, and that your efforts may be rewarded by the thankfulness and love of your subjects. May I console in Bonn, and to continue to them that kindness you favored them with till now? Be assured that our minds are always with you. I will not be indelicate and abuse your time. Believe me always your majesty's most obedient and faithful servant. Albert.

SKATES WITH BICYCLE TIRES.

Speed of Twelve Miles an Hour Attainable With the Pneumatic Skate.

The pneumatic tired bicycle and the pneumatic tired skates are already universally popular, and the latest thing of the kind is the pneumatic skate, which, briefly described, is a roller skate equipped with a pneumatic tire resembling the tire of a bicycle except that it is much smaller. The craze is very popular in Scotland, and it is said that every man who has the price is now industriously engaged in getting a pair.

THE PNEUMATIC SKATE.

ding a pneumatic skate on. Women have also yielded to the fascination of the sport, and ladies in Glasgow get their skates on and go out shopping. It is said that expert skaters travel along ordinary roads at the rate of 12 or 15 miles an hour and that the new skate is well adapted to the use of physicians, letter carriers, commercial travelers and highwaymen.

The skates first made their appearance in this country about three months ago, when J. H. Wilson, the inventor, used them upon the asphalt pavements of Washington. It seems fitting that the inventor of such an excellent pneumatic contrivance should try them first in Washington. He doubtless did so with the hope that when the wind got out of his tires he could connect with congress and get a fresh supply.

Unlike the erstwhile popular roller skate, the pneumatic skate does not need a smooth surface, but runs better, it is alleged, over a somewhat rough road. In England the skates cost from $17 to $25 a pair, but they will doubtless become cheaper if the public takes to them with enthusiasm.

Labor Makes Millions.

Mr. F. B. Sanborn discussed the relation of American millionaires to our social system in the social science gathering at Saratoga. He gave special attention to the millionaire situation in the city of Pullman. Mr. Sanborn does not admire Pullman. In his peculiarly pungent style of writing he remarks:

"I had not been an hour there before I was convinced it was nothing but a gilded cage, a brick allegory of the most intense egotism. Everything there is 'facts,' as in Dickens' 'Hard Times,' everything is told; everything is gain. There is nothing for amusement nor for gaiety. Everybody labors for Pullman & Co. They drink, eat and sleep only for them. Pullman left on the final impression of a huge man, solemn, silent, as of death, reigning there. Nowhere is there a smiling or a joyous visage. Even the flower beds have the air of funeral decorations. In reality this town is nothing but a shop where they make millions (and fabricate de millions)."

The burden of Mr. Sanborn's paper, which is very interestingly written, is that the millionaires of America are not alive to the responsibilities to the public that their wealth implies. He states the estimates of millionaires in Chicago to be between 200 and 300, in New York nearly 1,000, and in the whole country about 4,000.

GROSS OUTRAGE

A Military Company in Ohio Fired Without Warning Upon a Crowd of Would-Be Lynchers.

Two People Were Instantly Killed and Eleven Others Wounded, Some Fatally, by the Troops.

The Thoroughly Incensed Mob Then Threatened to Blow Up a Court House With Dynamite.

Wiser Councils Prevailed, and the Prisoner Was Removed to Columbus Under Guard of Troops.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18.—Jasper Dolby, the negro sentenced at Washington Court House to twenty years imprisonment for a criminal assault on a most estimable white lady, an old woman, was landed in the penitentiary at 7 o'clock this morning. He was escorted here by Sheriff Cook and Deputy Busick, accompanied on the train by the Columbus companies of the Ohio National Guard. The prisoner was taken from the train at Denison avenue, not coming into the Union station, and walked to the prison, one wall of which is on the avenue. The military remained in the cars and were carried to the Union station. All troops have left Washington Court House. A Columbus Dispatch reporter who came up with the train states that after midnight the thousands at the court house quieted down very much. The citizens had nearly all gone home. Yet many persons stood on the neighboring corners until a much later hour discussing the affair, as may be readily imagined in connection with such a terrible sensation as the killing of two men and the wounding of eleven others by the militia.

Some of these people who remained about the courthouse were supposed to be in a plot to blow up the building with dynamite. There had been so much talk about a possible occurrence of that kind, based upon what seemed to be reliable evidence, that the vigilance of the military was not relaxed in the least. The military, all told, until 3:30 a. m., numbered less than 100 men. Against the surging hundreds of men who crowded in to grab the court house this small band had kept up a determined fight for twelve or fifteen hours. Finally, when the first regiment from Cincinnati and two companies from the south at Columbus arrived at about 3:30 a. m., a square was formed by the men of the Fourteenth, and escorted by the First, the line of march for the court house, the negro being in the square. He had been in the court house about twelve hours, the officers not daring to attempt to return him to the jail after the sentence had been passed.

En route to the cells in the early morning nothing of interest occurred except that a good many people were still on the streets. Beyond an occasional voice in the stillness of the hour uttering threats of disapproval, the affair closed in a rather quiet way. Just before the troops left the death of G. W. Johnson, or "Mac" Johnson, as the reporter called him, was announced, making three dead. He was shot in the stomach and lived at Kyles, Butler county, Ohio. The old man, Frank Niederhaus, aged 70, shot to the leg, suffering amputation, cannot survive. He was the only prominent citizen injured. The other injured men, it would seem, belonged to a class who were likely to get into a place of this kind. Theodore Ammerman, aged 22, at last accounts is still in a critical condition. The fact that the reinforcements called for by Sheriff Cook at 4 p. m., yesterday, did not arrive until 3:30 this morning and the shooting and the rioting occurred about 7 p. m. has set on foot an investigation to ascertain whether the cause of delay in arrival of the reinforcements was due to the railroad company or the military department. It is proper to state that the soldiers had to be gathered from their respective vocations or homes. The Columbus companies were held here to wait for a Marysville company and left at 11 p. m. It is 30 miles to Washington Court House. The train stopped at Mount Sterling, 23 miles from here, to pick up a company.

The Cincinnati troops, according to the statement of a railroad man, were to arrive at Washington Court House by the same line but from the opposite direction and were to be there also as they arrived simultaneously with the troops from Columbus. Inquiry alone can determine the cause of delay in arrival. The criticism is that a greater promptness for law and its enforcement might have saved the loss of life. Governor McKinley being asked as to what he desired to say about the affair said: "The fact speaks for itself. Troops were sent to act in aid of civil authorities who were powerless to quell a mob that was seeking to overthrow the law and its orderly administration." The governor was up all night in a sleeping car and in direct communication with his adjutant general and came through Washington Court House about 6 a. m., having left Cincinnati at 3:30 a. m. The car having stood in the Cincinnati station until time for the departure of the train. The governor says he will not leave Ohio so long as there is a possibility of trouble. He has formally withdrawn the telegrams to the effect that his "stand for law and its prompt enforcement" will be heartily approved by all wise lovers of state and country.

He has cancelled speaking engagements at Louisville, La., and the meeting at New Orleans will depend upon the developments today. The feeling here is that the governor would be justified in going to New Orleans, but he says: "It is better to stay here a little too long than to go a little too soon." The prisoner stated to the penitentiary officials that he was not guilty, but had entered a plea of guilty, because he had been informed that he was to be mobbed and that this was the only way to escape with his life. He claimed never to have been arrested or charged with the slightest infraction of law. Dr. Iretson, in making the physical examination, said Dolby's legs trembled and his heart fluttered as a result of his scare. The fact in this case is that he was clearly identified by his victim.

THE ATTACK OF THE MOB.

Story of the Mob's Assault and the Shooting by the Troops.

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Although Jasper Dolby, colored, pleaded guilty yesterday to outraging Mrs. Boyd in order to be rushed off to the penitentiary for protection, he did not get started in advance of the indignant mob. People were swarming into town all day. The sheriff could not get from the jail to the depot after the prisoner had been sentenced. A crowd of determined men attempted to break through the militia at the north door, charged on the militia at the north door, and one threw a stone at Col. Coit, and he cried out that at the next stone throw he would order the men to fire. The crowd at the other door was unable to effect an entrance. The court yard by this time was filled with people and cries of "Give us the nigger" and "Shoot him" were heard. A crowd of men and women gathered on the militia filled the air. The crowd grew in size every minute. The crowd fired at the militia on guard inside the jail fired on the mob. Two men were killed. Both men were reported instantly killed. Jess Judy and Theodore Hammerman were killed. Biedel's clothing store shot through the thigh. Frank Niederhaus was carried home badly wounded, shot in the groin. A man named Kaufman was shot through the wrist. Dale Dewitt, who was walking across the street, was struck on the head by a stone and killed. At the time the militia fired a part of the mob was at the south doors trying to effect an entrance. An angry crowd gathered and it was whispered about that dynamite had been sent for.

Niederhaus is an old man who went to the court house to bring his boy home. The bones in his leg are all shot to pieces and it is believed he will die. The son of Ellis Webster had his thumb shot off. The crowd in the jail yard was badly shot in the foot. John McHugh, a little fellow standing on the outskirts, was shot in the leg and in such a way that he will likely die. Mack Johnson, of Williamsburg, died in an hour. George Keating, aged 14, was fatally shot and William Samons also received fatal injuries. Upon the firing the mob dispersed in all directions. Immediately all places of business closed and the streets were deserted. Mayor Creamer promptly closed all of the stores. No time was lost in carrying away the dead and wounded. Business houses were closed at about 3:30 a. m. Mothers, sisters, wives, sweethearts crowded around the dead and wounded and added pathos to the scene and to the rage of the mob by their lamentations. Against the militia the indignation was more vehement. It pervades all classes. As the time passes the mob increased in size and fury. All over the country the news had spread. The rioting and the mob were filled with men on horseback, in wagons and foot hurrying with all possible speed to the scene of the bloodshed. A search was made for arms, ammunition and dynamite.

Slouts were heard of "Down with the militia," "Blow up the dogs along with the black men," and "Shoot the niggers." The mob expressed the pent-up passion of the mob. Men moved about as if bent on business, but they were not. There was no doubt of a purpose to blow up the court house. Of this the militia were aware. A full moon lighted up every street and the militia were ready to fight. They thought if military reinforcements did not reach here before the moon went down there would be danger of further rioting. The militia were ordered to fire and the mob was scattered. The militia were ordered to fire and the mob was scattered. The militia were ordered to fire and the mob was scattered.

Indignation against Sheriff Cook is as fierce as against the mob. Leading Republicans are circulating petitions this morning asking Cook's removal from the office. The reason given is that he is a candidate for re-election. It is believed that there would have been no trouble whatever had the militia not been called out. The militia were ordered to fire and the mob was scattered. The militia were ordered to fire and the mob was scattered. The militia were ordered to fire and the mob was scattered.

Fire in a Hospital. DENVER, Oct. 18.—Fire at the county hospital this forenoon caused great excitement among the patients, but all were removed without injury. The fire started from an electric wire in the building occupied by consumptives and in the early morning the fire department was called. The damage is small.

Tredgar Iron Works Burned. RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 18.—A large part of the extensive plant of the well known Tredgar iron works was destroyed by fire at 3 o'clock this morning, originating in the carpenter shop. The loss, including smith and cast shops and numerous sheds, was consumed. Loss about $150,000, covered by insurance.

HE RAN IN DEBT

A St. Paul Pastor, Who Was Unfortunate in Investments, is on Trial Before Bishop Bowman.

His Affairs in Poor Condition, But There is Nothing to Indicate Any "Crooked Work."

The State Bank Examiner's Report Makes an Excellent Showing for the Duluth State Banks.

Middle-of-the-Road Populists Want Fusion Candidates' Names Taken From the Ballot Papers.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 18.—Rev. Henry E. Linse, formerly pastor of the Emanuel church of the Evangelical association, is on trial before Bishop Bowman, of Chicago, on private financial transactions. The trial is being conducted privately, and Bishop Bowman and Rev. H. Plank, the present pastor of the church, refused to make any statement whatever regarding the affair. After adjournment last night, a reporter endeavored to find Mr. Linse, but failed, and all that could be learned with reference to the charges or the ground therefor was learned from R. L. Ware, to whom Mr. Linse made an assignment some three months ago. Mr. Ware said he did not know Mr. Linse personally, as he had never seen him, but he was told that Linse was a man of good character. He had found from Mr. Linse's affairs in very poor condition from a business point of view, though there was nothing to indicate any "crooked work." The aggregate liabilities were about $48,000. Of this amount about half was secured by mortgages on real estate and the balance was money borrowed from friends and members of the congregation from time to time during the past five or six years. The total number of claimants is fifty-two, the claims varying from $100 to $1,000. Mr. Linse, at the time of the assignment, estimated his assets at about $26,000, but Mr. Ware refused to give bonds on this basis, so Linse cut them down to about $15,000. All the assets are real estate and a brick building in West St. Paul, with the exception of three fourshares of stock in a Western bank. Mr. Ware says that, as all the property will be taken on foreclosures, the general creditors can only expect the rent from the buildings, which will hardly realize over 5 cents on $1.

As to the motive for borrowing so heavily, Mr. Ware says he thinks it was just a case of "drowning man catching at straws." It seems to be simply a case of unfortunate investments, with no intimation of dishonesty.

OPPOSED TO FUSION.

Legal Action Taken by Middle-of-the-Road Populists.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 18.—Judge Pond, of the district court, yesterday issued an order to four county auditors directing them to appear before him on Saturday afternoon to show cause why they should not strike from the county ballot the names of four Democratic nominees for district judges when they appear thereon as Democratic-Populist fusion candidates. The Populists of the middle-of-the-road variety who have brought the complaint are Thomas H. Lucas, William Willard and C. T. Grave, and they have secured Harrison & Noyes to fight their legal battle before the courts. The four auditors are: George M. Putnam, county auditor of Hennepin county; F. B. Lamson county auditor of Anoka county; and Dan Anson county auditor of Saint county, who are required to give reasons for not altering the tickets as prayed for by the plaintiffs.

THE STATE BANKS.

Splendid Showing Made by Duluth Banks as to Reserves.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 18.—Public Examiner Kenyon today completed his report on the condition of the state banks of St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth, at the close of business Oct. 2. The banks of the three cities make a splendid showing. The per cent of reserve in St. Paul is 29.79, in Minneapolis 30.10, and in Duluth 44.29, an excess over the required amount for St. Paul of 9.79; for Minneapolis 10.10, and Duluth 24.29. The principal items among the resources of the banks are as follows: Loans and discounts, St. Paul, $6,011,277.45; Minneapolis, $5,242,637.72; Duluth, $2,363,041.01. Stocks and bonds, St. Paul, $319,706.16; Minneapolis, $158,474.51; Duluth, $10,647.18. Due from other banks, St. Paul, $1,014,470.71; Minneapolis, $1,676,979.30; Duluth, $677,000.00. Cash on hand, St. Paul, $539,631.39; Minneapolis, $1,038,071.82; Duluth, $265,978.32. Among the liabilities are the following: Capital stock paid in, St. Paul, $2,050,000; Minneapolis, $2,420,000; Duluth, $875,000. Due to depositors, St. Paul, $5,555,318.10; Minneapolis, $7,306,025.52; Duluth, $2,000,094.95. Surplus fund, St. Paul, $100,000; Minneapolis, $355,110.05; Duluth, $158,000. Other undivided profits, St. Paul, $335,528.86; Minneapolis, $466,641.30; Duluth, $350,868.95.

A Corpse Identified.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Oct. 18.—The man who was killed 6 miles west of here Tuesday night, has been identified as a German named Fred Wytenbach. He was a journeyman tailor who had been for six months in the employ of the Model Clothing house, of this city. He was a single man 45 years old. No one knows where he is from or where his friends live.

Cruelty to Bird Dogs.

JAMESTOWN, N. D., Oct. 18.—John Trail was arrested seven miles west of this city on complaint of Mrs. Judge Bartholomew, of Bismarck. Mrs. Bartholomew is the state agent for the investigation of cases of cruelty to animals. Trail is charged with cruelty to bird dogs. He was let off on his own recognizance to appear at the district court in January.

Found Dead in Bed.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 18.—W. M. Brown, of St. Cloud, formerly employed in this city, was found dead in bed at the St. Paul house this morning. He complained of not feeling well yesterday. Death is supposed to be from natural causes, but an autopsy will be held tonight.

Three Men Indicted.

MORRIS, Minn., Oct. 18.—District court opened with sixty-eight cases on the calendar. The grand jury indicted George Smith for burglary and Martin Thompson and Aaron Erickson for grand larceny.

Died from Injuries.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 18.—W. H. Best, who was hurt getting off a moving freight train at St. Paul Sunday, died at 10 o'clock yesterday at St. Joseph's hospital, where he has since been confined.

Little American Mine.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 18.—The Little American Mining company, of Duluth, filed a copy of its by-laws with the secretary of state today.

Convicted of Grand Larceny.

ANOKA, Minn., Oct. 18.—The jury last evening brought in a verdict of grand larceny in the first degree in the case of Ephraim Cutter for breaking into Moberg's tailor shop and stealing clothes.

CONSECRATION OF A BISHOP.

The New Catholic Bishop of Trenton, N. J., Consecrated Today.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 18.—The consecration of Rt. Rev. James McFaul, bishop of the Catholic diocese of Trenton, took place today in St. Mary's cathedral, of which Father McFaul has been the pastor for the past four years. The church was crowded and hundreds filled the square in front of it, unable to gain admission. Archbishop Corrigan was the consecrator, assisted by Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester, and Bishop McDonnell, of Brooklyn. There were three archbishops, twelve bishops and over 300 priests present, a number of state and city officials, and prominent Protestant clergymen and laymen of this city. The church was beautifully decorated in orange and white, the papal colors, interspersed with the episcopal purple. The singing was by the combined Catholic choirs of the city and was of the Gregorian order.

PULLMAN ANNUAL MEETING.

Pullman and His Friends Will Continue to Control.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The stockholders of the Pullman Palace Car company met in annual session here late this afternoon. It was apparent, from interviews with those present, that George M. Pullman and his friends would remain in control for another year, as it was generally believed that there would be no show of opposition to the present management, which is said to exist among some of the stockholders. The annual report of the company was said to be vague as to the effect of the great strike, but the report was not made public until after the adjournment of the meeting.

Is a Total Loss.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—The tug Monarch, which towed the big log raft out over the Columbia river bar on Friday last and started with it for this port, arrived here today and reports the raft a total loss. A terrific gale was encountered and the raft went to pieces the second day out. The raft contained 10,000 spars and piles consigned to the Southern Pacific Railroad company and was valued at $35,000.

Whitecaps Arrested.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 18.—Sixteen men have been arrested in Clayborne county on the charge of being a band of Whitecaps that unlawfully whipped J. B. Phillips at Tazewell a few nights ago. All the persons taken into custody are prominent, and sensational developments are expected.

A Peculiar Fad.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—Mrs. Eliza Carson, aged 70, whose son-in-law Julius Rohrbach asked for a conservator that she might not squander her $30,000 fortune in her mad for continuous steamship trips on the Atlantic, left Chicago last night for New York to take another voyage. The son-in-law withdrew the application for a conservator.

Corruption Charged.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—John Murphy, director of the department of public safety of Allegheny City was today held in $20,000 bail for court costs, charges of receiving bribes from the keepers of gambling places and houses of ill repute.

Two Burned to Death.

GREEN SPRINGS, Ohio, Oct. 18.—The residence of Herman Barthold was destroyed by fire last night. Barthold and his wife and son barely escaped with their lives, and two daughters, aged 12 and 7, were burned to death.

Five Years for Boasting.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 18.—William C. Lippard, one of the leading members of the city school board, was sentenced to five years in the state prison today.

The Sale Postponed.

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 18.—The sale of the Pennsylvania, Poughkeepsie & Boston railroad, which was to have taken place today, has been postponed for a week.

An Iowa Editor Dead.

THE CZAR WORSE

The Condition of the Russian Ruler Changed for the Worse and Alarming Reports Circulated.

The Disease of the Kidneys Shows No Improvement and the Czar's Strength Has Diminished.

Consternation in St. Petersburg and General Feeling That the End May Be Expected Any Day.

Two Brothers of the Czar Started for Livadia Today on Receipt of the News.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—The reports in circulation regarding the czar's health, saying that his condition has changed rapidly for the worse, and that he may now be unable to leave Yalta for Corfu, have caused a sensation here, especially in view of the previous reports which have led people to believe that he was in no immediate danger. It is now concluded that there is little doubt that a decided change for the worse has taken place and that the czar may be in a more dangerous state than the most alarming reports have hitherto represented. The anxiety regarding the health of the czar was increased today by the reception of a dispatch from St. Petersburg distinctly announcing that the condition of the czar has perceptibly changed for the worse and people are trying to read between the lines of the official bulletin, published by the Official Messenger, an official dispatch indicating the sudden gravity of the czar's condition was sent to Darmstadt yesterday saying that the grand duke of Hesse-Darmstadt and the Grand Duchess Sergius, his sister, had started for St. Petersburg. The news from Livadia has caused consternation in St. Petersburg and there is a general feeling that the end may be expected any day. Consequently great anxiety is experienced regarding the consequences of the czar's sudden demise.

A correspondent of the British Medical Journal telegraphing from Livadia yesterday says that he has seen two of the czar's physicians. The correspondent adds: "There is no less cause for anxiety than there was a fortnight since, although the czar suffers less from vomiting and headache. His immediate removal from Livadia would be beneficial in one sense, but the czar's weakness increases."

The Conspiracy Story.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 18.—Dr. George von Schmidt, the German traveler, who claims to have inside advice by his access to the situation in Russia, said today that he had just received another cryptogram letter from St. Petersburg, which indicated an unfavorable outlook for the czar. The student party, the army and the clergy are honeycombed with a conspiracy to set aside the czar and to place Prince George on the throne in spite of the czar's personal wishes. The czar is crazed with fear and dares not employ Russian physicians for fear they are connected with the conspiracy.

MR. MORTON'S COACHMAN.

No Special Measures Taken By Attorney General.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—There is no warrant for the statement that any special measures have been taken by the department of justice in the case of Mr. Morton's coachman or have been applied for. The commissioner of immigration being sued in the habeas corpus case, the attorney general was asked to provide him with counsel and complied in the usual course of business by directing the proper district attorney to represent the commissioner. The attorney general could do nothing less, and the secretary of the treasury desired nothing more, except that the district attorney should be informed—as was done—that, if the court would take jurisdiction, the secretary would be glad to have it heard and pass on the whole case upon its merits.

Furniture House Destroyed.

ASHTABULA, Ohio, Oct. 18.—Word has been received here that a fire broke out at Jefferson, the city seat of Ashtabula county, at an early hour this morning. The fire was brought under control at 6 o'clock, after having destroyed the large 3-story brick building owned and occupied by S. R. Fitch & Co., wholesale and retail furniture dealers. Two or three dwellings were also burned. The loss will not exceed $25,000, partially covered by insurance.

A Hinkley Woman Learns That Her Husband, Whom She Had Given Up as Dead, is Alive.

Huntress & Brown Sawmill Reported to Have Been Leased to Frank Hibbing and A. B. Chapin.

Several Political Meetings to be Held by the Different Parties in the Near Future.

Mrs. Hanson, the mother of three children, all of whom escaped from the Hinkley catastrophe, was without doubt the happiest woman in West Duluth yesterday. The family are at present living in one of the Sharp houses, by virtue of aid received from the Relief society. A lady arrived from St. Paul yesterday and, seeking out Mrs. Hanson, gave her the glad news that her husband, whom it was supposed was burned in the fire, was alive in a hospital in the Saintly City. Mrs. Hanson had given up all hopes of her husband's escape and had assumed widow's weeds, so that the information seemed almost like bringing one back from the dead. The reason that no word had heretofore been received from Mr. Hanson is found in the fact that he had been badly burned and not until lately had become conscious enough to give an account of himself or his family. He lived at Hinkley, owned some good property there and was employed in the lumber mill. As soon as he was made known, his history as a lady friend was at once dispatched to Duluth to look up the remainder of the family.

Have Leased the Mill.
It is learned upon good authority that a deal has just been concluded by which another sawmill will be at once prepared to do its work and increase the output of lumber at West Duluth. This is the old Huntress & Brown mill and the lessees are Frank Hibbing and A. B. Chapin. It is understood that various changes will be made in the mill among them being the taking out of the rotary and putting in two band saws. This will largely increase the capacity of the mill. Manufacturers are now figuring on the machinery and it is stated that the changes will be made as soon as possible and the mill made ready for work at the earliest opportunity.

Politicians at West Duluth.
The politicians keep pounding away at the West Duluth citizens, seemingly working on the theory that all the people have not yet made up their minds which way they are going on election day. Last evening the Democrats held forth at their new headquarters, tomorrow night the Populists will discuss on plutocracy, Saturday night Albert Svensen will hold his private party at Stevens hall and on Monday evening George W. Stevens, Professor Carlson and Dr. Barrett will talk Republicanism at Great Eastern hall.

West Duluth Briefs.
Born—To Joseph Lewis, a girl, and to J. O'Brien, a boy.

John DeForest is back from a stay of several months in Nebraska, where he was in the service of the Christian Temperance Union met at the Congregational church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Subject: "The Defects of Our Public School System."

Warm 7-room house for rent, $5 per month. Address 1174, Herald.

Possibly Not Before Christmas.
The furniture for the new postoffice building has not arrived and Postmaster Helinski now thinks it will be impossible to move into the new building before Christmas. He is in receipt of instructions from Washington to move at the earliest possible opportunity. The latest possible opportunity is not until after the first of December. Architect Wengenstein notified the supervising architect that the building was ready for inspection some time ago but has received no notice of the inspector's coming as yet. He looks for his arrival, however, within ten days at the latest.

Duluthians Will Attend.
The state convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor opens at Winona tomorrow and a number of delegates from Duluth will attend. George L. Gorton, A. G. Strong, J. E. Wilde and Miss White left this afternoon and the others will go tonight and tomorrow.

Announcement.
At the request of many voters of the Second district of St. Louis county, who think that I have tried to do my duty as county commissioner, I present my name as a candidate for county commissioner of the Second district of St. Louis county at the election Nov. 6, 1894, asking the votes of all who think me worthy of same. I am yours truly,
C. POIKER.

We have a few thousand dollars to loan on unimproved property.

WEAKNESS
In women, that nervous, aching, worn-out feeling, comes to an end with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It restores your strength; it puts new life into you; it brings you back into the world again. It is a powerful general, and as a uterine, tonic and nervine, especially adapted to women's delicate system. It regulates and promotes all the normal functions, and builds up invigorated energies.
Gordon, Iowa.
Dr. R. V. Pierce. Sixty years ago I was in health gradually from the time I commenced taking "Favorite Prescription" until now. She has been doing her own housework for the past four months. When she began taking it, she was unable to be on her feet, she suffered from uterine disorder. I can heartily recommend it for such cases.

WHEAT WAS STRONGER TODAY.

Trading Was Quiet but the News Was Bullish and Prices Higher.

Wheat displayed a good deal of strength today. As a rule the news was more favorable for better prices; cables were stronger, domestic markets better, with New York taking the lead and others well in line. The receipts in the Northwest were much below the recent average. The reported death of the queen of Madagascar and the possibility of the renewal of the old dispute between England and Russia on the hand factor, was something of a disturbing factor. The active demand for Chicago wheat was not so strong as yesterday. Continues and is largely for red winter, the supply of spring being out of the question, except at a big premium. This cash demand was also a strengthening feature. The price (current) crop report was bullish, showing the fall sown wheat threatened with drought, with deliveries by farmers falling off and the feeding of wheat steadily enlarging.

The market here was the strongest for a month. It opened strong at 1c higher than yesterday for May 4 5/8, and half a cent later at 5c advance for December at 5 1/2. The market closed off 1/4 cent from the opening, and then advanced to 5 1/4 for May at the end of the first hour. It ruled steady at about 2c to 2 1/2, and touched 5 1/4 again after noon, but remained steady with heavy trading figures. The market was not so strong as yesterday. Continues and is largely for red winter, the supply of spring being out of the question, except at a big premium. This cash demand was also a strengthening feature. The price (current) crop report was bullish, showing the fall sown wheat threatened with drought, with deliveries by farmers falling off and the feeding of wheat steadily enlarging.

The Weather.

U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.
Oct. 18.—The area of high pressure has moved slightly southeast to the Middle Atlantic states while a "low" has advanced southeast to the Central Rocky Mountain plateau region.
Fair weather has continued in all reporting districts.
It is cooler east of the Mississippi river and warmer in the Missouri valley and the plateau regions.
Duluth temperature at 7 a. m. today, 58 degrees; minimum yesterday, 29 degrees; minimum yesterday, 10 degrees.

DULUTH, Oct. 18.—Local forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: Fair; slightly cooler this afternoon;
northeast winds becoming fresh.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Oct. 18.—Depth of water at St. Mary's falls about 7 a. m. today, 14 ft 5 in. Forecast for next thirty-six hours falling.

JAMES KENEALY,

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Forecast till 8 p. m.
tomorrow: Fair; slightly cooler this afternoon;
Touquet and Friday, fair; warmer; southeast winds.

The Water Works Question.

The Herald made a slight error yesterday in advising the people in regard to the proper way to mark their ballots at the special election. A copy of the official ballot has been issued, and it shows that opposite each proposition will be printed the words "yes" and "no." Those who desire to vote in favor of a proposition will place a cross opposite the word "yes," and those who are opposed will place a cross opposite the word "no." Consequently those who desire to vote for the purchase of the existing plant and for the issue of bonds for extensions will place crosses in the blank alongside the word "yes" opposite the first, third and tenth propositions and then place crosses alongside the word
"no" opposite all the other propositions.

In this connection, the opinion of a prominent Boston bond buyer who is at present visiting Duluth is worthy of attention by those who favor constructing an independent water system instead of buying the existing system. In an interview in the morning paper, he states that there will be no trouble in disposing of the whole issue in case the bonds are for the purchase of the present plant, but that it will probably be an impossibility to sell bonds issued to put in a parallel system. In case the latter plan should be decided on, he thinks it is most probable that any firm would put in a bid for the bonds. The reason is, as The Herald has several times pointed out, that to put in a parallel plant would take some time and there would be no prospect for any immediate returns to pay interest on the bonds, even if the new plant could be made to pay, while the competition of the present company would make the result almost certain. In case the latter

Anarchists in New York.

The attempt to explode a bomb in a Irish federation meeting in New York last night shows that the anarchists are still represented in the metropolis, and that all have not taken warning by the fate of their sympathizers who died on the gallows at Chicago. It is to be hoped that the police will be able to trace the author of last night's diabolical outrage. In view of the fact that he was seen by several people and a fairly accurate description of his appearance has been furnished there should be good prospects of effecting his capture and making of him an example that will have a terrifying effect upon all others of a similar bloodthirsty and inhuman disposition.

There is no evidence that the bomb was aimed at the speaker of the evening, Hon. Edward Blake, member of the British parliament from South Londonderry, Ireland, because it was placed in a box at some distance from him. It was evidently the design of the wretch to cause a horrible catastrophe, and bring about the death or injury of scores of people who were attending the meeting.

Mr. Blake is the former leader of the Liberal party in Canada, who retired from Dominion politics after a long and ineffectual effort to defeat the Conservative government. He remained in private life but a short time, being induced by the anti-Farrellites to take a nomination in a home rule constituency in Ireland for member of the British parliament. He is undoubtedly one of the ablest members of the Irish parliamentary party, and it was thought at one time that there was a possibility of the two factions of the party uniting under his leadership.

Broken promises invariably arise to trouble a man, as Mr. Baldwin will know now. In every section of the Sixth district he finds numerous people who voted for him two years ago, because of his promise to vote for no tariff changes that would injure this district. His broken promise to the iron miners of St. Louis and Itasca counties will alone cost him thousands of votes.

Let Them Fight It Out.

The German kaiser seems to have the correct idea regarding the position of other nations towards the struggle now proceeding between China and Japan.
He favors the policy of non-intervention.
He would have the European powers keep their hands off and let China and Japan fight it out to a decisive finish.
The young emperor is right. Why should the European countries interfere with the two belligerents? It was right and proper that an effort should be made to induce them to agree to terms of peace, but that proposal having been rejected, England, France, Russia, Germany and all the rest of them have no business to interfere. They have no right whatever to say that the war must cease and that the Japanese must abandon the advantages they have gained.
There is no doubt that the Chinese people generally are not averse to the Japanese overturning the Tartar dynasty.
The Tartars conquered the Chinese years ago and have kept them down by all forms of oppression. They have ruled the Chinese despotically, and the latter are not likely to mourn if they are now defeated by the Japanese. The plan of the Japanese government is that China shall be an independent country, and that the Chinese empire shall be divided into three principalities. Such a plan could not fail to have beneficial results. The Emperor William is correct in saying that other nations should not interfere with the carrying out of this program.

The Train Robbers.

Train robberies are becoming so numerous that the railroads and express companies may find it absolutely necessary to take greater precautions than they have hitherto employed against attacks upon their trains. Another attempt to wreck and rob a Baltimore & Ohio train is reported today. Three large dynamite cartridges were placed on the track, but only one exploded, as the train which struck it was running at a slow rate of speed.
Several of the men connected with the recent train robbery in Virginia have been captured, and it is stated that the prospects are bright that the whole gang will soon be under arrest. This is gratifying news. The fact that the majority of the bandits have hitherto escaped arrest and punishment after robbing express cars of large sums of money has undoubtedly encouraged other desperate men to make similar attempts.
It is demonstrated by the vigilance of the police authorities that train robbery is a very risky business and that those who participate in it are almost certain to be captured, there is no doubt that the number of such crimes will grow less. But in the meantime railroad companies and express companies may save themselves heavy loss by guarding against such attacks.

They are manufacturing an artificial egg in Rochester, N. Y. The albumen is made from the eggs of guinea fow, and the yolk is made from the eggs of turkeys.

The fact that it is larger now than in a presented year shows the intensity of the struggle proceeding in the Empire state and the great interest that the people
are taking in it.
Yesterday was the second day of registration in New York city. The total for the two days is 202,841. The registration for the first two days of 1893 was 145,746, and in 1892 it was 207,407. The fact that it is larger now than in a presented year shows the intensity of the struggle proceeding in the Empire state
and the great interest that the people
are taking in it.

Hill, Lockwood and Brown, the Democratic candidates in New York state, will all born in the same year. This is a curious coincidence.

Duluth commission men report that they cannot sell Baldwin apples this year. The people don't want anything of that name.

To a Glimp.

Two are the story emblem of revenge:
The type of a snake and a scorpion.
Within a single eye upon the strand
They stand on thy toes.
They gaze through thy window at the grand Procession of the stars.
And shudder at the thought of doom.
They tread the path of the great
To form thy temperament.
The lightning of the great
And callous men which men call dignity.

Armed with deadly hate
I love to hunt thee in thy native lair!
I do not like to chase the bounding roe;
I do not care
To follow up the grizzly bear;
To fling the fly into the watery trout,
Or hunt the feeding hare,
Or trail for lively salmon in the bay,
For they They're liable to get away;
But once upon thy trail
The gallant sportsman's chase can never fail.

The Legislative Ticket.

St. Paul News-Record: Have you ever thought how the interests of every man in the state may be affected by the acts of the incoming legislature? Those who are chosen for lawmakers have it in their power to do much good or much harm; and, under our existing laws, the harm they may do cannot be remedied for two years at best. Therefore, the men selected should be known to be intelligent, honest, unpretentious. They should know enough to guard against the tricks of such as may seek to use them.

Will Expose Him.

Martin County Sentinel: Judge Flandran may not succeed in smoking out Judge Willis, but he will expose him to the public as a mountebank and trimmer who is willing to drag the judiciary through the sewers of politics in order to gain a position, the honor and dignity of which he has not the slightest conception of.

THE CAMPAIGN ISSUES

Address by Hon. S. G. Comstock, of Moorhead, Before a Large Republican Gathering at Turner Hall.

Some Plain Talk on the Populist Idea of Government Ownership of Almost Everything.

Democratic Tariff Bill Scored and Democrats Declared to Have Practiced Deception Upon the People.

There was a rousing Republican gathering at Turner hall last evening to listen to a political talk by Hon. S. G. Comstock, member of congress from Duluth in the Fifth district. Charles A. McFarlane, president, and there were several prominent Republicans on the stage. The Duluth Glee club sang a campaign song and Mr. Comstock stepped forward. In substance he said: "I am glad to be with you tonight and talk politics a little. We are all partners together, or ought to be, in running this great concern known as the United States government. We have three great parties today pleading for the suffrage of the people. Let us look at the Populists for a few minutes. What are their ideas and what do they principally ask for? First, they want government ownership and control of the railroads, telegraphs, telephones, etc., and then they want the free coinage of silver on a ratio of 16 to 1, besides several other minor things. The policy of the founders of this great government was to do away, as much as possible, with paternalism in national affairs. Not 10 percent of the people in my town use the telephone and none of them can use the telephone without swearing."

The speaker drew a distinct picture of comparison between the cost of passenger and freight movement in the countries where governmental control of railroads existed and where it did not. In every instance the people paid nearly double for service where the government was in control. He pointed out the hollow promises of the Populists demand for a free silver coinage on the 16 to 1 ratio, where they claimed it would enhance the wealth of the country at least 20 percent. If that plan were put into operation it would be equivalent to making the famous rich men richer—it would give Rockefeller, the present of $100,000,000, and other presenters as much, while the laborers and poor men would not reap any benefits. China is the only country which believes today in the free coinage of silver and in that benighted country labor is worth from 5 to 10 cents a day. The Populists would put in telegraph and telephone lines under government control and make bankers and capitalists of all. "What a great head for business the Populists must have! It is the discontented mouthings of Populism that have poisoned the minds of the people and against the best government the sun shines on. Populism is passing away. Look at Oregon! Would the people care to repeat the lessons of Kansas and Colorado?" (Long and continued applause.)

Two years ago many were crowded and business was brisk and when we were satisfied. This year the speaker said the Democrats were going to vote for business. Out in the Red River valley they had a song which ran:

"Vote for Grover,
And get a dollar and a quarter for wheat."
"The Populists want the Democrats a little better and said, 'Hold your wheat until you get $1. We're in sight of the promised land, anyway, for we're getting within $1 of the Democratic promise.'"

In touching upon the tariff the speaker said it was a confusing subject, but a few days ago he saw a Dakota farmer who sold his wool for 10 cents; this year he got 25 cents. "I asked him what was the matter," said Mr. Comstock. "He said, 'Any damn fool ought to know.' Of course, after that I felt that I did know what the matter was." (Laughter.)

He spoke of why the Southerners desired free trade and showed how labor developed the value of a commodity, citing the St. Cloud granite quarries as an instance, showing how the granite was worth 25 cents a cubic yard unquarried, but after labor had been put on it it increased in various stages up to a value of $125 a cubic yard. Thomas B. Reed was over in England a year ago and he did not even hear of a banquet, but Chairman Wilson was there a short time ago and was treated to a series of banquets and was told how England was beginning to feel the beneficial effects of his measure. The ex-honorary president's corn and the ass's master's crib, and Wilson knew where he could get a good feed, and he said: "Let us eat, drink and be merry, for in November we die." (Laughter.) Democrats are already cursing the Wilson bill. Grover said the passage of the bill meant party perfidy and dishonor and he wouldn't sign it and he hasn't signed it yet.

The Democrats have deceived a great many people, said he. "They denounced the Reed house rules as an outrage but when they assumed power did not they sustain these very rules? The Democratic party of America was the only one which put a stumbling block in the way of the birth of the republic of Hawaii, and tried to restore an abandoned and profligate queen to her throne." This district cast 40,000 votes for its present representative in congress, but the speaker thought some of the voters now wished they had not gone to the polls and cast so many votes. Democrats and Populists alike forgot the cause of humanity and voted for the repeal of the federal election law, a most just and wise measure which Judge Stearns introduced when he was a Republican member of congress.

The speaker closed by appealing to every man to vote for that party organization which is pledged to give to every man every legal and constitutional right. Judge Morris followed in a few pointed political remarks and the meeting broke up full of enthusiasm.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Williams Recital.
George B. Williams read the first part of Shakespeare's historical drama "King Henry the Fourth" at the Temple last night before a large audience which was representative of the social and educational circles of the city. The entertainment was a novel one, and one which Duluthians have not had the opportunity of enjoying before, but it was certainly a pleasing one, and Mr. Williams is amply qualified to make it a success. His voice is sympathetic and full of expression and his rendition of the different parts, from the fat, jolly Falstaff to the fiery, hot-headed Hotspur, was excellent. He was especially good in the rare, rollicking comedy in the scenes in the bar's head tavern in Eastcheap in which good old Sir John Falstaff takes a prominent part, and he often rose to the required height in the more tragic parts between Hotspur and the king. The transitions from the comedy of Falstaff to the more serious portions of the play were thorough and were pleasingly made.

The entertainment closed with the reading of Howell's charming farce, "The Sleeping Car," in which Mr. Williams appeared to good advantage and still further demonstrated his ability as a reader. The entertainment on the whole was a success. The selections could not have been better, and Mr. Williams assumed all the parts, varying each and carrying out the characterization of the master part in an artistic manner.

William Collier.
William Collier will be at the Lyceum next Tuesday and Wednesday, appearing in "A Back Number," a comedy drama by E. E. Kipper. Collier has departed from the field of farce comedy and is winning success in a more legitimate role. As Benjamin Bennett he portrays the village schoolmaster of an Ohio village, taking everything seriously to such an extent that he is almost oppressed by the sternness of his sense of duty. There is absolutely nothing in this part to remind one of the actor who provoked so many laughs in "Hoss and Hoss" other than the fact that he is funny as ever, though in a different line. There is, however, no ludicrous makeup nor constant introduction of specialties. From this it must not be imagined that Mr. Collier has ceased to be funny, as has been the case with many who have attempted to rise from farce to the legitimate. In his new part he has been agreed on all sides that he is funnier than ever. There is a pastoral love story of much beauty. Benjamin Bennett is beset by troubles on all sides, but in the end he is rewarded. Mr. Collier is ably supported by George W. Leslie, H. A. Smith, James R. Smith, L. M. Heckert, Edward Clark, Louise, and others. Helen Reimur, Belle Bucklin and Mattie Earle.

F. T. Gates is President.
F. T. Gates was elected president of the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railway at a meeting of the directors yesterday. The office has been vacant since Alfred Merritt declined to be re-elected last February. The railway is making some improvements in the near future.

Reduced the Royalty.
The owners of the mine of the Adams mine, Robinson & Flynn and Dorris & Fowler, have reduced the royalty from 35 to 25 cents per ton. The minimum royalty was $100,000. The new rate is 30,000 tons. Under the new it is 30,000 tons for 1895 and 100,000 each year thereafter. A split is to be built in to the mine at once by the Missabe road.

An Ample Fund of Pleasure and Health.
May this month is the best time to travel and foreign travel. But before one gets one's "sen legs" on, as the sailors say, the abominable quills, begotten of sea sickness, have usually to be gotten over. Delicate people suffer, of course, more than the robust from this ailment, but few sea travelers escape it. Against the frightful nausea, produces Postetter's Stomach Bitters is a reliable defense, and is so esteemed by tourists, commercial travelers, yachtsmen and mariners. An ailment akin to sea sickness often afflicts land travelers with weak stomachs. This is often brought on by the jarring of the railway train. Disturbance in the gastric region from this cause is always remedied by the Bitters, which also prevents and cures chills and fever, rheumatism, nervous and kidney trouble, constipation and biliousness.

ADmits HIS PERJURY OVERWORK KILLS.

Sylvester Truesdell Says Plainly, in Testifying Against George W. Post, That He Lied Under Oath.

He Claims His Answers in the Final Proof Affidavit Were Made Under Instructions From Post.

Cross-Examination Did Not Shake His Story in Any Material Way—Another Witness On.

The trial of the case against George W. Post, the land attorney, for subornation of perjury taken up in the United States court yesterday, is one of the most interesting criminal actions ever tried before that court in Duluth. Yesterday afternoon A. J. Taylor gave evidence relating to the final proof in the making of which the perjury is alleged to have been committed. Defendant's counsel interposed many objections but Mr. Taylor's evidence was nearly all admitted.

The witness chiefly relied upon by the government is Sylvester Truesdell, a land explorer, who made the final proof. His testimony was about the same as given at the preliminary examination two or three months ago, except that he went a little more into detail. He frankly and coolly admitted that he had committed perjury when he made the final proof. There was some doubt as to whether Truesdell would appear. The United States marshal went up to Chicago bay on the north shore a few days ago and brought Truesdell down and placed him in the county jail, where he was held until yesterday.

It was brought out in his testimony, after some preliminary questions as to his early life, that he came to Duluth in May, 1891, and remained until November of that year, making a homestead filing which was thrown out in a contest. During the time he made Post's acquaintance. He went West in 1892 and returned here in 1893. He met Post one day in front of the Central saloon and the latter made a proposition to Truesdell to take up a claim. He replied that it might not be safe, as he had already made a homestead filing. Post replied that it was all right and that he would be being done every day, and that "he stood in with those fellows." Truesdell then consented, Post agreeing to pay him $50 and expenses, which Truesdell alleges he never did.

A mortgage dated Feb. 3, 1894, conveying the land covered by the homestead from Truesdell to Post was offered and identified by Truesdell as executed by himself. When the affidavit for final proof was shown him he was asked if he swore truly when he declared in the affidavit that he had not agreed to transfer the title. He replied that he did not, but that he had previously made an agreement to transfer the land to George W. Post.

The defendant's counsel objected to the introduction of evidence relating to an agreement, demanding that they produce the written agreement. Truesdell said he gave it to them. The defense then asked Mr. Holmbeck if he wished to produce it. The latter denied execution. Truesdell is ably supported by George W. Leslie, H. A. Smith, James R. Smith, L. M. Heckert, Edward Clark, Louise, and others.

This Morning's Testimony.
Truesdell was again placed on the stand this morning. The cross-examination was continued by Mr. Holmbeck but the testimony was not very sensational. Several times he flared up considerably but did not get rattled.

Upon the direct examination he explained how he was delayed in coming down from Chicago bay. District Attorney Stringer wanted to show that John Simmons and others were with him tried to prevent his coming, but the evidence was not admitted, the court holding that Post's connection with the stand should be shown.

George Neilson was placed on the stand about noon and gave evidence showing that the land had been occupied by Truesdell's going on and that it was Post who placed him on the land.

FOR THE TEETH
constant care is requisite, but care that is ineffectual is labor thrown away. Here brushing will not suffice, and much more than that is necessary. The use of the brush needs to be supplemented with our Florida. Its use will give to the teeth a pure whiteness and keep them absolutely free from all adhesive and injurious accumulations upon the surface. All such matter hastens decay and entails a premature loss of the teeth. Save yourself from the penalty of toothless age by using our Florida and avoid the unpleasantness of unsightly teeth and an offensive breath. We have a full line of tooth brushes from 10 cents up.

is injurious, but nothing gives strength, and tones up the stomach like a pure old port wine. "Royal Ruby Port," so called for its royal taste and ruby color is on account of its purity, age and strength, particularly adapted for invalids, convalescents and the aged. Sold only in bottles (never in bulk) while cheap wine is sold by the gallon and gives a larger profit to the seller but less to the user. This wine is absolutely pure, and has the age without which cheap wine is fit to use. Be sure you get "Royal Ruby" quart bottles. Sold by S. F. Boyce, druggist.

OVERWORK KILLS.

How Few Persons Stop to Think of It.

And How Few Who Are Not Overworking in Some Way.

Does This Mean You, Reader? Are You Not Doing More Than You Ought?

Oh, the millions of tired out, hard-working men and women! Our stores, shops, factories and homes all have them. They are weakening their systems, ruining their nerves, and laying a foundation for early decay and death! That nervous, weak, and tired feeling at night is a warning of what is coming.

If you feel this way, look out! You will break down just as surely as you don't do something to get strong. Read the terrible experience of D. D. Bulkley, Esq., one of the most popular men of Moretown, Vt.:

"Within the last year I have found myself in a fearfully debilitated and depressed condition from overwork. I was in such a terrible state I could not sleep at night, and was so weak and nervous that the least exertion would completely unnerve me."

"I also had trouble with my kidneys; they bothered me constantly, I became greatly discouraged and worried all the time."

"I consulted many physicians, but they did me no good. I also took all kinds of medicines, but without benefit. Finally, I was induced to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and I can truly say that in a short time it had done me great good, more than all the other medicines together. I can now sleep well, my nerves are strong and I feel well."

"I can truly say that in a short time it had done me great good, more than all the other medicines together. I can now sleep well, my nerves are strong and I feel well."

AN IMPORTANT POINT

A Question Posed by the Enactment of the Tillman Dispensary Law in South Carolina.

Can State Officers Enter Bonded Warehouses and Confiscate Spirits on Paying Internal Revenue Taxes?

Commissioner Miller Says This Would Probably Destroy the Bonded Warehouse System Within the State.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—The secretary of the treasury has referred to the attorney general for his opinion, a question raised by the enactment of the Tillman dispensary law in the state of South Carolina. The law provides that state officers may enter bonded warehouses and confiscate spirits on paying internal revenue taxes to the general government. In answer to Secretary Carlisle asking that the opinion of the attorney general be given, Internal Revenue Commissioner Miller says:

"The natural effect of acquiescence in the course proposed by Governor Tillman would be the probable complete destruction of the bonded warehouse system within the state; the consequent cessation of the business of manufacturing distilled spirits within the state; and the fact that the state cannot sell its product to private persons within the state, nor, if I rightly apprehend the provisions of the third section, to private persons to be shipped out of the state, but only to the state commissioner, or to persons outside of the state and under the regulations which would seriously influence the shipping of spirits."

It is further stated that the law would be a great barrier to the production of distilled spirits within the state. The question is usually presented whether a state can legislate as incidentally to destroy the United States of one of its declared sources of revenue."

MURDER AND SUICIDE.
Ellis H. Tiltus Killed His Placene and Shot Himself.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The bodies of Elliott H. Tiltus, aged 24, and Mary S. Tiltus, aged 23, were found in the private house belonging to the girl's father last night. Tiltus had shot himself in the head after killing the girl with chloroform. They were engaged to be married, and on Tuesday night they went for a short walk from which they did not return.

A searching party was organized to find them, but no trace could be found until last night. Both belong to prominent families and no reason can be assigned for the murder and suicide. The friends of Tiltus believe that he was committed while he was suffering from temporary insanity. He had been subject to epileptic fits.

A WEALTHY SUICIDE.
Asst. of P. C. Hanford Who Recently Died in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18.—The inventory of the estate of Second Vice President P. C. Hanford of the National Linseed Oil company, who killed himself here about three months ago, reveals the fact that the suicide was a man of considerable wealth. His estate is valued at $1,000,000. Mr. Hanford's suicide was a mysterious one, as his family relations were happy and his business apparently in a prosperous condition.

Shel by a Woman.
Fogarty, a Southern railway agent, was shot and fatally wounded by Mrs. Thomas Fogarty, who lived with him, after midnight. Fogarty returned to the woman's house and had kicked the door down when she opened it with a heavy caliber revolver. Mrs. Fogarty was arrested and given bail. Fogarty told an officer the woman was of uncertain character.

The Sugar Inquiry Case.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18.—Henry O. Havemyer and John E. Seale, president and secretary of the American Refining company, will be arraigned today before Judge Cole of the district supreme court on indictments charging that they defrauded the government of $1,000,000 in the sugar inquiry case. The trial of Havemyer and Seale will begin tomorrow.

Challenge to Grifo.
LONDON, Oct. 18.—Tom O'Rourke, manager and hawker of Joe Walcott, the colored middleweight, posted $1000 with a local paper in support of a challenge for Walcott to fight young Grifo, the Australian lightweight, for $500 or $10,000 a side. Walcott's challenge has been sent to the Australian but no answer has been received.

Sold to the Bondholders.
CINCINNATI, Oct. 18.—The Pittsburgh, Akron & Western railroad has been sold here by a new firm for $1,000,000 to parties representing New York and Pittsburgh bondholders. The appraised value of the road was $1,200,000.

An Unconfirmed Report.
SINGAPORE, Oct. 18.—The Indian government does not confirm the announcement made by a newspaper of Lahore that the army of Afghanistan is dead.

ATTEMPTED TRAIN ROBBERY.

Three Dynamite Cartridges Placed on the Baltimore & Ohio Tracks.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—A desperate attempt at train robbery was made last night near this city on the Baltimore & Ohio road. At 8 o'clock an east bound accommodation train ran over a dynamite cartridge near Bissell at a very lonely spot about fifteen miles from Pittsburgh. The flange of one wheel was blown off and one end of a coach wrecked. As the train had nearly reached the end of its trip, there were few passengers aboard and no one was injured. An examination of the track was made and two more powerful dynamite cartridges were found on the rails. Had the train been running fast it would have exploded all three cartridges and had been totally wrecked.

It is pretty well known that the intention was to wreck the mail and express, a through train from the East due a few minutes later, but the robbers made a mistake and placed the cartridges on the west-bound track instead of the west-bound. Arrests are expected today.

THE NEW BASEBALL LEAGUE.

A Hitch in the Arrangements Said to Be Due to St. Louis.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—A. C. Buckenburger, the backer of the new Pittsburgh baseball team, and Al Leroy, who have been in the city on secret business in reference to the new league organization, went to Philadelphia today. Both Buckenburger and Leroy refused to say anything about what has been done or what will be done in the matter of organization, though from the air of secrecy maintained throughout it is suspected that there is a hitch somewhere. The difficulty, it is understood, is caused by St. Louis, which is somewhat dubious about entering the league next year. At the meeting to be held in Philadelphia this afternoon, the question as to which clubs shall compose the league will be settled.

GREAT BATTLE REPORTED.

Chinese and Japanese Said to Have Had Another Engagement.

TIEN TSIN, Oct. 18.—A dispatch received here from Port Arthur dated Tuesday last, Oct. 16, states that the Japanese have abandoned Thornton Haven and have proceeded to the Ping Yang inlet, which they are now said to be strongly fortifying. It is reported in native circles here that a great battle has been fought between the Chinese and Japanese forces, north of the Yalu river. The engagement is said to have taken place on Monday last, Oct. 15. No details are obtainable. The Chinese authorities claim not to have any knowledge of such a battle having been fought.

TRAIN WRECKER CONFESSES.

Says the Battle Creek Wreck Was Planned by the A. R. U.

DETROIT, Oct. 18.—A special to the News from Marshall, Mich., says: The News correspondent today examined the sworn statements of Knowles, Hodelwig and Hall, the alleged Battle Creek Grand Trunk train wreckers. Knowles admits that Hodelwig and himself stole the claw bar with which the fish plates were removed. He charges that after the wreck Hodelwig admitted wrecking the train with two others. Knowles' confession states that the plot was concocted in the A. R. U. and that Hodelwig was the chief conspirator.

Hodelwig in his statement having had connection with the crime but says he was not present when the job was done. Hall disclaims any knowledge of the wreck.

FATAL MINE EXPLOSION.

Four Italian Miners Badly Burned, Two Probably Fatally.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 18.—An explosion of fire damp occurred yesterday afternoon in Shaner mine No. 2, at Shaner, Pa., on the Baltimore & Ohio road, and four Italian miners were seriously burned. It is thought two of them will die.

Two are badly burned about the hands and face and the other two have burns over almost the whole body. Physicians think two have inhaled the flames and death is almost certain.

CORBETT TALKING AGAIN.

Says He Gives Fitzsimmons One Week to Sign Articles.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 18.—A special to the Post-Dispatch from Hamilton, Ohio, where Corbett played last night says: Champion Corbett has sent the following telegram to the sporting editor of the New York paper in whose office he recently met Fitzsimmons:

"I will give Fitzsimmons one week to sign the articles of agreement, and if he fails to do so, I will fight him on the 1st of November." JAMES J. CORBETT.

PERISHED IN THE FLAMES.

Seventeen Workmen Burned to Death in Russia.

TELAV, Russian Transcaucasia, Oct. 18.—An extensive conflagration is reported from Grosny. A large naphtha spring became ignited in some unexplained manner and the flames spread to a number of buildings in its vicinity. Seventeen workmen employed in the buildings were burned to death.

Crossed the Continent.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 18.—A colored bicyclist has crossed the continent from New York to San Francisco on his bicycle and blackened several hundred pair of boots on the way. The wheelman who made the long journey is Lloyd Gray, a black whose home is in Yonkers, N. Y.

Northern Pacific Finances.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The annual report of the Northern Pacific railroad system for the year ending June 30, 1894, shows gross earnings $7,922,767, operating expenses $3,310,555; net earnings, $4,612,212; charges for rentals, interest, etc., $1,019,593; deficit, $65,904.

A French "Scandal."

PARIS, Oct. 18.—La Patrie declares the preserved meats supplied to the French army and navy under the name of a well known American firm are really from Germany. La Patrie appeals to the ministry to investigate this alleged scandal and put an end to it.

HARMONY STILL ABSENT.

The Democrats in the New York Congressional Districts Fighting.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—No progress has yet been made toward harmonizing the Democratic factions in the congressional districts of this city, which was so urgently recommended by the chairman of the congressional campaign committee, Senator Paulkner, of West Virginia, in the address he issued on Tuesday. In eight of the nine districts comprised exclusively within the city of New York there are opposition Democratic candidates.

Tammany was first in the field with its nominations and for one reason or another "turned down" about all of the delegation as it exists in the Fifty-third congress. John DeWitt Warner was allowed out of the nomination in the Thirteenth district by the transfer thither of Amos J. Cummings from the Eleventh. E. J. Dunphy, who had tammanously defied Tammany, was rejected. The redoubtable Timothy J. Campbell was deemed to have had his full share of honor and dignity in his nomination in his district was given to Henry C. Miner, the theatrical manager.

Bourke Cockran was shelved, it is alleged, by the express desire of Mr. Croker, to make place for George B. McClellan, the young president of the board of aldermen, and some other change in the delegation were made. Dunphy and Campbell have had their names placed upon the ticket of the Democracy ticket. Every member of the delegation, with one exception, who voted for the Wilson bill was passed over by Tammany. Ex-Mayor Grace, who represents the State Democracy, has demanded an equitable division of the nominations between his organization and Tammany and specifically the restoration of Cockran and Warner, but up to the present time has obtained no assurance that his claim for the State Democracy will be allowed.

ILLICIT STILL EXPLODED.

A Woman and Child and a Young Man Severely Scalded.

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The boiler of an illicit still in a tenement house on Clinton street exploded this morning, severely scalding Paulina and Jessie Rosak, mother and child, respectively aged 39 years and 13 months, and John Jokesky, 22 years old.

The woman's husband, Herman, supposed to be the owner and operator of the still, ran away after the explosion, leaving his wife and child crying for help. Rescue officers, who were in charge of the still and the finishing and unfinished liquor on hand. The still is only a block from a police station.

A BIG COTTON MILL.

New Mill to be Erected That Will Employ a Thousand People.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 18.—The Roanoke Rapids Power company, composed of Northern and Southern capitalists, has purchased 3000 acres of cotton growing land at Roanoke Rapids, N. C., and has commenced the construction of a large cotton mill, which will give employment to 1000 persons.

At the directors' meeting yesterday William A. Habington, of Petersburg, was elected president and W. G. Maxwell, of New York, vice president.

How It Came to an Untimely End.

A party of three policemen got leave of absence the other day and went on a hunting and fishing excursion, their objective point being a secluded spot in a locality of whose whereabouts it is only necessary to mention that it was several miles from anywhere and could only be reached by a long and laborious journey in a wagon from the nearest railway station.

The party arrived at its destination an hour or two before midnight and proceeded to unload. The tent, the camp stove, blankets, canteens, guns, ammunition, gamebags, fishing rods and other necessities of the campaign were taken out of the wagon by Mike and Larry and piled on the ground.

"I guess that's all," said Mike, preparing to climb out. "Not by a jugful!" responded Dennis, the ranking officer of the squad. "Look over in that corner beyond yew. There's a jug. It's full. Mind, now, how you handle it."

Larry picked up the jug with great alacrity. But in handling it out he had the misfortune to strike it against the hind wheel.

And it broke all to pieces. There was a ghastly, horrible silence. It was broken at last by Dennis. "Boys," he said in a heartbroken, world weary, but resolute voice, "get back in the wagon. It's the only thing back in the wagon." —Chicago Tribune.

Explanation of Ballot to Voters by the City Attorney.

Special Election, October 26, 1894.

On account of the number of propositions to be submitted to the voters at the Special Election to be held on the 26th day of October, 1894, and to prevent, if possible, any confusion from arising, it has been thought proper that I should give a detailed explanation of the manner in which the ballot should be prepared for voting.

It is proper to state in the beginning that the ballot has been made to cover every proposition which could be submitted to the voters to avoid a possible objection which might be made to a more limited ballot on the ground that the legislature intended by the Charter provision on this subject, that only the expediency of issuing the Bonds and the amount deemed desirable to be issued, should be left to the City Council, and that what should be done with the proceeds of the bonds should be left entirely to the voters.

The propositions to be submitted at this Election and the form of the ballot to be voted are as follows:

1. Upon the proposition of issuing water and light bonds to the extent of two million one hundred and six thousand dollars ($2,106,000) for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water and light plant.	Yes	No
2. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in erecting a water and light plant.	Yes	No
3. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in purchasing a water and light plant already in existence in said city, said bonds to be issued and sold by the Common Council as the same may be needed to pay for said plant, or to discharge or to take up the bonded indebtedness of said plant.	Yes	No
4. Upon the proposition of issuing water and light bonds to the extent of two million one hundred and six thousand dollars ($2,106,000) for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water plant.	Yes	No
5. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in erecting a water plant.	Yes	No
6. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in purchasing a water plant already in existence in said city.	Yes	No
7. Upon the proposition of issuing water and light bonds to the extent of two million one hundred and six thousand dollars ($2,106,000) for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a light plant for the City of Duluth.	Yes	No
8. Upon the proposition of using the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in erecting a light plant for said city.	Yes	No
9. Upon the proposition of using the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in purchasing a light plant already in existence in said city.	Yes	No
10. Upon the proposition that, in the event the voters at this election shall declare in favor of purchasing a water and light plant already in existence in the City of Duluth, additional water and light bonds to the extent of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) shall be issued for the purpose of extending and improving said plant, said bonds to be issued and sold by the Common Council as the same may be needed for said purposes.	Yes	No

The Judges of Election will furnish each person entitled to vote with one ballot. Upon receiving the ballot the voter will retire alone to one of the booths provided for that purpose, and upon examining the same, and having determined which of the propositions he desires to vote for, should put a cross-mark (X) opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite each proposition he may wish to vote for, and should put a cross-mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite each proposition he does not wish to vote for. For instance, if a voter should desire to vote for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water and light plant, he should put a cross-mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the first and second propositions and should put a cross-mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth.

If he should desire to vote for the issuance of such bonds and that they should be used in purchasing the water and light plant already in existence in the city he should place a cross-mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the first and third propositions and should put a cross-mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth.

If a voter should desire to vote for the issuance of such bonds for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water plant only, and should desire that the proceeds of such bonds should be spent in erecting such water plant, he should place a cross-mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the fourth and fifth propositions, and he should place a cross-mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth. If he should wish that said bonds should be issued and that the proceeds should be used in purchasing a water plant, he should place a cross-mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the fourth and sixth propositions and a cross-mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth. And so also for the propositions in regard to a light plant alone.

The tenth proposition rests upon the condition that the purchase of the present plant shall be voted, and every voter should cast his vote upon that proposition upon the supposition that additional bonds shall be issued for extending and improving the plant he should put a cross-mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the tenth proposition. If he should not desire that said additional bonds should be issued for the purpose of extending and improving the plant, he should put a cross-mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite the tenth proposition.

It may be well to state that the real question with which the people of the city are at present concerned is whether or not they shall purchase the water and light plant now in existence in this city or whether they shall erect one for themselves. Any voter desiring to make that purchase should vote for the first and third propositions and against all the others except the tenth. Any voter desiring to erect such plant should vote for the first and second propositions and against all the others except the tenth. As to the tenth proposition let what has been said above be always borne in mind.

The first three propositions which are for votes upon a water and light plant, were framed and submitted to the voters because of the fact that the present plant can only be purchased as a whole, including both its water and light branches.

Attest:
C. E. RICHARDSON,
City Clerk.

Susan McCarthy Sues the St. Paul Street Railway Company for Damages for Her Husband's Death.

Leonard Koetzie Shot in the Foot and His Skull Crushed by a Revolver Blow.

Family at Black River Falls Fatally Poisoned by Cheese Cooked in a Brass Kettle.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 19.—Susan McCarthy, the wife of Patrick McCarthy, who was killed by being run down by an interurban car on University avenue on Sept. 7, has brought suit against the St. Paul City Railway company to recover $5000 for the death of her husband. Reckless running is alleged in the complaint.

His Skull Crushed.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Oct. 19.—Leonard Koetzie, a farmer, living 2 miles east of town, and James Barry, an eccentric character, living in a dugout near Koetzie's, came to blows yesterday over stock trespassing with the result that Koetzie was shot in the foot and had his skull crushed in from a revolver blow. He may die.

KILLED BY A LANDSLIDE.

Two Americans Crushed to Death in a Mexican Mountain.

IRA PUATO, Mex., Oct. 19.—F. G. Warren, a young civil engineer of Chicago, has arrived here more dead than alive from a journey across the Sierra Madre mountains. He started six months ago from Oaxaca and crossed the mountains to the port of Salina Cruz. He then proceeded along the coast of Colima, where he fell in with two Americans named James West and George H. Crenshaw, both of Philadelphia, who were making a pleasure tour to Mexico. They proposed an overland trip across the mountains to the City of Mexico. About ten days ago they were passing through a mountain in the vicinity of Los Calchos, about 90 miles south of here, when the rain began to pour down in torrents. Mr. Warren was riding in advance of his companions when without warning a terrible landslide occurred. West and Crenshaw were caught and crushed to death and Mr. Warren narrowly escaped.

PROMINENT MEN INDICTED.

Charged With Violating the Interstate Commerce Law.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The men indicted by the Chicago grand jury for violation of the interstate law are: Nelson Morris, the largest cattle shipper in the world; General Manager Jenkins, of the Hammond Beef company; Isaac Thompson, of Kansas City; J. H. Reinhart, formerly president of the Santa Fe railroad, and J. A. Hanley, general freight agent of the Santa Fe road. There are seven indictments against the five men.

THE AFGHAN TROOP.

If England Intervenes, Russia Will Take Similar Action.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—The Novoe Vremya declares that in the event of the military intervention of Great Britain in Afghanistan, Russia will be compelled to take similar action. The Novoe Vremya adds that this joint action upon the part of Great Britain and Russia will necessarily lead to the partition of Afghanistan between these two powers.

First of the Kind.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The Fifteenth regiment infantry, U. S. A., commanded by Col. R. A. Crofton, was presented with a stand of colors at Fort Sheridan today by Chicago citizens, in recognition of services during the great strike. This was the first presentation of the kind that has ever occurred, and special permission was obtained from the war department at Washington. The presentation was made in the presence of the entire regiment and a large number of invited guests.

Salvation Marriage.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Thousands of Salvationists gathered at the Salvation Army barracks yesterday to witness the marriage of Miss Lucy Booth, daughter of "Geh," Booth, of the Salvation Army, to "Col." NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Ladenburg, Thattman & Co., will ship $500,000 in gold by tomorrow's steamer.

A Duchess Dying.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—The duchess of Montrose is reported to be dying.

SAYS HE IS A GAMBLER.

Morganfield Denies Being One of the Train Robbers.

CINCINNATI, Oct. 19.—Charles Morganfield, the suspected Quantic train robber now under arrest here, was notified at the hospital today that it was not necessary to amputate his broken leg. This gave him the greatest satisfaction and he consented to talk.

He said he was a gambler and spent his summers in the North and his winters in the South. Being asked how he came to break his leg, Morganfield said he had come from Pittsburg on a freight, and had gotten off at Winter Place. He then tried to board another and was hurt.

He denied having been seen recently in Cumberland, Md., but on being asked how he got a pill box, with the name of a Cumberland druggist he said he might have passed through Cumberland. He is still under charge of the police.

DR. CONKLIN HOME AGAIN.

He Tells a Very Peculiar Story About Being Kidnaped.

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 19.—A special to the Free Press from Caspols, Mich., says: Dr. A. B. Conklin returned home last night. He said he was kidnapped the night of Sept. 2 by two negroes and has been kept moving ever since by night and sleeping in the day time in unknown houses and unknown places, all the time under guard.

He wound up at Cincinnati yesterday morning and left there this morning. He has no clue to the perpetrators and is unable to account for his abduction, unless it is because he would have been an important witness for the prosecution in the trial of Dr. Anderson at Traverse City, who has been acquitted of the charge of abduction.

ARRESTED BY A PRIEST.

A Thief Caught While Robbing a Woman in Church.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Father Gey, of St. Peter's Catholic church, Clark and Polk streets, ended early mass yesterday by abruptly leaving the altar, and though robed in his sacred vestments, collaring a bold thief in the main aisle.

The thief, George Adams, an ex-convict, pretending to be a worshipper, had suddenly grabbed the pocketbook of Mrs. Reese, aged 76, and was making his escape through followed by the old lady, screaming and crying. Mrs. Reese's scream rushed from herself when she saw a struggle overpowered Adams and turned him over to a policeman.

Deposed by His Flock.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 19.—Professor I. H. Jones of Hamilton Female college and pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, in this county, has been deposed from his pastorate by the irate members who object to his mixing politics with religion. Professor Jones took a prominent part in the Breckinridge-Owens campaign against the former. A majority of the officers in the church were sympathizers with the colored candidate, and soon as they were given the power they fired the Rev. Jones.

The Harrisons Retire.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—The Chicago Times announces this morning that at a stockholders' meeting yesterday afternoon Adolph Kraus, until this time, stockholder, secured control of a majority of the stock and will assume control of the paper on Saturday. Preston Harrison and his brother Carter H. Harrison, will still hold a large block of stock, but retire from the management.

The Fusionists Win.

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 19.—A special to the Bee from Lincoln, Neb., says: The last hope of the administration Democrats to secure recognition for the campaign dates nominated by the state convention which bolted the regular convention was destroyed tonight by the supreme court deciding that the fusion ticket should be designated as Democratic on the official ballot.

Damages for Miss Monroe.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—A jury in the United States circuit court yesterday awarded Miss Harriet Monroe a verdict against the World for $2000 damages. The suit was brought to recover $5000 for the publication in the World, of the "Columbian Ode" written by Miss Monroe. The ode had been copyrighted.

The Women's Golf Club.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Oct. 19.—The women's contest for the Guild tournament cup of the Morris County Golf club was concluded yesterday, Miss Annie Houland Ford winning the cup. The weather was all that could be desired and the attendance of society people was large.

An Abandoned Dory.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 19.—The captain of the steamer Indian, which arrived at this port today from Boston reports having passed, about forty miles southwest of Barnegat, N. J., a dory, apparently at anchor and in good order, with no one on board.

Wheeler Accepts.

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Everett P. Wheeler, has accepted the nomination for governor of the state of New York on the third ticket. His letter of acceptance to Chairman Charles S. Fairchild was made public yesterday.

Chief Engineer McEwan Dies.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Chief Engineer Henry D. McEwan, U. S. Navy, retired, died here yesterday aged 55 years. He entered the navy in 1861 and was in command of the monitor Canonicus, he served on the great lakes, at the New York and Boston and Philadelphia yards and on the steamship Boston when that vessel was attached to the white squadron.

THE OUTLAW.

He Came to Eat but the Meal Remained Unfinished.

There were six of us eating supper in the rude cabin on the sheep ranch in the district of Victoria, Australia, when the door softly opened and in stepped a stranger with a revolver in his hand. The three of us who faced him recognized him on the instant as a bushranger, and those with their backs toward him knew what he was as he calmly and quietly said:

"Sorry to disturb you, gentlemen, but there is a cold rain falling out doors. Don't let my presence detract from the happiness of the occasion."

He was a man not over 40 years of age. His voice was soft and pleasant, and he was evidently an educated man, though his hair was long, his face concealed by whiskers and his garments were in rags and tatters. He had evidently been hiding in the bush a long time. Our weapons were all stacked in the corner beyond where he stood, and the six of us were perfectly helpless.

"Remind me of old times to see such a spread," said the man after a moment's silence. "I have lived on kangaroo, hare and mutton roasted over the fire in the bush until I sometimes feel that I am half animal. You might crowd down the table and invite me to take a seat."

"Every man moved along to give him a place at the head of the table."

"Sorry I'm ragged and dirty," he said as he threw down his rabbit skin cap, "but you can't expect a man to look like a gentleman after a year in the bush. Thank you very much. I will keep this revolver on my knees, and it is unnecessary to observe that I shall not hesitate to use it if occasion requires."

"An escaped convict of course?" queried the major as the man sat down to a plate heaped up with food.

"That's correct," he replied.

"An escaped convict turned bush-ranger?"

"Just so. While most convicts join a gang I have so far worked alone. That's about the only difference. Some of you may have heard of me 'The Shadow.' I have such a way of disappearing when pursued by the police that the sobriquet has been bestowed upon me."

"And the police were in this neighborhood looking for you only this morning," growled the major, who was the only Englishman in the party.

"Yes, no doubt. For that reason it is now the safest place. You were all laughing and talking as I entered. Prey, don't let me see one of your pistols. I observe that five of the gentlemen present are Americans."

"That of it?" growled the major, who was out of temper at being practically held by an outlaw.

"Nothing, except that I like Americans on general principles, and because they don't murder a man by inches for committing a trifling offense against the law. I won't deny the truth nor misstate facts. I have shot the out of the camp this morning. I could have made it good 50 times later on, but was arrested, pushed to trial and hurried off to Botany Bay on a convict ship."

"For what crime?"

"Treated like a wild beast—beaten, lashed, cursed and hounded. For 1½ years I have lived like a wolf."

"You sound a deserter!" said the major, whose temper was on edge. "Yes, under the English law, which takes no account of intent. I was young, of respectable family, and the law before me. I was told that friends got me drunk and then induced me to commit crime. I actually wrangled no law. I really broke no law, for I was not myself when I scrawled a signature to that check."

"They all say that."

"And what a man, and I'll tell you that it is a fact that eight out of ten sent to this penal colony would not get three months in jail in any other country."

"And what a man!" asked one of the group.

"Of my career, you mean? Oh, the same old thing. I shall either die in the bush or make my way out of it. The bullets of the police will finish me off in the open. I am an outlaw and must die the death of one."

As he was speaking I caught a glimpse of a face at the open window back of him. As I looked a hand, holding a revolver, was raised, followed by a gun, and an instant later there was a stream of fire and a sharp report. The weapon was within four feet of the back of the outlaw's head and the bullet passed right through his head and fell on the table. The man was sitting bolt upright, knife and fork in hand. His eyes closed, and he being forward until his face touched the table, and he seemed to be saying grace. It all came so sudden that never a man of us had spoken or moved when five or six pellets came rushing into the cabin, and their leader called out:

"He was a desperate man, and we wouldn't take any chances. Here, boys, get the carcass and drag it out of the cabin and see if he has anything worth taking away!"

The Oldest Sycophone in the World.

Quietly reposing on one of the many well filled shelves in Flinders Petrie's private museum in London is an ancient agricultural implement which throws much light on the art of husbandry as practiced by the prehistoric Egyptians. This antique farming tool is a wooden sycophone blade, which was found securely imbedded in the masonry of one of the oldest tombs of the valley of the lower Nile. The shaft of the instrument, as already stated, is of wood of some unknown species, the edge being carefully set with a row of flints so as to present their jagged edges in a manner not unlike that exhibited by the teeth of a saw. These flint teeth are of uniform size, the base of each being fashioned so as to fit the curve of the wooden blade. The teeth are not set into a groove along the edge of the blade, as one would naturally suppose, but are each firmly cemented in place, the material being of such excellent composition and the workmanship of such superior quality that after a lapse of three or four thousand years they appear as sound and perfect as when first taken away by their original owner.

Poison Sumac.
Poison sumac, a cousin of the poison ivy, loves the water. Ordinarily it is from 8 to 10 feet in height, with a branching top, yet it sometimes attains a much greater altitude. The trunk is several inches in diameter, quite brittle and covered with a shaggy gray bark, having a satiny luster. The leaf stalks are a vivid rose purple, and each one bears nine oblong, smooth, pointed leaflets. The flowers, which appear in June, are of a greenish yellow color, arranged in panicles. In the season these give place to small, greenish white berries, sometimes velvet with purple. The sumac is more to be feared than the ivy. It is a beautiful and conspicuous shrub frequenting the swamps.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Hurt in a Camp.
W. E. Weber, a man employed in a lumber camp at Swan river, was caught in a frog on the Duluth and Winnipeg tracks near the camp this morning, and his foot was run over and badly crushed. He was brought in on this morning's train and taken to St. Mary's hospital.

A Wise Suggestion.
The young woman with a strange infatuation for the clerk in the gun store called to see him in a wild mood. He had grown cold, as men are apt to do when there is some one else to keep the fire up, and she had come in to have a talk with him.

"Give me a revolver," she asked after she had received full satisfaction.

"What do you want with it?" he inquired coyly, for he knew that danger lurked in that sort of a thing, and that it sometimes had a way of coming out of the muzzle of it in a demonstrative and dangerous fashion.

"I'm going to kill myself with it," she sobbed.

"Oh!" and he appeared to feel relieved. "What else could you do you think you will need?"

"A 44 caliber," she replied as one knowing something about those things, as indeed she had, having heard him talk so often.

"My dear young woman," he protested, "don't do that. As sure as you do, some of those heartless reporters, who write up these things, will say you took that shot to match your eye. Here, here's a 22. Try that."

It was a cold blooded way he had of talking, but he was no fool, and the young woman got so mad that she not only left the place, but shook the young man forever.—Detroit Free Press.

He Mistook His Man.
It was on board a steamer coming from Algeria. They were about to stop, and the passengers on landing would have to pass the custom house. A saloon passenger opened his portmanteau and took therefrom a large assortment of cigars, which he endeavored to stow away in his pockets so as to escape detection. Unfortunately his pockets were not capacious enough to hold the lot; but, nothing daunted, he turned to a fellow traveler, saying, with a winning smile:

"Would you mind taking charge of these four small parcels—just till we have passed the custom house, you know?"

"I don't object in the least," replied the other pleasantly, "but I might not find it quite so easy to give them back to you."

"Why not?"

"I am an inspector of customs!" Tab-leau.—Petit Meridional.

One Hundred Years Hence.
She towered above him in her wrath. Her neatly creased trousers were bagged at the knees and her dashing tie had crawled up above her collar.

"You miserable coquette!" she burst forth.

Cholly covered his face with his jeweled hand.

"You have led me on," she continued, "to love you, and now you reject me for Grace Hensleigh! But beware!"

Then she took up her cane and hat. Once more she turned upon him.

"I only hope that she will break your heart, as you have broken mine. Farewell, heartless coquette!"

"Coward!" called Cholly as she left the house.—Rochester Post.

Establishing His Identity.
A Philadelphian who had traveled extensively in Burma was telling an English girl, on a recent voyage across the Atlantic, some of the remarkable work which elephants are taught to do in that country, and in order to create a good impression he drew slightly on his imagination. He told the truth as to how the elephants toll all day, piling up teakwood at the saw-mills, and even lay the logs on the plane, and," he continued, "there was one old elephant, much wiser than the others, who, after he had laid down the log, got down on his knee and squatted to see if it was on straight." The girl smiled in a bored sort of a way and said, "Now I am sure you are an American."—Philadelphia Record.

The Weather.
U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, DULUTH, MINN.,
Oct. 19.—The barometer is highest in the South Atlantic states. A touch of low pressure extends southeast over Montana and the western slope of the Rocky mountains. The weather is also low in the Upper Mississippi and Lower Mississippi valleys.
Showers occurred last night in the Upper Mississippi and Lower Mississippi valleys, the upper lake region and Western Montana.
It is decidedly warmer in the upper lake region and generally warmer in the remaining western, central and northern parts of the continent where it is slightly cooler.
Duluth temperature at 8 a. m. today, 45 degrees; maximum yesterday, 48 degrees; minimum yesterday, 30 degrees; rainfall, .08 in.

Water Bonds.

The comment of the representative of E. H. Gay & Co., the Boston and Chicago bankers, touching upon the market for Duluth bonds, and to which reference was made in yesterday's issue, is worthy of more than passing notice.

He said, in brief, that if the city of Duluth should decide to build its own water plant it would be nothing less than an impossibility to sell bonds for the purpose. But that if, on the contrary, the plant of the Duluth Gas and Water company should be purchased by the city at the coming election, bonds for such a purpose and for necessary extensions could be readily placed. The question then whether or not the city should buy the property of the gas and water company narrows itself down to a still finer point than has yet been considered.

If the voters should decide not to purchase the plant but that the city should build its own, we would be left just as we are now. If bonds for the building of a new plant cannot be placed, it would not only be ridiculous to vote in favor of such a plant, but such a result would place the city in the most unenviable, not to say humiliating, position of begging for money which nobody would lend. The gas and water company would then not only continue to operate its business in the manner that has grieved the citizens of Duluth to the point of exasperation, but resting after than ever in the security of its position would play its methods in a more autocratic manner than in the past. If, however, the property be bought, the bonds will not only find a ready sale, but the entire city and every citizen within its confines will have made one gigantic step toward a healthier and happier existence.

The question as it stands now, it would seem, does not admit of much argument.
Surely we do not wish to place ourselves in the embarrassing position of forcing bonds in vain upon the cold shoulder of the markets of the country. Surely we do not want water, and pure water, and wish to make extensions and improvements that the Duluth Gas and Water company is unwilling or unable to make. The taxpayers cannot object to the purchase, as it has been conclusively shown that the plant is self-sustaining. Those who pay no taxes must earnestly desire that the city should own the property, and the laboring men of Duluth must certainly be able to find employment in the work of extension, which is contemplated by the city if it be voted to buy the plant.

The sum of $500,000 to be voted upon according to the tenth proposition in the ballot, if expended at once for extensions in various parts of the city, would give work to a multitude of men just at a time when the city is likely to be howling at their doors. Taking it all in all, there is every reason why every citizen of every class, who is interested in the city and in his own personal prosperity and happiness, should vote in favor of the first third and tenth propositions on the ballot which will be placed in the voters' hands on Oct. 26.

The Congressional Contest.

The election of Mr. Towne is conceded by all the politicians. Such enthusiasm as he is creating throughout the district was never witnessed before. All his meetings were largely attended and the hearty reception accorded him shows in no uncertain manner the great desire of the people to have the Sixth district represented in congress by a man who will voice the sentiments of its inhabitants.

The Sixth district voters have had a sufficiency of Maj. Baldwin and his broken promises. They want a representative whose views are in accord with their own and who can be depended upon to vote the same way when he takes his seat in congress. Such a man is Charles A. Towne, and the people will see to it that on Nov. 6 his plurality will reach into the thousands.

Maj. Baldwin is traveling around the district making the same stereotyped speech with which he started out, but he fails to enthrall the crowds as he did two years ago. He has been found out since then. His empty promises and smooth talk did the work two years ago, but his actions in congress have shown him up in his true light and the people want no more of him. He has been tried and found wanting, and on Nov. 6 the district will decide in favor of retiring him to private life. Already there are indications that he will be third in the race, when the ballots are counted.
The fight is now between Charles A. Towne and Kittel Halvorsen.
Democrats all over the district are flocking to Mr. Towne's support, while Mr.
Halvorsen is cutting deeply into Maj.
Baldwin's former support in Stearns county. With the Republicans united and enthusiastic, and the Democracy split up and dismembered, Maj. Baldwin stands no chance of being better than third in the race.

Mr. Reed's Tariff Views.

In an interview at Ann Arbor, Mich.,
the other day, where he delivered a lecture upon "The Relation of Leaders to Progress," ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed, of Maine, made some remarks on the tariff question that are attracting considerable attention, because they are almost directly at variance with many declarations made by Governor McKinley and other Republican leaders.

Among other things, Mr. Reed said:
"If the Republicans should be successful this fall, nothing further would be done with the tariff until after 1896 and business would have a chance to revive. On this issue there could be no doubt of the result." Mr. Reed said that in his opinion it would not necessarily follow that the return of the Republican party to power in 1896 meant the re-enactment of the McKinley law. He did not think that the party would make that issue. Conditions had changed materially in the last six or eight years and there was room for many modifications in the McKinley bill. He intimated that the McKinley law was not the conception of the Republicans.

There are many staunch Republicans who will heartily endorse Mr. Reed's views upon this question, and certainly his ideas will find favor with the business men, who have suffered greatly from the agitation of the tariff question and would gladly welcome the adoption of a tariff law that would not be changed for a series of years.

Oppressed babies are defended by a physician who writes in the North American Review. "The modern view of a baby current among mothers and nurses," he says, "is that it is an unmitigated fool with suicidal tendencies," but he believes that the baby "has been grossly shattered and misjudged through the fond arrogance of domestic philosophers," and that many of its little ways, such as putting everything it picks up into its mouth, is a clever, life and admirable thing, a survival of primitive fashions of self-support, which made the human race "fittest" to survive.

In his speech at Akron Senator Sherman said: "I hold in my hand a statement and diagram dated Oct. 1, made by Justice Bateman & Co., giving the price current of all wools produced in this country, showing a monthly decline of wool during the nineteen months from March 1, 1893, to Oct. 1, 1894, of over 37 per cent, and it is still declining, notwithstanding the statements that are sometimes made in the Democratic papers." This is a convincing answer to the claims that wool has advanced in price since the free wool law went into effect.

Nathan Straus has declined the Tammany nomination for mayor of New York. This is because Mr. Hill decided to permit the State Democracy to place the state Democratic ticket at the head of the independent city ticket. The New York Sun, which supported Hill and opposed Straus, will be delighted with the latter's retirement.

HELD FOR ABANDONMENT.
Son of a Wealthy Chicago Man Deserted His Young Wife.

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—John Forsyth, son of the wealthy Chicago real estate dealer, Jacob Forsyth, was held to the grand jury yesterday on the charge of abandonment, preferred by his young wife.

Young Forsyth was married to a Michigan farmer's daughter in 1892 and a few weeks ago she caused the arrest of her husband for abandonment and sued his wife for alimony, claiming the latter caused the separation.
Mrs. Forsyth, who is a beautiful young woman, told in court yesterday, of various quarrels and pitched battles in which she and her husband had engaged and admitted that the day he abandoned her she smashed a water pitcher over his head. The husband's face was badly scratched as the result of the encounter.
Young Forsyth was held under heavy bonds, which his father furnished.

IN FAVOR OF BUYING

Views of Well Known Business Men and Other Citizens on the Coming Water-works Election.

Almost Every One Declares in Favor of Purchasing the Plant of the Water Company.

Reasons Why This Plan is Preferable to Undertaking the Construction of a Parallel System.

On Friday next the people of Duluth will be called upon to vote upon the question of purchasing the plant of the gas and water company or constructing a new and independent water system. In order to present a fair idea of the views of the business men and others on this very important question, The Herald reporters today interviewed a large number on the subject. In almost every instance, the person interviewed declared in favor of purchasing the present plant. The reasons which have actuated some of them in reaching this decision are stated and they will be found worthy of consideration by those who have not yet decided how they shall vote. Following are the opinions of those interviewed:

Capt. J. W. Miller—I want the city to purchase the plant. We expect them to make money there was never a deal between two corporations where someone didn't make money. There never was a corporation that had bonds on the market but there were speculators to buy them up at the lowest possible rates to sell them at the highest possible rates to those who wish to buy them. We must expect all that. But it is to the best interests of the city in my opinion that it buy the plant. We will then have something tangible, something to work on. There are some who oppose the proposition as they would everything that would be likely to cost them something in taxes.

J. H. Baker—I claim that the city would have to buy the plant sooner or later anyway, and that it is impossible to escape it. The question is, "How much?" There is more than that. There is no question but that it could be duplicated for a lesser price, but there is a property right in the franchise which has been given by the people and which they will have to buy back. The courts have ruled that that right exists. We have no fire protection under the present plan and we cannot compel them to give it. The needed extensions will never be made until the city owns the plant. We tried it with the $80,000 bond issue and the result was that the company appeared to control our council. There is an unseen hand in municipal politics, and the only way we can get rid of it is to buy them outright. When the company put in their intake pipe it was put in in accordance with the charter. Afterward the city put in sewer outlets which spoiled the water, and in case of a suit the city would lose it. It would be a good, paying investment at the present price in view of the revenues which will come in when the city grows, for they will multiply several times by the time. A piece of property that is paying a revenue cannot be considered as indebtedness, so instead of having an increased indebtedness the city will have a new source of income.

C. C. Prindle—There are a good many reasons why I think it preferable for the city to buy rather than build. For one thing, in the latter case we should have our streets torn up for several years, and aside from the cost, the results would be a long time before the new plant would earn interest on the money expended. Now is the time to buy, for we can get it cheaper now than we ever can again. If the city gets hold of the plant it can make the needed improvements and extensions which the company never will make on account of the continual differences with the city. The improvements which the city can make will be a vast consideration, and it is creating the value of property which is almost useless on account of the absence of water and fire protection.

W. C. Sherwood—I have always been opposed to the purchase until within the last year, when I had in my office Col. Geggie, who was for some time general manager of the company, and he told me some things that caused me to change my opinion, for his honesty is unquestioned by anyone. In speaking of the cost of building a plant he informed me that season after season they were finding their estimates for digging trenches doubled and trebled before they got through with the work. The rock underlying all the principal portions of Duluth is not strictly a granite but a very much harder rock, a kind of quartz porphyry composed of silica and hornblende with only a trace of mica, whereas the other granites have mica running all through them making them much easier rock to work. It is much easier to blast out pure granite than the rocks we have here. When it comes to blasting, as there is no rift to the rock as there is to granite it takes several times as much drilling and over twice as much dynamite or powder to work the rock as it does to work other granites. I don't know of a single citizen who has grown wealthy by rock excavation in Duluth, but I do know that more men have gone broke at it than in any other business. After investigation I am satisfied that not one man out of 100 realizes in the slightest degree the cost of digging trenches in this porphyritic rock. It is an easy matter to figure out the cost of the same work in West Duluth or other cities where the work is merely a matter of dirt excavation, but I have become satisfied that it has cost this company just about as much as they now ask for the plant. Although I think it might perhaps be duplicated at present while labor and material are cheap at less than the price asked I think it would place the city five years back in its progress if the purchase is not made, for there are other considerations which more than outweigh what difference there might be. If the city buys, inside of two years there will be water in every locality and it will not increase our taxes a cent. Superior street property would not be worth $10 a front foot if our bonds would not sell above par. The income and rentals would more than pay for the cost of extensions. I can easily see how the class of people that is not interested in business or prosperity, who are distrustful of all new enterprises and who are always fermenting trouble would oppose the purchase, but I cannot see how any man who has the interests of the city at heart can oppose it.

M. Norris—I don't think I should interfere; it would make paper talk. I am satisfied either way.

Capt. W. H. Smallwood—I have not given it much thought. Most that I have heard about it was in the chamber of commerce. From hearing the reports read and knowing the men who have investigated the matter, I shall vote for the purchase. I have confidence in their judgment.

W. D. Gordon—Coming as I do from Glasgow, Scotland, where the city owns the finest water-works system in the world, I believe in the people owning the water-works system, but in this matter the price asked seems an awful price to pay, and I hope this will be an object lesson for all time to the public in general when franchises are to be bestowed for a mere nominal sum—sometimes nothing—and the same franchise bought back when there is "millions in it."

W. A. Foote—I do not know what to say about that. I think we ought to own them. We have got to own them some time and the sooner we do so the better for the taxpayers.

Dr. Stewart—I am in favor of the purchase. It seems to be the only thing for the city to do. I feel that it is the only course left. After the city secures the plant the intake pipe should be extended out beyond the current of the canal.

Dr. McComb—It seems to me that the thing for the city to do is to purchase the company's plant. I think the city ought to own it. But I have not given the matter a great amount of thought. I use very little water, except for washing purposes.

W. D. Edson—I am emphatically in favor of the city purchasing the water plant. I think it would be utterly folly to undertake to put in a parallel system, especially so as long as the company are disposed to sell at a price not in excess of a sum which shows the company to be a paying investment. When once the city becomes the owner, the expense of continuation will be equitably distributed over the entire city, just as the expense of the purchase is. I can see no good reason why all parties—those who are already water takers, as well as those who cannot be water takers on account of the non-extension of the mains, should not favor the purchase. The burden to the former cannot, in view of the future growth of the city, be made burdensome by an extension of mains, for the extra number of water takers who would come in would help to make the plant self-supporting, on a more favorable basis than present charges even while the latter, who now have no water, would be supplied, and besides the fire protection would be much better under city management than under the gas and water company's control. The gas and water company are dogs in the manger; the sooner we buy their plant and boost them out the better for all concerned. I think that public meetings should be called to explain the situation.

W. W. Billson—Oh, well, all things considered, I am disposed to favor the purchase.

A. D. Thomson—I have not looked into it and have not given it enough attention to be able to express a lengthy opinion. I have convictions that a city should own its own gas and water plants, but I do not believe they should pay too much for it.

Dr. Magie—Oh, Lord! I supposed every one knew my opinion. It has not been a question of finance so much as one of life and death. The idea of pumping up sewage into the stomachs of our families! Let us buy the plant while we have a chance. It is a question of health. Get the plant and have the intake pipe removed to a point beyond Lester river. I would give almost anything to have that assurance on account of the health of my family. Some people are afraid of the cost, but the plant is on a paying basis and the cost is not to be considered.

A. M. Marshall—I have not had time to consider the matter and know very little about it. I would rather not express an opinion.

W. T. Bailey—Let us buy the blanketed water-works and get it out of our way forever. It is easier to buy than build.

R. S. Munger—I believe the city ought to purchase the plant. If it does not there will be an endless amount of litigation before the city can do anything. The company would not surrender without a big fight and would get out in a paying labor will be employed for some years if the city does not buy.

Nels Hall—I believe we have to pay twice what it is worth for the thing to get rid of the present company and fix it so that the city can own the system and give us good water and good service. I think it is unquestionably the best policy to buy the plant.

C. W. Erickson—I think on the whole that it is best for the city to buy the plant. Then we can bond bonds and give labor employment on extensions. If we do not buy there is a long and serious fight before us. The price is too high but I do not think we can get a lower one.

Paul Sharpy—I have always been in favor of buying the plant, and I think that the considerations in favor of that plan are much greater than for building. If we buy, there will be labor enough employed and revenue enough received Dismissed St. Jean.

The charge of grand larceny brought against Treasurer Alphonse St. Jean of the Longshoremen's association, fell to pieces this afternoon and he was acquitted by the county attorney dismissing the case against him. Charles McEachron went to jail for forty days in default of a $10 fine for assaulting Officer H. A. Fritz at a dance a few nights ago when Officer Allen was suspended for cowardice. The powder house thieves will be arraigned later on.

THE MUNICIPAL COURT.
Eighteen Offenders Arranged Before Judge Powell This Morning.

Judge Powell had a full house this morning, a total of eighteen offenders of all grades being brought up before him. James McCarthy and Dan, McKenzie, plain drunks, went on the hill for ten days. Nick Buckley said he was drunk and will be tried later. Six box car tourists were up for trespass; they were Harry Hatfield, James Smith, John Bagley, James McCann, Joseph Boutelle and Lewis Woodruff. They all knew where to get work and the judge let them off on their promise to enter employment.

Six saloon keepers did not observe the Sunday closing law last Sunday and were brought into court this morning. They will be tried Oct. 25, at 2 p. m. Their names are Anton Ignasiak, John Breen, Simon Budine, Thomas Berg, D. O'Connell and John Koskela. F. Manella, for violating the fire ordinance, will be tried Oct. 22, at 10 a. m. Frank Basner, for using abusive language was suspended sentence and Tony Schulte for immoral and indecent language will receive trial later on.

W. J. Holmes dead in municipa and corporation loans, also wants large real estate mortgages. Office at residence, West Duluth. Correspondence solicited.

Smith Property Leased.
An instrument was filed yesterday in the office of the register of deeds by which Adeline Smith leased to Martha A. Triggs and J. L. Washburn the two lots on the south side of Superior street just west of Lake avenue for ninety-nine years at an annual rental of $500. The lessees contract to build before Oct. 1, 1895, a substantial, first-class, slow-burning or fire proof building of brick, stone, iron or steel, of at least two stories on Superior street and three on Michigan street, on which at least $25,000 is to be expended. If this part of the agreement is carried out the rent is to be postponed until October, 1895. The lease dates from June 1, 1894.

$100 Reward $100.
The owner of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dead-end disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, it requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, it acts upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for its cure in any case.

FOR THE TEETH
constant care is requisite, but care that is ineffectual is labor thrown away. Mere brushing will not suffice, and much more than that is necessary. The use of the brush needs to be supplemented with our Floriline. Its use will give to the teeth a pure whiteness and keep them absolutely free from all adhesive and injurious accumulations upon the surface. All such matter hastens decay and entails a premature loss of the teeth. Save yourself from the penalty of toothless gums by using our Floriline and avoid the unpleasantness of unsightly teeth and an offensive breath. We have a full line of tooth brushes from 10 cents up.

TELLS ANOTHER TALE

George W. Post Was Placed on the Stand Today and Testified in His Own Behalf.

Claims That He Sold Truesdell Minutes of the Land and Took a Mortgage as Security.

Defendant's Motions to Strike Out the Testimony of Register Taylor and Truesdell Were Overruled.

In the Post case in the United States court yesterday afternoon Charles P. Carlson, G. W. Thompson, J. R. Carey, Michael Connor and Samuel Smart were placed on the stand after George Neilson had been dismissed. Their testimony was corroborative of Truesdell's and for the purpose of establishing his perjury beyond question. Smart and O'Connor testified to building the house that Truesdell occupied on the land concerned in the perjury case. This concluded the government's case and the jury was released until this morning.

Mr. Hollenback made three motions, one to strike out Register Taylor's testimony on the ground that it had not been shown that he had authority to administer an oath, another to strike out Truesdell's testimony on the ground that it was not permissible to prove subordination by the uncorroborated testimony of the one suborned and finally to instruct the jury to find a verdict of not guilty.

All the motions were overruled after considerable argument and court adjourned until this morning. This morning Mr. Hollenback opened for the defense. He said it would be shown that Post simply sold Truesdell the minutes of the land for $150, advanced him his expenses and money to prove up and took a mortgage to secure this.

Post was put on the stand shortly before 11 o'clock and was on a long time. He told about the meeting with Truesdell in the Central saloon and said Truesdell asked to be put on the land and a deal was made. He denied having told the witness what to swear to. He identified the mortgage given by Truesdell to himself and said Truesdell signed no other agreement with him, nor did he make any agreement orally or in writing with Truesdell. He denied the making of any contract by which Truesdell was to give the land to him after proving up. He admitted allowing Truesdell $50 for expenses. Each question in Truesdell's affidavit admitted by him to be false was read to the defendant together with the answer and Post denied knowing that they were false answers at the time they were made.

District Attorney Stringer took up the cross-examination of Post after the noon adjournment. He said he made the minutes of the Truesdell land in 1891, but afterward changed the date to 1892. He denied having purchased any shanties either on the Rice or Truesdell claims. Nothing interesting had been brought out up to 2:30 o'clock.

APPLIES FOR A RECEIVER.

A. J. Trimble Has Begun Suit Against the Pittsburgh Iron Company. A. J. Trimble, this afternoon, began suit against the Pittsburgh Iron company and John and William McKinley, F. W. Winslip, H. W. Coffin, A. L. Warner, E. E. Milligan and A. E. Humphreys, stockholders in the company, to have a receiver appointed and the property sequestered.

He alleges that in 1891 he made a mortgage note to cover indebtedness of $100,000 to Justin and G. K. Wentworth and J. P. Fleitz, giving a mortgage on property in 58-17. He afterwards sold the property to the defendants for $50,000, they agreeing to assume the mortgage notes. He alleges that they failed to do this and when there was something over $10,000 due they allowed it to default and it was sold for $11,100, having depreciated in value, and there was still $66,665 due.

He brought a suit against them for the amount and secured a judgment. An execution, however, was returned unsatisfied, and he alleges that the company is insolvent. He alleges that the liabilities are over $3000 and the assets only $3000, consisting wholly of their equity of redemption in the aforesaid lands. He asks that a receiver be appointed, the corporation dissolved, its property sequestered, and the statutory liabilities of its stockholders enforced.

Bergitta Haugan has begun suit against the Wisconsin Central to recover $300, which she alleges is the value of a trunk belonging to her which was lost in transit between Chicago and Duluth. A transcript of judgment for $379.42 from the Ramsey county district court has been filed in favor of the National German-American bank of St. Paul against William Hendricks.

Pastor's Reception Tonight. The first of what promises to be a pleasant series of receptions will be given this evening at the parlors of the First Presbyterian church. Friends are invited. This evening's reception is given by Dr. and Mrs. Cleveland and the members of the first division of the parish, including those whose names commence with the initial letters A to G inclusive. A musical program has been arranged and light refreshments will be served.

Notice to Laboring Men. We would request the presence of all laboring men to meet the Hon. John W. Willis, a man who has always proved himself a friend to labor, at the St. Louis hotel, Saturday evening, Oct. 20. ALFRED MC CALLUM, J. D. HAYES, JAMES McDOWELL.

HEAVY INCREASE SHOWN.
Duluth's Grain Has Not Fallen Off, as the Morning News Says.

Secretary Frank E. Wynne, of the board of trade said today: "I want to correct a false impression which may arise from an editorial in the News Tribune today. The editorial says: 'Even if Duluth's grain business has fallen off this season, as a natural consequence of small crops, there is plenty to offset the loss in the gains in ore and lumber shipments.' Now Duluth's grain has not fallen off this year but has on the contrary shown a flattering increase. There has been received since the beginning of the crop year, in round numbers, 11,553,000 bushels of wheat. Last year, the same time, the receipts were 9,844,000, giving an increase of 15 or 20 per cent.

"Barley and flax show enormous increases. Never in any entire crop year in the history of the board has so much barley been received as during the six weeks of the present crop movement. The same is true of flax. The receipts of barley so far this year are about 75 per cent in excess of the total receipts for the entire crop year, preceding. Flax, too, shows an increase of from 10 to 50 per cent for the six weeks of this year as compared with the whole of the last year. I think this shows a handsome increase rather than a falling off."

WORK OF THE TROOPS

Gen. Merritt Tells of the Movements of the Regulars in the Department of Dakota.

What They Did in Regard to the Coxeyites and the Northern Pacific Railway Strike.

In No Instance Did the People Included in the Montana Outbreak Resist the Military.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—In his annual report just published Brig. Gen. Merritt, commanding the department of Dakota, says that the movements of the troops in his department during the last summer were occasioned by two remarkable outbreaks which have been necessary to control by the use of the army. In April there was the organization and movement of the so-called army of the Commonweal or Coxeyites; the other the strike commencing in June on the Northern Pacific railroad, precipitated in sympathy with the strike at Pullman, Ill.

"The first of these developed to the greatest extent in the farther Northwestern portion of the department, in the state of Montana, being augmented and aggravated by causes like those which made the strike occurring subsequently of considerable proportions, and more or less difficult to control. The causes are a large floating, mining and at times unemployed population, which being more or less free from the restraint of law, is always ready to join any movement in which viciousness and lawlessness are found. Another cause is an affected sympathy extended to the lawless by both high and low in office who depend on the suffrage of the less law-abiding for their positions.

"This principle of dependence is apparent among all classes of the community. The merchant, the grocer, the tradesman and all who live by the patronage of others are constrained to openly express sympathy with the violent and in many cases with the lawless, because of the principle of boycotting which has been reduced to a science in this newly and meagerly populated state. While many in these communities of the classes of which I speak, privately condemn lawlessness, the fear that their means of procuring a livelihood will be taken from them by the boycott, places them, so far as their public expressions of opinion go, among the worst element.

cumstances that lawlessness was in the ascendant in Montana during both of the abnormal outbreaks referred to. It is perhaps only necessary to add that while resistance was made to civil authorities, in no instance did the people included in this outbreak resist the military when it appeared on the scene of the disturbance. The troops were used with complete discretion by the officers in command and the law was enforced without violence.

In treating of the great strike which stopped every wheel on the Northern Pacific railroad and inflicted great loss and untold inconvenience upon the public, Gen. Merritt says:

"It is difficult to conceive a worse state of affairs than existed on this road. There was no mail communication with any point west of Fargo. The posts situated on this road could hold no communications with department headquarters save by telegraph. If the blockade had been continued communities living and troops stationed at different points on the road were in danger of starvation resulting from the stoppage of supply trains.

Gen. Merritt tells in detail how he disposed his forces to meet the emergency and open up communication and says:

"It is especially gratifying to note that all these movements, which involved, in many instances, considerable marching under the least pleasant conditions, were performed promptly and in the most creditable manner. The dispatch with which the troops moved, without being cautioned to that effect, the celerity with which they reached their destinations and the clearness with which orders were understood, and reports were made reflect credit on the soldierly instincts of the responsible officers at the posts and in the field.

"I have no doubt that if ample measures had not been taken in time to prevent it, a great destruction of railroad property, even to the effectment of the road for a considerable length of time, would have been wrought by the lawless element whose character has been hinted at in the foregoing.

In conclusion Gen. Merritt returns his thanks to the officers of his staff, and to Cols. Wayne and Burt especially, for their excellent management of the theater of operations in their care. In connection with the labor troubles he also calls attention to the necessity of a system of tactics for machine guns.

Stabbed Through the Heart.
VICTORIA, Mex., Oct. 19.—There is much excitement here over the assassination of Andres Salazar, the son of a prominent merchant of this city, by Gregorio Porras, a well known young man. The deed was committed with a bullet. Salazar was stabbed through the heart. Porras was jealous of Salazar's attentions to a notorious woman.

FOR FALSE IMPRISONMENT.

A Jersey City Marshal Has Gotten Into a Peck of Trouble.

FREEHOLD, N. J., Oct. 19.—The grand jury which has just closed its labors, brought in a bill against Capt. "Katie" Graham, marshal of Jersey City for assault and false imprisonment. The complaint was Charles E. Bell, treasurer of the Hillsboro Manufacturing company, of Hillsboro, Ohio, who, while on a visit to Asbury Park, in August, was arrested and imprisoned under the direction of Marshal Graham charged with pocket-picking.

Graham ordered Rodgers, a police officer, to make the arrest, declaring that he knew Bell to be a well known criminal. When the case came before Squire Borden, of Asbury Park, for a hearing, Graham left town after assuring the justice that he could substantiate his charges. Bell became indignant and threatened to return from Ohio and appear before the grand jury against Graham.

SEARCHING FOR HIS CHILD.

A Buffalo Man Seeking His Daughter, Who is Heirless to a Fortune.

BUFFALO, Oct. 16.—Charles Chequette, formerly of Chicago, has asked the police of this city to help him find his daughter, Mrs. Isaac Stibbing. Chequette said he and his wife lived in Buffalo forty years ago. They finally moved to Chicago. There a child was born thirty-three years ago. She was named Clara. Chequette and his wife quarrelled twenty years ago and separated. His wife embarked in business. She made money rapidly.

Her daughter nine years ago was married to Isaac Stibbing, the advance agent for a circus. They left Chicago and came to Buffalo to live. The girl's mother died a few weeks ago in Chicago. When her will was opened, it was found that she had bequeathed all of her fortune to her husband and her child. The police believe they will be able to restore the missing woman to her father.

THE BRAZILIAN REBELS.

A Number of Officers Drink to the Success of the Revolution.

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Oct. 19.—Admiral Saldaña da Gama banqueted a number of Brazilian officers last night. All drank to the success of the revolutionary cause and pledged themselves to take an active part if the Brazilian committee here decided to continue the struggle after the inauguration of Dr. Moraes as president.

Sympathizers with the Brazilian revolution are jubilant over the recent victories in Rio Grande do Sul. Gen. Saraiva is now pushing northward with a considerable body of men intending to attack the government forces in Mato Grosso. Sixteen officers have left here to join the revolutions.

A STEAMER SEARCHED

Norwegian Steamer Was Overhauled by a Japanese Warship and Searched for Contraband of War.

The Chinese Fleet Undergoing Repairs at Port Arthur Ordered to Leave That Port Yesterday.

Bill in the Japanese Diet to Authorize Loans for the Expenses of the War.

TIEN TSIN, Oct. 19.—The Norwegian steamer Peik, from Shanghai, was recently overhauled and searched by a Japanese warship off the Shan Tung promontory. Nothing which could be classed as contraband of war was found on board the Peik. The captain of the Norwegian steamer reports that he sighted a fleet of Japanese warships 30 miles off Taku.

The Chinese fleet which has been undergoing repairs at Port Arthur, as a result of the naval engagement fought off the mouth of the Yalu river last month, was ordered to leave that port yesterday, Oct. 18.

The Japanese are expected to cross the Yalu river at a point 30 miles north of Chienyang Chang, where the Chinese army headquarters is situated. Gen. Sing is in command of the Chinese forces at that place.

THE JAPANESE PARLIAMENT.
The President of the Diet Says China is Civilization's Enemy.

HIROSHIMA, Japan, Oct. 19.—The bills introduced in the diet at the extraordinary session of parliament convened by the mikado include, first, a bill calling for a special accountability of the extraordinary war expenses; secondly, a bill empowering the government to borrow money in order to defray the expenses of the war, the maximum amount being placed at 100,000,000 yen, and thirdly, an extraordinary budget providing for the expenditure for war of a total of 150,000,000 yen, of which sum 26,000,000 yen will be defrayed by the surplus. The rest will be provided for by the war loan.

The president of the diet, M. Kusumoto, replying to the speech of the mikado (which was exclusively cabled to the Associated Press) thanked his majesty for advancing with the imperial standard and for personally taking charge of the war, saying victories were the natural results of this action. M. Kusumoto added: "Your majesty might have considered that China was the enemy of civilization and they obey the imperial desire to destroy its barbarous obstinacy."

WAS IT MURDER OR SUICIDE?
Body of a Noted Engineer Washed Ashore in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 19.—A body washed ashore at San Diego has since been identified as that of J. B. Streidinger, an engineer of national reputation, who had been living in San Francisco for the last few years. Now his friends are exerting themselves to find out whether his death was the result of murder, accident or suicide. Mr. Streidinger was of a cheerful disposition. He was not financially embarrassed and did not drink to excess.

Later he was chief engineer of the intention of going to Arizona to look after some mining interests there, and has not been heard from since. Mr. Streidinger was a notable character. He filled many responsible positions and has been in all parts of the world. When the government cleared out New York harbor, chief engineer U. S. A., and was the engineer supervising the blowing up of Hell Gate.

Magdalena Improvement company in the United States of Colombia and was profitably employed in many other South American countries. He spent the last few years in California, where he was recognized as an authority on matters relating to mining engineering, and had charge of such work as building dams for the impounding debris from the hydraulic mines.

He was a member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, the Technical Society of the Pacific Coast and the California Association of Civil Engineers.

HAS A TINGE OF ROMANCE.
A Couple Married in Cleveland After Twenty Years Separation.

CLEVELAND, Oct. 19.—A wedding with a tinge of romance surrounding it took place here today. The contracting parties were Robert Verch, of Los Angeles, Cal., and Miss Mary Meyer, daughter of Dr. William Meyer, of No. 1124 Case avenue, this city.

Nearly twenty years ago Mr. Verch sought the hand of Miss Meyer. He then lived in Cleveland and was a telegraph operator in the employ of the Big Four railroad. Because of the opposition of her parents Miss Meyer declined the offer and her lover went West. He engaged in the real estate business and accumulated a large fortune. A few months ago he renewed his offer, which was accepted.

Accutled of Spoiling.
DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 19.—The jury in the case of School Inspector Joseph A. Walsh, on trial on the charge of having accepted a bribe, brought in a verdict of not guilty this morning.

FREE PASSES ABOLISHED.
Western and Southwestern Railroads Will Issue no More Passes.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 19.—The agreement reached by the board of the Western and Southwestern railroads, regarding the restriction of free transportation for the year 1895, covers the territory within the jurisdiction of the Western Freight association and the Western trunk line committee and probably before it becomes effective the Utah and all the Texas southwestern lines will co-operate, so that all roads west and southwest of the Mississippi will be united in a strong effort to cut down the pass lists for the coming year. The Southern Pacific is also a party to the agreement.

In general, the policy will be to decline to issue annual or time passes to agents or conductors of connecting lines or members of their families (except upon request of the president, vice president, general manager or general superintendent of lines parties to the agreement), to representatives of foreign cable lines, representatives of foreign lines, coal sales agents, coal agents or other commercial representatives or refrigerator, tank and all other private car lines now owned or controlled by the lines subject to the agreement.

Business men or shippers, or those in a position to influence business, shall not be furnished with free transportation as bondsmen or directors in local or auxiliary companies, nor shall shippers of any kind be placed on the payrolls for the purpose of furnishing transportation. The agreement will be effective Jan. 1, 1895.

Forged a Ticket.
FORT WORTH, Tex., Oct. 19.—The jury in the district court today found H. S. Robinson, a railway ticket broker, guilty of forging the destination on a round-trip ticket over the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe. It has fixed the punishment at two years in prison.

Water-Works Combine.
DENVER, Oct. 19.—Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state for a new water company in Denver. The new corporation which absorbs both Citizens and the American Water Works company will be known as the Denver Union Water-works company, capitalized at $7,500,000. The incorporators are Walter Scheesman, David H. Moffatt, George W. Clayton and others.

WAS GRANTED A DIVORCE.
Dr. Schiffman, a St. Paul Dentist, Has Secured a Divorce in California.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 19.—Dr. A. F. Schiffman has been granted a divorce from his wife, Katharine S. Schiffman, and the custody of his two children. The parties to the suit are well known not only in Los Angeles but throughout the Northwest.

The wife is the daughter of A. B. Stuckney, of St. Paul, president of the Chicago Great Western road and one of the wealthiest men in Minnesota. Dr. Schiffman was one of the leading dentists of St. Paul and was prominent as an amateur oarsman; being a member of the famous St. Paul Boat club for a number of years.

CONVICTED OF FORGERY.
A Maine Man Forged Another's Name to Get a Marriage License.

PARIS, Me., Oct. 19.—Melvine B. Morey has been convicted of forgery but sentence has been suspended during good behavior. His fraudulent marriage was annulled. Wishing to marry Anna M. Cross, a 15-year-old girl, Morey applied for a marriage license. The clerk refused to grant one without the consent of Miss Cross' father and prepared a paper for Mr. Cross to sign.

Morey soon returned with what purported to be Mr. Cross' signature, obtained the license and married the girl. He took his child wife to a log cabin which had been used and deserted by woodchoppers in the forest at Stoneham. There they passed their honeymoon.

IS NEARING THE END

Report That the Condition of the Czar Is Hopeless and That Death Is Near.

Change for the Worse Takes Place Since Yesterday and the Imperial Family Is Alarmed.

Rumor That an Imperial Edict Will Be Issued on Monday Next Proclaiming a Regency.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 19.—There seems to be no longer any reasonable doubt that the czar is rapidly approaching his end. A dispatch received here from Livadia today announces that the condition of the czar has changed for the worse since yesterday, and the imperial family is described as being alarmed at the present condition of the sick man.

A special dispatch received subsequently from Livadia said that the czar last evening suffered from a sudden spasm of the heart which compelled him to lie down. His condition became so critical that his confessor, Father Yanichew, was hastily summoned. It is reported here this afternoon that an imperial edict will be published on Monday next, entrusting the regency to the czar's son, Grand Duke Nicholas, and minister of the imperial house, K. P. Pobiedonostzeff, the procurator general of the holy synod. Actual Privy Councillor Witte, minister of finance, Actual Privy Councillor Durnovo, minister of the interior, and Gen. Vannovski, the minister of war.

His Condition Hopeless.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—A dispatch to the Globe from Paris this afternoon says that private advices received at the French capital indicate that the condition of the czar is hopeless and that the end is near. This news has caused the most profound sensation everywhere.

The news is causing deep concern in political circles here. All the newspapers express the hope that the czar will recover, allude to his official marks of friendship for France and express the belief that his policy will not be changed by his successor.

La Lanterne asserts that Grand Duke Vladimir, the eldest brother of the czar, in an interview with President Casimir-Perier previous to the grand duke's departure from this city, declared that Russia's friendly policy toward France would not be changed. A special service at which prayers were offered for the recovery of the czar was held this morning at the Russian church in the Rue Daru. The president and M. Hanotaux, the foreign minister, were represented at this service. The archbishop of Paris, Cardinal Richard, also held a special service to pray for the czar at the cathedral of Notre Dame this morning. The Russian embassy announced for the first time today that it was in receipt of telegrams which confirm the Associated Press dispatches telling of the gravity of the czar's condition.

Professor Mershwski, the distinguished specialist in nervous diseases has been summoned to Livadia in order to take part in the treatment of the czar.

THE MACCABEES.

Complimentary Entertainment to Be Given Tonight at the Temple.

Tonight at the Temple the Knights of the Maccabees will give an entertainment which is free to everyone. These entertainments are a feature of the work of the Maccabees. D. P. Markey, supreme commander, will be present and will deliver an address. The Toledo, O., Blade said of him: "Mr. Markey is a young, and is a fine specimen of physical manhood. His address was an exposition of the business working of the order. The Maccabees believe in the great value of a home. They recognize in it the strength of the republic. They seek to protect it. They are banded together in a great fraternal order and co-operate for the good of all. They extend the hand of fellowship to all other fraternal benefit societies, and no good Maccabee will ever utter a word of disparagement of other organizations, which with the Maccabees have a common purpose—then explained the life benefits feature of the order, how prompt and reliable it is and so cheap that it is almost a crime for a man to withhold this protection from his family."

Miss Bina M. West, supreme record keeper of the Ladies of the Maccabees will also be present and speak. The "Miss Bina West was sent fittingly introduced, and in a graceful, interesting manner presented the features of the L. O. T. M. to her listeners. The lady is an easy speaker, with a grace of manner which wins on her hearers, and her talk last night was interspersed with anecdote and story which gave point to her argument."

The Arion quartet will assist in the Master of ceremonies. L. N. Chellow March—Manhattan Beach. Orchestra. Selection—Mason. Rev. Dr. Forbes. Address of welcome—Rev. Robert Forbes. Selection—Tabernacle. Orchestra. Address—Ladies of the Maccabees. Selection—Miss Bina M. West, Supreme R. K. Address—Knights of the Maccabees. Song—Hon. D. P. Markey, Supreme Commander. TALES OF THE TOWN.

Reminiscence of the Red River Congress of the Early Days.

S. G. Comstock, who spoke here a couple of nights ago received his first knowledge of parliamentary rules and usages from the sessions of the somewhat famous Red River congress which held its sessions in the Methodist church at Moorhead in the early 70's. Moorhead was very dull in the winter seasons then; the Red river was frozen clear down to the bottom; there were about three freight trains a week and a bob tail passenger train daily. Something had to be done to drive away ennui and J. H. Sharp, Frank De Mers, W. B. Nichols, Capt. Stowell and S. G. Comstock originated the congress already referred to. The old St. Paul Pioneer used to report the proceedings in full in its weekly issue and the meetings created more enthusiasm than any of the few shows which occasionally visited that country.

Everything was conducted according to strict parliamentary usage, similar to the order of procedure being used in the sessions of the House of Representatives. Of course the bills introduced were ludicrous in the extreme, but they were debated pro and con with the utmost gravity and therein lay all the fun. The writer well remembers two of the measures and their titles introduced by Mr. Comstock. One was to "grant certain lands and privileges to the Moorhead & Barnesville Air line, lever line, broad gauge railroad." Barnesville at that time consisted of a claim shanty and a little grain warehouse, but there is now a line of railroad running over the identical sections of land, the Great Northern, mentioned in the bill.

Another measure was entitled "A bill to ameliorate the condition of the blacks in Central Africa, and to provide them with two red flannel shirts." An amendment was introduced to give each native a package of soap in addition, but that was defeated after a long discussion in which a clergyman, who was afterwards drowned, took an active part in opposition. The bill was passed without the amendment but the blacks are still without their flannel shirts.

Chief Black, who is one of the veteran fire fighters of the country, is full of good yarns about his and the others' experiences in combating the fire and he knows how to tell them without an effort and in a style imitable. He told a good one the other day about the two dog mascots that belonged to the Milwaukee fire department while he was chief.

There was a dog which loomed up one day at Milwaukee house No. 1, and staid there ever afterward, covering a period of several years. The firemen never fed him, but that didn't cut any figure. Every day from 7 to 8 a. m., 12 to 1 p. m., and 6 to 7 p. m. the dog was absent, but an alarm was turned in the dog would be at the fire as soon as the apparatus. No one ever knew where he got his meals, but he was as regular as clockwork in going after them. The firemen grew to recognize the dog as a regular member of the department and their four-footed companion was the means of saving several of their lives in return for the recognition.

THOSE TEARS.

He Explained to the Gateman What the Matter Was With Him.

The gateman at one of the passenger depots in Detroit was approached the other afternoon by a tall and weary looking man with beer stains on his vest and the strings of his sunset shoes untied, and when he had come quite near he asked: "Any train Lansing yet?"

"No train from Lansing for over three hours yet," was the reply.

"Which manner viz Lansing train?" thickly queried the caller as he leaned heavily against the fence.

"Nothing the matter. Are you expecting friends?"

"Yes, dearest friend in all this wide world. I'm expectin' my wife and when I think of the dear old soul I want! Shee these tears?"

"I do. Is your wife sick?"

"No, wife ain't sick. Dear old soul! How could I let 'er go away and shay shay weeks!"

"Oh! Then she's been off on a vacation?"

"That's it—been off on vacation. I wanted her to go. I teased her to go. I had to fairly drive her off. I couldn't hardly wait for her to go."

"I tumble!" chuckled the gateman.

"Yes, you tumble. I wanted to run out nights, you know. Wanted to have fun wizzar boys. Wanted to drink all 'er beer I could hold and go home and klick 'er door in and sleep all day. Shay!"

"Well?"

"I couldn't wait in this depot ten minutes for her to go out, and now I'm going to wait over three hours for her to come in. Bless her dear old heart, but how I do want to see her! Shee these tears!"

"Yes, I observe a pretty steady flow of tears. Did you carry out your program?"

"No. Didn't have no fun wizzar boys. Boys didn't want me 'long. Didn't sit in 'er park. Got drunk once and klicked 'er door. Tried to klick in door, and fellor klicked me. Wrong door, you see. No, didn't have no fun. Jess wanted to see 'er dear old wife all 'er time. Shee how I look!"

"You do look pretty seedy, my friend."

"Yes, look pretty seedy and feel pretty seedy. Was goin' to jump in 'er river, but dear old wife she'd come home. I'm hungry and tired and sleepy and played out. No good times—no fun. Shay!"

"Yes."

"If you shee reporter round here, tell him to put it in his paper that 'er man who lies to his wife and gets her off to Lansing to see her sister makes mistake no fun wizzar boys."

"Ing lonesome for her dear old soul and writin' in 'er to cum back. Over three hours wait! Sheeems like over three years! The Shay, young man, will you do me a favor?"

"Will?"

"I'll go over after glass 'o beer. If I don't cum back 'fore that train gets in, I want you to look out for my wife. She's a fat woman with red hair. Embrace her for me. Embrace her and shay."

"Sit down and wait for your dear husband, who loves you better'n life, and who sorry you went and won't never do it again, and he hain't had no fun wizzar boys, not one fun."—Detroit Free Press.

THEY OWN BALTIMORE

Nothing Is Too Good for the Orioles Since They Won the National League Pennant.

Caylor Expresses the Opinion That There Will Be No Baseball War During Next Season.

One More Added to the Famous Chain of Victories of the Cincinnati Red Stockings.

The baseball season of the National league has closed with the remarkably exciting series for the Temple cup between the Baltimore champions and the New Yorks, though up to the very last five minutes it looked as if the series would not be played at all. Four or five players on the Baltimore team, led on by the advice of friends who control them, refused to abide by the rules laid down by the league to govern these games. This minority held out so long against the desires of Manager Hanlon, Captain Robinson and the majority of the champions that the result was almost an unsportsmanlike blank on the part of the winners of the pennant.

The two teams met for their first game in Baltimore on Oct. 4, and until both sides were lined up before 12,000 spectators that afternoon the Baltimore minor-

JAPS REPULSED

A Severe Battle Has Been Fought on the Lower Portions of the Yalu River.

The Japanese Crossed the River and Attacked the Chinese Forces But They Were Repulsed.

Fierce Fighting Reported to Have Occurred and Both Sides Said to Have Lost Heavily.

A Graphic Description of the Naval Battle at the Mouth of the Yalu River.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A dispatch received here from Shanghai today says that, according to Chinese advices, a severe battle has been fought on the lower portion of the Yalu river. The Japanese are said to have crossed the river and to have attacked the Chinese, but, it is reported, after fierce fighting, the Japanese were repulsed. Both sides are said to have lost heavily. The Chinese do not claim a conclusive victory but they declare that they still maintain their position. No confirmation of this dispatch is obtainable, but it is thought probable that fighting has actually occurred.

THE YALU NAVAL FIGHT.

It Was a Hot Engagement and Heavy Damage Inflicted.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—The following special correspondence of the Associated Press, per steamer China and Australia, is from Yokohama under date of Sept. 30: Long before the rejoicings over the capture of Phonyang had begun to subside, Japan was excited by fresh enthusiasm by the news of another victory of even greater significance in the northeastern inlet of the Yalu river. On Sept. 16 Admiral Ito, commanding the squadron stationed at the mouth of the Yalu river, in charge of transports conveying reinforcements to the army on the frontier. He set sail the following morning, with the men of war that could be immediately summoned, viz: the Matsushima, Haguro, Hashidate, Itatsushima, Yoshino, Takachio, Akitsushima, Nanami, Chiyoda, Fuso, Akagi and Hiyei. Accompanying these eleven vessels, a merchant steamer taken into the national service since the war began, of no strength and not intended for heavy work in action. She would not have joined the expedition but for the desire of Admiral Viscount Katsurama, the naval chief of the staff, to being on the spot of inspection at the north, could not resist the temptation to witness the expected engagement.

Between 12 and 1 o'clock fourteen Chinese ships and six torpedo boats were discovered a little south of a harbor, the east of Kiao-tung island. The ships were the Ting Yuen, flag ship; Chen Yuen, Lai Yuen, King Yuen, Ching Yuen, Chi Yuen, Pig Yuen, Chao Yuen, Yang Wei, Kwang Kai, Wei Yuen, Kwang Ping and two others whose names are still unknown. Of these the first two carried Krupp guns of 30 centimetre and 15 centimetre. The next four carried 21 centimetre and 15 centimetre Krupp guns and the next two had 25-ton Armstrongs.

Contrary to expectation they advanced unhesitatingly and commenced firing when 400 metres distant from the Japanese. The Japanese opened fire with their 210-metre guns and a few minutes later another 1000 metres had been covered. The serious fighting began between the vessels at the Chinese right and the Japanese left, the flagships of the other side leading the onslaught. By 1 o'clock the contest was general. Both lines maintained their position steadily for an hour, when the Chinese showed signs of wavering.

Three of their ships, either by accident or design, had for some time been made special objects of attack, and although they contended vigorously to the last, they were sunk, one after another, the crews climbing into the rigging and signalling wildly for help to their companions and assailants. These were the Lai Yuen, Chi Yuen and Chao Yuen. As soon as they were disposed of, the foremost Japanese ship directed their assault against the immense German built vessel, at the head of the Chinese column, for a long time without effect on the heavy steel plates which protected them.

At last, however, a lucky shell struck the Ting Yuen a little above the water, and seemed to the Japanese observers to pierce the armor through and through. Their belief that this fact had been accomplished was increased when a thick body of smoke was seen rising from the flag ship, and although no diminution of activity about the vessel was perceptible, they were convinced that she had been set on fire and remained burning up to the hour of her hasty departure. Whatever her condition was, she succeeded in inflicting heavy punishment upon her chief adversary.

The Matsushima was struck by the two 12-inch shells, the first of which set and battered out of shape one of her guns, while the second exploded an ammunition box, dealing dreadful havoc among the crew, and setting a fire which was subsequently, with great difficulty, put out. In consequence of these mishaps, the Matsushima withdrew from the scene and moved toward Taioang. Admiral Ito transferring his flag to the Hashidate. Meanwhile three other Japanese vessels had undergone extremely rough treatment.

The Saiko, which Viscount Katsurama persisted in keeping in the thickest of the fight, notwithstanding her obvious unsuitability for such duty, lost control of her rudder and found herself in much closer proximity than was desirable to the Ting Yuen and Chen Yuen. As she could not avoid them, she made directly for them, it is supposed in the belief that she was about to ram them. The Japanese of the opinion that it was a case of life or death, she made directly for them, it is supposed in the belief that she was about to ram them. The Japanese of the opinion that it was a case of life or death, she made directly for them, it is supposed in the belief that she was about to ram them.

The Hiyei, having been unable, by reason of her slowness, to keep pace with the rest of the fleet, became a conspicuous object to the Chinese and was so deluged with missiles that she was set on fire before the afternoon was half over. Her small crew was greatly reduced and as the surgeon was among the wounded the sufferers could not be properly cared for. When she had lost twenty killed and three wounded, she fell out of line and returned toward Taioang. But meeting a transport on her way, she obtained assistance in quenching the flames, and handed over the wounded and returned with all the speed she could make, not waiting for a doctor, to take up her work where she had left off.

In this hope she was disappointed, for the enemy had flown and the battle was over. It is reported that when she steamed away in flames she was thrice in great danger from torpedoes, but skillfully escaped by emptying a device described in a recent magazine account of an imaginary fight in South America. To most readers of that sketch, the expediency of stopping a projectile by the turning upon it a converging fire of shot and shell seemed purely fiction, yet this is precisely what the Hiyei is said to have done at least on one instance. The Akagi, a small gunboat, was badly overhauled from the outset, accident having brought her under the fire of not less than six of the enemy's boats. Her commander was struck down and killed while she was thus hotly engaged, yet she would still have kept up a determined resistance but for the loss of a mast which rendered her unmanageable. She also found it necessary to return to Taioang.

About the time when Admiral Ito left the Matsushima, the disorder in the Chinese fleet plainly indicated that the contest would be prolonged on either side. Three ships had been sunk, and a fourth, the Yang Wei, had been half destroyed and abandoned. Besides, the Ting Yuen was on fire, and the entire fleet was thoroughly demoralized. A little later, after 5 o'clock, the flag ship took the lead in retreat toward the home waters, and the rest of the fleet followed. The Japanese were determined to follow, and the torpedoes had to be reckoned with, and the Chinese were determined to follow, and the torpedoes had to be reckoned with, and the Chinese were determined to follow, and the torpedoes had to be reckoned with.

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT.

Claims of Republican and Democratic Congressional Committees.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The work of the Democratic and Republican congressional headquarters, so far as the promulgation of literature is concerned, is practically closed this week. Millions of documents have been sent out from the headquarters but the managers now consider that the time for literary proselyting is past.

GEN. BROOKE'S REPORT.

The Indians in the Department of the Platte Escaped.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The annual report of Brig. Gen. John R. Brooke, commanding the department of the Platte, made public today, says the Indians throughout the department have been quiet and peaceable. Gen. Brooke adds: "During May and a part of June the operation of the Union Pacific railroad now under control of the United States courts was interrupted by the action of certain irresponsible parties calling themselves industrial armies. And during the months of July and August the continental roads and branches were seriously interfered with by the strikers. In both cases the United States troops were successfully used to restore order and open the roads to traffic. This will form the subject of a special report."

MEDALS FOR BRAVERY.

Can Only Be Given for Deeds on the High Seas.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The attorney general has rendered an opinion in which he holds that under Section 12 of the act of June 18, 1878, the secretary of the treasury is not authorized to confer medals for signal exertions in saving persons from drowning in small inland streams, ponds, pools, etc.

The waters contemplated in the act are held to be either the high seas or seas or waters belonging to the United States or over which it has jurisdiction by virtue of its authority to regulate interstate commerce.

Need Not Contribute.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—A circular issued by Civil Service Commissioner Roosevelt has been posted in the custom house and postoffice here. The circular states that government employees that they are under no obligation to make subscriptions for campaign purposes and they cannot be molested for refusing to make such subscriptions.

Cigarette Girls Strike.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 20.—The strike of girls in cigarette factories over the introduction of cigarette machines is spreading. A thousand employees are out.

LEGACY OF HATE

Friends of Ermisch and Wonikeit, Hanged in St. Paul Yesterday, Swore Vengeance on Two Pals.

It Was Through Information Which They Gave the Police Obtained Clues to the Murderers.

Arthur Osborn, Who Was Indicted for Fraudulent Timber Land Entries, Arraigned at Ashland Today.

Minnesota Christian Endeavors Will Hold Their Annual Convention in Duluth Next Year.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—Although Ermisch and Wonikeit are dead they have left a legacy of hatred behind them and it has already begun to bear fruit. It was through two of their associates, Phil Capistrano and Will Becker, that the police obtained the first profitable clues to the murderers, and when they were placed in the sweatbox by the local police the information wormed from them was such as enabled the officers to round up both men.

It may be imagined that the roles they played were not satisfactory to the friends of the two boys. There is "honor among thieves," and the members of the gang were incensed at Capistrano and Becker. This feeling grew into intensity and threats were freely heard that if the worst came to the worst they would be repaid for "peaching." Since the conviction and sentence this feeling has been treble bitter and Capistrano particularly has felt the force of the feeling against them.

The two young men live in the Orient street district, which is infested by the toughest of the tough, and which breed the two murderers, and Capistrano and Becker went away for a while. When he returned, recently, he went to a dance and was going up a dark stairway several of the gang knocked him down and kicked him in the most brutal and cowardly manner.

Since that time his life has been in jeopardy at all times, the members of the gang threatening to kill him should the two boys hang, so that he has been compelled to keep close to the house after dark. On the day before the execution Capistrano bade his mother farewell and told her that he was going away, and that he did not dare to remain in St. Paul any longer. He went away and since that time his parents have not seen him.

It is reported his disappearance to the police, and Mrs. Capistrano is afraid that he has been foully dealt with, but the police are of the opinion that as soon as Phil is located, he will let the old folks know of his whereabouts.

ARRAIGNED FOR FRAUD.

The Fraudulent Timber Land Cases in the Ashland District.

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 20.—The first one of suspects indicted by the federal grand jury for alleged fraudulent entries of timber lands in the Ashland district, Arthur R. Osborn, of Ashland, was arraigned before Judge Bunn today. Osborn pleaded not guilty and was put under $10,000 bond to appear in court on Nov. 2, 1894. The cases were brought up for trial at the December term of court. C. A. Lamoreaux, of Ashland, a nephew of the commissioner of the general land office, defends Osborn.

There are thirty-five indictments, some including other parties not yet under arrest. The indictment contains two counts, the first charging a conspiracy to defraud the United States of its public lands; second, a conspiracy to commit perjury in taking necessary affidavits in the land office. It is charged that Broderick acted as agent for the others in making a pretended settlement and proof of homestead entry for his own benefit, but in reality for speculation to benefit Heydlauf, McCord, Osborn and Box.

Broderick entered the lands, which are in Bayfield county, at the Ashland office in Bayfield county, on Nov. 2, 1891. The cases were brought up for trial at the December term of court. C. A. Lamoreaux, of Ashland, a nephew of the commissioner of the general land office, defends Osborn.

Arrested for Adultery.

JAMESTOWN, N. D., Oct. 20.—S. A. Hendricks, formerly a policeman of St. Paul and the past two months a freeman for the Northern Pacific in this city, was arrested yesterday charged with adultery. Hendricks is said to have abandoned his wife and children at St. Paul in August last and is charged with having married Mrs. Nellie D. Dutton, of Chippewa Falls, Wis., and brought her to this city, where they have been living as man and wife. Wife No. 1 came from St. Paul Thursday and Hendricks and Wife No. 2 were arrested. Hendricks is in jail awaiting trial.

A Tough Citizen.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—O. B. Quail was sent up for ninety days for having assaulted one Kennedy, a barber, in a saloon on East Seventh street. Quail was allowed to go only last week when he was arrested on a charge of having robbed a woman, and this, with his record, was before Judge Orr when he sent him up for the assault. Quail served years ago shot and killed Shang Foster at Minot, N. D.

Shortage at Oshkosh.

MINNEAPOLIS, Oct. 20.—A special to the Tribune from Oshkosh, Wis., says: Expert accountants have found a shortage of $1,000 on the part of ex-City Treasurer Jarvis, of Menasha, this county, and that the city books are in a muddled state. His bondsmen will be called upon to make good the deficiency and criminal proceedings may be begun.

Made an Assignment.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—A St. Cloud, Minn., special to the Dispatch says: A. T. Peller, who reported to the police Thursday that he had been robbed of $2300, last night made an assignment for the benefit of his creditors to John M. Rosengruber. Liabilities are thought to be heavy.

Streeter Indicted Again.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—A special to the Dispatch from Minneapolis says: W. S. Streeter was arraigned this morning on another indictment for the larceny of $279,327.77 funds of the Northwestern Guaranty Loan company, Dec. 22, 1892. He was given until next Wednesday morning at 10 a. m. to plead.

Killed While Hunting.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis., Oct. 20.—Arthur Hanson, aged 22, went hunting yesterday afternoon with another young man. While Hanson was drawing his gun, a boat it went off and the charge went through his lungs, killing him almost instantly. Deceased was the son of a prominent merchant.

A Brakeman Mangled.

WADENIA, Minn., Oct. 10.—William Lohalle, brakeman, of Staples, Minn., was horribly mangled here yesterday by being thrown from the top of the train in the Northern Pacific yards by the train breaking apart. Several cars passed over him and his recovery is doubtful.

Of Course It Went Off.

REDWOOD FALLS, Minn., Oct. 20.—Adolph Ott playfully pointed a pistol at Mary Schultz, aged 16, living on a farm 6 miles west of town. The pistol was discharged, wounding Miss Schultz in the face. Her injury is not serious.

Everything Satisfactory.

CUMBERLAND, Wis., Oct. 20.—Maj. William Mahoney, of the state department, arrived here yesterday and officially wound up the business of the Cumberland relief committee. He examined and compared vouchers, bills, etc., with the books, and found everything correct.

Will Meet in Duluth.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—A Winona special to the Dispatch says: The state Christian Endeavors decided to meet next year at Duluth. The convention's sessions have been marked with much enthusiasm.

Died from His Injuries.

ST. PAUL, Oct. 20.—A Waseca special to the Dispatch says: Gilbert Wold, who fell from the 60-foot windmill tower on the Wold farm yesterday, died during the night from his internal injuries.

Elevator Burned.

WINNEPEG, Oct. 20.—The Northern Elevator company's elevator at Portage la Prairie, on the Northern Pacific, was destroyed last night, together with 20,000 bushels of wheat. The loss is $25,000.

THE CZAR'S DEATH NEAR.

He Has Had a Series of Convulsive Attacks During the Last Forty-Eight Hours.

BERLIN, Oct. 20.—According to a dispatch from St. Petersburg, published by the National Zeitung this afternoon and according to special information from a medical authority now in Livadia, the czar, during the last forty-eight hours, has been with a series of convulsive attacks accompanied for several hours by temporary unconsciousness. It is added that his death cannot be long delayed.

It is stated on the best authority that the czar is very ill and that his son, Grand Duke George, is dying. It is stated also on the same authority that the czar, before his illness entered upon its final stages, had a solemn interview with the czar's wife, which he indicated to the latter the policy which he desired him to pursue after his death, and also insisted upon his marriage to Princess Alix, who was summoned to Livadia, in order to receive the dying blessing of the czar.

PETITION FOR DISBARMENT.

Oregon Bar Association Wants Three Attorneys Disbarred.

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 20.—The grievance committee of the state bar association has filed a petition in the supreme court for the disbarment of O. P. Mason, U. S. C. Marquand and C. C. Thompson, attorneys of this city. The committee charges that Mason was indicted by the grand jury for libel committed by publishing scandalous articles in the Sunday Mercury and also that he attempted to extort money from Maj. Gen. O. O. Howard. The charges against Marquand are that he fraudulently appropriated $600 while acting as receiver of the Kelso, Wash., Shingle Mill company. Thompson is charged with fraud and corruption and violation of the rules of common decency in formulating a plan to unlawfully prosecute a Chinese firm.

A Challenge to the World.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20.—Sam McLeod, the local champion catch-as-catch-can wrestler, is after the world's championship. He has defeated everyone who has gone against him on the Pacific coast and now challenges anybody in the world to meet him at this style of wrestling for from $5000 up.

Shot at by a Crank.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—A crank entered the Clinton Place bank in Astor place yesterday afternoon and demanded $1000 from Paying Teller Hind. The teller told the crank to wait and as Hind turned the crank fired a revolver at him and the bullet flew by Hind's head and buried itself in adjoining woodwork. The crank was seized and turned over to the police.

Receiver Appointed.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Read Benedict has been appointed receiver of the Mutual Benefit Life association of America. An examination of the affairs of the concern last August showed that there was then outstanding mortuary claims of $357,975. The funds of the company were $351,176.

Bede Filling a Political Engagement in Stearns County Today and Cannot Be Heard From.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—The attorney general has received a letter from J. Adam Bede, United States marshal of Minnesota, tendering his resignation on the ground that he cannot consistently comply with the president's letter of 1886, in regard to federal office holders taking part in political campaigns. His resignation has been accepted.

The news of Mr. Bede's resignation created a great sensation among Duluth Democrats, and among Republicans as well, because no one anticipated that he would give up such a fat position merely because the president will not allow officeholders to take part in the campaign. Bede is in Stearns county today, filling some political engagements, so that The Herald is unable to obtain his reasons for resigning at any fuller length than are contained in the above dispatch. When he was asked a few days ago what he intended to do, in view of the president's announcement that his order of 1886 in regard to federal officeholders was still in force, Marshal Bede said that he did not consider it would apply to him. He did not intimate then that he had any idea of resigning.

When a Herald reporter this afternoon announced Bede's resignation to T. T. Hudson, chairman of the Democratic congressional committee, he gasped in astonishment. It was evidently a complete surprise to him. He said he knew nothing about it, and until he heard from Mr. Bede he preferred not to talk about it.

John G. Brown and ex-Mayor d'Astremont are both out of the city, and the other prominent Democrats were so dazed by the news that they could hardly talk. It is the political sensation of the hour.

TURNED STATE'S EVIDENCE.

An Accessory to an Express Car Robbery in California.

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 20.—Charles Etzler has surrendered himself to Southern Pacific Detective Breckinridge in this city as accessory to the robbery of the express car at Roscoe, near Los Angeles, last spring. Assured of his liberty, Etzler has agreed to turn state's evidence against the two alleged criminals. One is a merchant in Los Angeles named Johnson, who had at the time of the robbery and still owns a small ranch at Tejuco, not far from Roscoe. The other is "Kid" Thompson, a criminal well known in Arizona, who served a short time in the territorial penitentiary for burglary.

Thompson is supposed to be yet near Phoenix, having been in the city three days ago. The search for him is being conducted with great secrecy, and several officers are now watching the farm of a man named Henderson, near this city, where the fugitive makes his headquarters.

RULING REGARDING PENSION.

Important Decision by the Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—Assistant Secretary of the Interior Reynolds has made a ruling that section 7101 revised statutes, limits the legal termination of service in any pension case to either one of only two possible dates; these are the date of actual discharge for any other cause than expiration of term of service, and the date of disbandment of the organization because of the expiration of term of service. It is held that a determination of the commencement of service by the war department from its records after full consideration of the law and the facts in any claim based upon service during or since the war of the rebellion, will be accepted by the interior department as final. This rule that pay is coincident with and determines the period of such service is vacated and set aside and the consequent decisions are overruled.

Hanged by a Mob.

UPPER MARYLAND, Md., Oct. 20.—Stephen Williams, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Hardesty Wednesday night and confessed, was taken from the county jail at 3 o'clock this morning and hanged.

May Leave Pekin.

LONDON, Oct. 20.—A dispatch from Shanghai announces that the Chinese court is seriously considering the advisability of removing from Pekin to Shing-shan, the ancient capital of China.

Uprising in Korea.

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 20.—Several natives of Chollada, Korea, have risen against the Japanese at that place. A force of Japanese has been dispatched to the scene of the trouble.

MACCABEES ENTERTAINMENT.

Addresses by Miss Blina M. West and D. P. Marley Last Evening.

The Temple was packed last night at the entertainment given by the Knights and Ladies of the Maccabees. Dr. Forbes made the invocation and the opening address and he welcomed the speakers in a graceful, well-turned speech. Miss Blina M. West, supreme record keeper of the Ladies of the Maccabees, made the first address.

She gave her subject, "Co-operation for the benefit of the poor." "It is a source of pride to me," she said, "that I should be before you tonight as the representative of a grand business organization as the Ladies of the Maccabees. In five years the order has grown until it has 1000 local branches and 150,000 members, notwithstanding the violent opposition of the Knights in the start, who doubted that women possessed the sufficient business tact to carry on a business of this kind. The success of the order demonstrates the business ability of the women."

She spoke at some length on the "woman question," and showed that there are no positions or states which women are not equally qualified to fill. "I wish to talk of an institution of her order and said: 'In our order we find a vitality, a strength, a stir ulus; we learn to think and to express our thoughts and we become familiar with parliamentary usages. We learn charity and the two universal principles of nature, brotherhood of God and the brotherhood of man.' She showed the benefits resulting from the life insurance part of the order and closed by inviting the women present to a meeting at Parsons' hall at 2:30 this afternoon, where she expected to explain the order more fully."

D. P. Marley, of Port Huron, supreme commander of the Knights of the Maccabees, and ex-speaker of the Michigan house of representatives, was the next speaker. "I wish to talk of an institution in which we are all interested, which distinguishes the republic of the West from all other nations—the American home. To you and me the subject has more interest than any other in the world, and it is of a matter of importance to the American home that I wish to speak to you tonight."

"Our order is not an old one. It was established in Michigan in 1881, and at close of that year had 700 members. Now it has 10,000 members. The object of the order is to unite fraternally all white males between 18 and 70 years of age and to provide benefits to those physically qualified between the ages of 18 and 55. Its object is to educate its members, socially, mentally, morally, to relieve the sick and bury the dead and to provide a sum of money in case of death or total disability. It is one of forty companies of the same nature, having an aggregate membership of 2,000,000 men and women. In a quarter of a century these orders have paid out $200,000,000 in life benefits."

He spoke of the duty of all men to provide for their families, not only during their lives, but after death, and to see that they are not left destitute, and said that these orders were for that purpose.

The Arion quartet was present and in good form. They gave several selections in a charming manner, notably the closing number, "Oft in the Silly Night." The orchestra also gave several numbers.

The French church fair in Central hall, Twelfth avenue west, closes this evening. All the contests come off and a lively time is expected. The most interesting will be the contest for the gold watch between the Misses Trudeau and Brouette.

Attention!

A meeting of all citizens opposed to the purchase of the Duluth Gas and Water company's plant will be held in the council chamber, city hall, on Saturday evening, Oct. 20, 1894, at 7 o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

There is no medicine so often needed in every home and so admirably adapted to the purposes for which it is intended, as Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Hardly a week passes but a member of the family has need of it. A toothache or headache may be cured by it. A touch of rheumatism or neuralgia, if treated before inflammation sets in, which insures a cure in about one-third of the time otherwise required. Cuts and bruises should receive immediate treatment before the parts become swollen, which can only be done when Pain Balm is kept at hand. A sore throat can be cured before it becomes serious. A troublesome corn may be removed by applying it twice a day for two or three days. A lame back may be cured and several days of valuable time saved or a pain in the side or chest relieved without paying a doctor bill. Procure a can of Chamberlain's Pain Balm at once and you will never regret it. For sale by all druggists.

IN BRACING OCTOBER.

Strength Should Return and Langour Go.

No Season is So Good For Building Up the Brain and Body.

Paine's Celery Compound's Work of Mercy in Countless Homes.

The prostrating heat of summer has long since gone. There is now but one excuse for languor and lack of energy—ill health.

With the return of bracing, vigorous weather the thoroughly well men and women find the prospect of work attractive. Business looks promising. The indolent, unambitious feeling of a few months ago gives place to energy and hard work.

That is, provided one is well. To the sick man or woman the prospect is doleful. The thousands of persons who worked right through the hot summer, and the many whose vacation, instead of recruiting their strength, has only made increased demands on their tired nerves and brain—these unhappy ones should take advantage of the bracing days and nights to store their bodies with pure, vigorous blood by their nervous system with energy before the cold weather overtakes them in their weak, "run down" condition.

Paine's celery compound should be taken during the month of October. It will build up the tired system wonderfully. Increased appetite and steady gain in weight during the month will show unmistakably the stimulating effect of this remarkable nerve food. To those who know anything of the working and the purpose of the nervous system it is evident that the prompt feeding of the nerves with Paine's celery compound must be followed by a decided gain in health and vigor of the entire system.

There is no organ of the body that is not controlled by the nerves.

It is the putting off of attention to the signs of heart weakness that fills the statistics with overwhelming numbers of deaths from "heart failure." Those who at once build up their strength and nourish the feeble nerve-centers with Paine's celery compound, check weakness of that important organ as readily as weakness of any other part of the body. This greatest modern invigorator, discovered by the man whom Dartmouth college is most proud to honor, Professor Edward E. Phelps, M.D., LL.D., was a step in advance of anything before it, a command of physicians, for curing rheumatism, neuralgia, debility. Countless women, weak, thin, mere bundles of nerves, and discouraged by their inability to gain strength, have been started on the sure road to recovery by Paine's celery compound.

Physicians prescribe it the world over. Get strong and well with Paine's celery compound.

Here is the experience of Mrs. William McCollom, of Trenton, Mo., who says: "I have had neuralgia for eight or ten years. I began to think that eventually it would cause my death. I would have three or four awful attacks in a month, and all the pain would settle in the base of my brain, and extend down my back, lasting several hours."

"We tried everything that we could think of, but nothing did me any lasting good until my mother came on a visit and told me to try Paine's celery compound, as she was using it for nervous trouble with wonderful success. We both think your compound saved us from going crazy. I only used two bottles of it, but I have not had a return of my old enemy since."

"One thing is certain, and that is the doctors could not do anything for me. Some told me it was caused by nervous trouble, some said it was female trouble. I would cause one thing, some said another, but thanks to your wonderful compound, I am free once more. I have often thought that I would write and tell you what a relief it is to be free from pain, but I neglected it from time to time. You may believe that I shall always speak a kind word for Paine's celery compound."

Tutor solo—"Waltz in F Major"—Miss Dora H. Eva.

The accompanists will be Miss Mackay and S. H. Jones. This will be Mrs. Ames Hall's last appearance in Duluth, as she leaves shortly for New York to resume her studies.

The Nursery Benefit.

A children's entertainment for the benefit of the day nursery was given at the Bellet last night, and the large crowd of children present were pleasingly entertained. The newboys of the town, presented at the Herald office, and marched down in a body and were the guests of the audience.

The Duluth Harjo club gave several selections in excellent style, and their music was enthusiastically received by the children. Mrs. d'Autremont gave several readings of a kind peculiarly pleasing to children, and the audience went wild over them. Miss Winifred Holmes sang several excellent selections charmingly, and she was well received. A considerable sum was noted for the Bellet day nursery.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure. It is the only positive cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acts on the system, directly destroying the root of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its cures, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Sent for list of testimonials.

President Olson, of the Trades Assembly, Charged With Using His Position for Political Purposes.

Said to Have Pledged the Assembly in Favor of Swenson, Independent Candidate for Sheriff.

The Matter Will Be Investigated at the Meeting of the Assembly on Friday Next.

The off week in organized circles is usually quiet and featureless, but this is not the case this week, and something like a sensation was created when it was announced that Mr. Olson, president of the Trades assembly, was charged with prostituting his office for the good of his fellow countryman, Mr. Swenson, who is an independent candidate for sheriff. The Trades assembly is a non-political and non-sectarian institution, and no one has ever attempted to introduce religion or politics into its affairs. This is the first time on record that an officer of the assembly has had such a weighty charge laid to his account.

The trouble arose on the range where, it is alleged, President Olson pledged the assembly as being in favor of the candidacy of Mr. Swenson, as against any other candidate. This may or may not be true, but the matter must rest where it is until the meeting of the assembly, which takes place next Friday.

IT WAS ONLY A DREAM.

The tramp's vision of existence under the Brotherhood of Man.

A man stood on the corner of the street watching a procession of American citizens marching with torches and banners to the patriotic music of a brass band. He was not well dressed, not even clean, and his eyes had a hungry gleam in them. Perhaps he should not have said "that," since he was evidently that peculiar mixture of sanity and insanity, of intelligence and stupidity, of hope and despair, which is the tramp. He was still hunting work and had sadly deteriorated in the process. He mechanically followed the long procession and entered with them. The building he afterward learned was Central Hall. It was filled to the dome with restless, enthusiastic humanity, such a crowd as he had never before seen.

The chairman arose and began a few words of introduction. As he spoke a tall, slender, quiet man advanced to the front of the stage. No further words of the chairman could be heard. The audience, with one impulse, rose to their feet and the occasion. They shouted, cheered, stamped, waved hats and handkerchiefs until the great organ fairly rattled in response. Moments went on. The cheering continued, rose in louder waves, receded, swelled again and yet again. Meanwhile the quiet man stood before them, serene and smiling, waiting for a chance to be heard. At last the noise subsided, and he began. "Three cheers for Dels!" called out an unsatisfied admirer, and again the dome quivered with volume from "Here, you go over there to the door marked 'office.' You'll find a man there that will talk to you and be very glad to see you."

Our tramp needed no second bidding to move toward the door designated. He slowly turned the knob and carefully walked in. A fine old gentleman in a shirt sleeves, with his silk hat on the back of his head and his gray hair much tousled about, bent over some small pieces of machinery, with a worried expression on his face.

"Please, sir," began the intruder. "Eh? Who is it? What can I do for you?" exclaimed the old gentleman, dropping his work and quickly turning around.

A look of repulsion crept over the faces of the young men.

"Heaven knows I am anxious to work at anything if I can only earn a decent living at it."

"Then why the dickens don't you? Queer specimen, I must say."

"Did you ever try hunting a job?"

The tramp asked, with a slight sneer in his tones. They broke into a hearty laugh.

"The idea of hunting a job! Well, that's rich. Two strong fellows like us—as good road-builders as there are in the country. Well, I guess not."

The tramp could only gaze at them in surprise. As he gazed they passed on, laughingly remarking that he must be in a hurry to get home to a bath and a clean suit of clothes.

"What! Do they mean that they actually work, and that they never hunt a job? Do they dig the ground, haul dirt, break stones, grade streets like common laborers, those young swells? It's a joke they're playing on me. I don't believe it," the tramp soliloquized as he stared after them.

But he wandered on and presently came out on a broad, white road, leading past some large, fine looking buildings that suggested machinery, though they were much better than anything he had ever seen in the way of shops.

He saw a wide entrance gate standing open and concluded he would pass through. He saw great rows of splendid machinery, huge piles of unworked iron, and some partly finished castings, but no workers, and the wheels and belts were silent.

He went on, up a wide flight of stairs, noting with a connoisseur's eye the perfect arrangements for work, the cleanliness the order and good ventilation. Still he saw no one. He wandered on and finally came upon two men who were trying to move a loaded cart on a small steel track. Instinctively he placed his shoulder against the car until, with their united efforts, it started.

"Thank you kindly," said one, who looked like a gentleman among himself in a workman's overalls. "I wish you might persuade you to stay with us a few days," he said with a smile.

"Why, I'm willing enough. Just give me a place to sleep and enough grub to fill up on."

The gentleman looked at him with astonishment. "Where in the world did you come from? Here, you go over there to the door marked 'office.' You'll find a man there that will talk to you and be very glad to see you."

Our tramp needed no second bidding to move toward the door designated. He slowly turned the knob and carefully walked in. A fine old gentleman in a shirt sleeves, with his silk hat on the back of his head and his gray hair much tousled about, bent over some small pieces of machinery, with a worried expression on his face.

"Please, sir," began the intruder. "Eh? Who is it? What can I do for you?" exclaimed the old gentleman, dropping his work and quickly turning around.

"I've been in some strange places, but in the best I couldn't find a chance to change these clothes for better ones."

A look of repulsion crept over the faces of the young men.

"Heaven knows I am anxious to work at anything if I can only earn a decent living at it."

"Then why the dickens don't you? Queer specimen, I must say."

Do You Catch the Idea?

A chewing tobacco made to please a universal taste, must be prepared from the highest grade leaf, with a skill that can only be acquired by the longest experience. It must possess a delicious flavor, and a lasting substance, and must neither be too light nor too heavy, too sweet nor too fat. In every element due to the tobacco chewer is so skillfully concentrated and blended as to make the most delicious chewing tobacco ever put on the market. Try it and you're sure to catch the idea.

It's Lorillard's.

Now you come here I don't know, but it makes me feel good, and I'll hire you. What wages do you want?

The tramp, bewildered and rejoiced at this language, was studying whether he might not, under the employer's emergency, ask $4 a day. When the rich man, fearing he was about to refuse, said: "Come, I'll give you nearly 90 per cent of what you produce. Say you'll produce about $30 worth in four hours, I'll give you $25 for the time."

The tramp started so violently that he came in sudden contact with something hard and cold. He looked up, and he saw a light far away, like something shining through a crack in a distant shutter. He was lying on a floor, and his hand struck against something he thought was a seat. He was alone in the great theater, and he had only dreamed, after all.

With the coming of day he was released and sent out to hunt a breakfast at the price of three hours' hard work, where he might produce in vain over that $35 for four hours' work; that dream land where workers lived like princes and looked like students or artists, and where if he would live to see such a state of affairs, if it looked so impossible, he asked himself why it shouldn't be true and could think of no answer.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Topic For the Week Ending Oct. 21. Comment by Rev. S. H. Doyle.

Topic.—Which of Christ's teachings seems to you most wonderful?—Mark 1:22; Isa. ix, 6. The Old Testament in describing the Messiah who was to come into the world described Him as one who would attract the wonder and amazement of a world. "Unto us is a child born, unto us a son is given, and the government shall be upon His shoulders, and His name shall be called Wonderful, Counselor, the Mighty God, the Everlasting Father, the Prince of Peace" (Isa. ix, 6). And when Christ came He fulfilled this description. The world looked in wonder upon Him not only because of His wonderful works, but also because of His wonderful teachings and the way in which He taught. They were astonished at His doctrine, for He taught them as one who had authority and not as the scribes" (Mark 1, 21).

The scribes were the official teachers of the Jews, but they were not authorities in themselves. They based their teachings upon the law and tradition. Their chief duty was simply to explain the law and apply it to the people. But Christ was not a scribe in His teaching. He taught of Himself and for Himself, and the people were not slow in seeing the difference between the character of His teaching and that of the Jewish lawyers. He taught as one who had authority.

In the three years of His public ministry Christ at some time or other touched upon all the important truths which constitute Christianity and the truths that had been for all time agitating the minds of men. He was indeed wonderful in His teachings. Concerning Himself, Christ taught that He was the Son of God; that He came into the world to die, to save the world, and that when He should die He should be raised in three days from the grave. Concerning man, He taught that He was the only true way back to God; that the soul of man is immortal, and that it exists in eternity either in happiness or in misery, dependent upon its relation to God; and also in His teachings He placed before men the highest standard of principle of men's dealings one with another.

We may well think upon the great teachings of Jesus Christ. They are all important to us. They are all dear to us, and yet perhaps in every heart, because of its experience or its surroundings, one truth is more wonderful than another.

Bible Readings.—Math. ix, 17; v, 43; vii, 2; 28; viii, 8; ix, 23; xxi, 23; xxv, 33-45; Mark ii, 18; xii, 28; Luke vi, 31; vii, 19; xv, 1; John xiii, 1-16; vi, 20; xiii, 14; xiv, xv, xvi.

A Christian Endeavor Choir.

A feature of the work of the Phil.

adelphi Christian Endeavor union most deserving of imitation by other unions is its Christian Endeavor choir, probably the largest ever organized among Christian Endeavor societies. It holds regular monthly rehearsals and cultivates with its music all the meetings of the union. At a recent union meeting a choir of 1,000 occupied seats on the platform. This form of work brings to many general occasions connected with the churches, and thus the usefulness of Christian Endeavor interdenominational co-operation is made noticeably apparent to all the pastors and churches.

—Golden Rule.

Practice in Soul Winning. Practice is a wonderful influence in soul winning. Life always has an influence. Piety has a preaching power. The steady influence of a godly life is the light that guides many a wanderer to Christ, its source. Christ exemplified by the Christian is Christ recommended to the world. "What sermon of mine would I like to hear, if it is to be a sermon that brought you to confess Christ? I would like to hear of an applicant for church membership. 'It was not your preaching, sir. It was Aunt Betty's practicing that brought me,' was the reply.—Christian Intelligencer.

Like the Primitive Christians.

Referring to a recent Christian Endeavor union meeting in Scotland, one of the speakers of the occasion said that he could imagine just such meetings among primitive Christians before the great differences which now exist had come to pass.

Christian Endeavor Preach. The Kansas City Christian Endeavor union is not resting in its vigorous good citizenship fight. It is in the war against the saloons, the lotteries and bad politics, and in it to stay.

Two capital topics recently used at Christian Endeavor conventions in Australia are, "The Sinner, and How to Cure Them," and "The Power of the Tongue." Such practical themes should be more frequently treated.

The first annual convention of the Washington (Australia) union was held July 10 and 11, the date of the Cleveland convention.

Cleveland got only enough of the Christian Endeavor convention to wish for more, and now the Cleveland Leader is raising the wacry, "Cleveland, 1897!"

A Christian Endeavor service was held on board the schooner, St. Mary, at New London harbor, previous to her departure for a foreign cruise.

The Floating Christian Endeavor society on the United States steamer New York, which was the first one organized in the navy, has held its meetings regularly, even although on some occasions, during the rebellion at Rio Janeiro, shells were flying unpleasantly near the vessel.

Twenty societies in Victoria, Australia, have given more than $1,900 to missions.

An Ample Fund of Pleasure and Health may be derived from an ocean voyage and foreign travel. But before one gets his "sea legs" on, as the sailor says, the abominable qualms, begotten of sea sickness, have usually to be gotten over. Delicate people suffer, of course, more than the robust from this ailment, but few sea travelers escape it. Against the Stomach Bitters produces, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a reliable defense, and is so esteemed by tourists, commercial travelers, yachtsmen and mariners. An ailment akin to sea sickness often afflicts land travelers with weak stomachs. This is often brought on by the jarring of a railway train. Disquietude in the gastric region from this cause is always remedied by the Bitters, which also prevents and cures chills and fever, rheumatism, nervous and kidney trouble, constipation and biliousness.

Explanation of Ballot to Voters by the City Attorney.

Special Election, October 26, 1894.

On account of the number of propositions to be submitted to the voters at the Special Election to be held on the 26th day of October, 1894, and to prevent, if possible, any confusion from arising, it has been thought proper that I should give a detailed explanation of the manner in which the ballot should be prepared for voting.

It is proper to state in the beginning that the ballot has been made to cover every proposition which could be submitted to the voters to avoid a possible objection which might be made to a more limited ballot on the ground that the legislature intended by the Charter provision on this subject, that only the expediency of issuing the Bonds and the amount deemed desirable to be issued, should be left to the City Council, and that what should be done with the proceeds of the bonds should be left entirely to the voters.

The propositions to be submitted at this Election and the form of the ballot to be voted are as follows:

1. Upon the proposition of issuing water and light bonds to the extent of two million one hundred and six thousand dollars ($2,106,000) for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water and light plant.	Yes
2. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in erecting a water and light plant.	No
3. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in purchasing a water and light plant already in existence in said city, said bonds to be issued and sold by the Common Council as the same may be needed to pay for said plant, or to discharge or to take up the bonded indebtedness of said plant.	Yes
4. Upon the proposition of issuing water and light bonds to the extent of two million one hundred and six thousand dollars ($2,106,000) for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water plant.	Yes
5. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in erecting a water plant.	No
6. Upon the proposition of expending the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in purchasing a water plant already in existence in said city.	Yes
7. Upon the proposition of issuing water and light bonds to the extent of two million one hundred and six thousand dollars ($2,106,000) for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a light plant for the City of Duluth.	Yes
8. Upon the proposition of using the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in erecting a light plant for said city.	No
9. Upon the proposition of using the moneys derived from the sale of said bonds in purchasing a light plant already in existence in said city.	No
10. Upon the proposition that, in the event the voters at this election shall decline in favor of purchasing a water and light plant already in existence in the City of Duluth, additional water and light bonds to the extent of six hundred thousand dollars ($600,000) shall be issued for the purpose of extending and improving said plant, said bonds to be issued and sold by the Common Council as the same may be needed for said purposes.	Yes

The Judges of Election will furnish each person entitled to vote with one ballot.

Upon receiving the ballot the voter will retire alone to one of the booths provided for that purpose, and upon examining the same, and having determined which of the propositions he desires to vote for, should put a cross mark (X) opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite each proposition he may wish to vote for, and should put a cross mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite each proposition he does not wish to vote for. For instance, if a voter should desire to vote for the issuance of bonds for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water and light plant, he should put a cross mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the first and second propositions and should put a cross mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth.

If he should desire to vote for the issuance of such bonds and that they should be used in purchasing the water and light plant already in existence in the city he should place a cross mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the first and third propositions; and should put a cross mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth.

If a voter should desire to vote for the issuance of such bonds for the purpose of erecting or purchasing a water plant only, and should desire that the proceeds of such bonds should be spent in erecting such water plant, he should place a cross mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the fourth and fifth propositions, and he should place a cross mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth. If he should wish that said bonds should be used and that the proceeds should be used in purchasing a water plant he should place a cross mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the fourth and sixth propositions and a cross mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite every other proposition except the tenth. And so also for the propositions in regard to a light plant alone.

The tenth proposition rests upon the condition that the purchase of the present plant shall be voted, and every voter should cast his vote upon that proposition upon the supposition that the proposition of purchasing will carry. If, in that event, he should desire that additional bonds shall be issued for extending and improving the plant he should put a cross mark opposite the word "Yes" standing opposite the tenth proposition. If he should not desire that said additional bonds should be issued for the purpose of extending and improving the plant, he should put a cross mark opposite the word "No" standing opposite the tenth proposition.

It may be well to state that the real question with which the people of the city are at present concerned is whether or not they shall purchase the water and light plant now in existence in this city or whether they shall erect one for themselves. Any voter desiring to make that purchase should vote for the first and third propositions and against all the others except the tenth. Any voter desiring to erect such plant should vote for the first and second propositions and against all the others except the tenth. As to the tenth proposition let what has been said above be always borne in mind.

The first three propositions which are for votes upon a water and light plant, were framed and submitted to the voters because of the fact that the present plant can only be purchased as a whole, including both its water and light branches.

Attest: C. E. RICHARDSON, City Clerk.

THE DULUTH HUNTERS.

Chickens and Ducks Are Plentiful in Dakota But Geese Scarce.

The weather has not been quite right to bring the ducks and geese down in very great numbers yet. The Duluth hunters were out in force last Sunday, but the average bag on the river was only six ducks. The reports from the Dakotas is that chickens and ducks are plentiful but few geese are being shot. Deer hunting in Wisconsin is reported very poor and none of the Duluth hunters have been over yet. There are more deer on this side of the lake but they are herding together some distance back from the roads and settlements. The near approach of the open season is waking the hunters up and several parties go out tonight to locate deer ticks and make arrangements to be in a good place when the law expires.

The Duluth hunters out in Dakota are having a pretty good time. Yesterday Jack Dodge sent in a bunch of chickens, ducks and an 8-pound goose.

A party of three Ashland hunters passed through here Thursday with 300 ducks from Deer river.

One party of duck hunters who were out Sunday went as far as Sawyer and reported that they found the lake frozen up.

Sam Fullerton and John Green are up at Bowstring.

The sudden death of Dr. C. S. Allen was sad news to the Duluth anglers and hunters. Mr. Allen was a devoted lover of the sports with rod and gun and was a pleasant companion to be out with on the trout streams, or the deer trails or the ducking grounds. His death came from a fishing trip on Lake Vermilion. None will miss him more or cherish his memory with kinder feelings than his companions of the Gun club and those who have shared with him the sports afield.

W. P. Andrus, of the state commission, was in Duluth last week and attended the meeting of the local association. Mr. Andrus spoke enthusiastically of the work the boys are doing for the protection of game and said their efforts were a help to him in enforcing the game laws. Deputy Warden Sam Fullerton came in for much praise for his untiring efforts to enforce the game laws. In three months more good has been done towards protecting game and fish than in Duluth's past history. LITTLE LEE.

THE TOTAL REGISTRATION.

There Are 10,223 Names Enrolled on the Water Bond Election List.

The total registration for the special bond election of Oct. 26, as footed up by City Clerk Richardson this afternoon was 10,223, in the entire forty precincts. The figures by wards are as follows: First ward, 1020; Second, 1320; Third, 1254; Fourth, 1167; Fifth, 1316; Sixth, 1502; Seventh, 1322; Eighth, 1030; total, 10,223. A total of 208 booths will be erected for the accommodation of the voters.

Some Rulings Received. Quite a batch of official mail from Washington was received by the local United States land officers yesterday afternoon. Among the letters were the general land office rulings in Charles M. Hanshaw vs. Oscar F. Sims, Ole Nystrom vs. Murdo McLennan, and also some other matters in which the findings of the officers here were sustained.

ANOTHER STOCK SUIT

A. W. Bradley and A. B. Chapin Sued to Enforce Guarantees on American Loan and Trust Company Stock.

Plaintiff is a Pennsylvania Bank and Claims That Dividends of 8 Per Cent Were Guaranteed.

Several Other Actions Begun in the District Court—Alderman Cox Sued for Some Windows.

The Miners Savings bank, of Pittston, Penn., has begun a suit against A. W. Bradley and A. B. Chapin to enforce guarantees of American Loan and Trust company stock alleged to have been made by the defendants. This is the second suit of the kind which has been brought in the district court. The first one was brought by the Northern Trust company against different defendants.

The complaint alleges that in July, 1891, the American Loan and Trust company sold fifty shares of stock to J. M. Douglas, Jr., in consideration of a written guaranty by defendants that the dividends on the stock should be at least 8 per cent. They agreed to purchase it back at the end of the time if necessary. The shares were transferred to William McKinley and by him to the plaintiff, who alleges that there has been no dividend since 1893 and that Bradley and Chapin have refused to repurchase the stock. The dividends unpaid amount to $5000 and the par value of the stock is $5000, and suit is brought for that amount.

In the matter of the receivership of A. McInnes, Judge Moer has made an order allowing Receiver J. P. Johnson to pay a dividend of 23 per cent after which he is released from further service.

Florence Pierce has sued Richard A. Pierce for divorce, on the ground of desertion. They are 32 and 35 years of age respectively, and were married in 1884.

Judge Moer has filed findings for default judgments in the case of Mary A. Banning et al against A. M. Kilgore et al for $6869 and in the case of M. A. Banning et al against A. L. Warner et al for $15,321. Both are on mortgage notes on Duluth property.

The Kouchleau-Ray Iron Land company has brought suit against the Security Bank and the Cloquet Water company to quiet title to land in 57-17. The company Land and Exploration company has begun suit against the same parties to quiet title to lands in 58-15.

St. George R. Fitzhugh has filed a replevin suit against Ambrose M. Cox to recover the storm windows belonging to thirty houses in Harrison's Brookdale division. The alderman is accused of taking the windows and appropriating them to his own use. Failing the restitution of the windows St. George R. wants $500, their alleged value, and $400 damages.

SOMEWHAT SENSATIONAL.

Two Papers Which Agitated Mr. Post Produced Yesterday Afternoon.

The Post case took a sensational turn late yesterday afternoon. The defendant was under cross examination nearly all afternoon. Toward the close of his examination District Attorney Stringer produced a paper from his pocket which had the appearance of a torn letter pasted together on a piece of paper. He asked Post if he recognized it.

Post made no answer. He finally admitted that the signature was his although he first said that he hated to answer, and declared it was entirely outside of the case. He admitted writing all of it.

Another paper, having the appearance of a legal document, was shown the defendant. Mr. Hollenback asked the court that Mr. Post be instructed that he need not make incriminating answers. He admitted, hesitatingly, having written and signed the paper. Mr. Hollenback objected to the admission of the papers as evidence and to the reading of them before they were passed upon. Judge Nelson ruled them out and Mr. Stringer again pocketed them.

District Attorney Stringer then put this question: "Did you, shortly after the examination before Judge Carey, at the house of Dr. Swain, say that you had witnesses to clear you in this case, but that if you got your just deserts you would go to the penitentiary?"

Post wanted to explain, but a yes or no answer was demanded and he said "No." He afterward explained: "I said in a joshing way at the house of Dr. Swain that I would get clear all right, but that if I got my deserts I probably would get a trip over the road, or something like that."

Homer Craig corroborated some of Post's testimony and W. T. Bailey gave testimony as to Post's reputation. Court adjourned until Monday.

Republican Rally. Professor J. S. Carlson will speak at the following places in Duluth: United States hall, West End, Saturday evening, Oct. 20; Great Eastern hall, West Duluth, Monday evening, Oct. 22; Turner hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 23. He is a very fine speaker. Hear him.

Royal Arch Masons.

There was a pleasant meeting of Chapter Masons at Masonic Temple hall last evening for work in the royal arch degree. A class of seven candidates, among whom was Judge Charles L. Lewis, was passed through the imposing ritual, after which a banquet was served and Dr. Forbes and others spoke. A tender tribute of love and respect was paid to the memory of Companions Allen and McDonald, lately deceased, the last named being from Two Harbors. A number of visitors from Carlton and other places were present.

No Guardian Needed. Some time ago Mrs. Laura C. Robinson petitioned the probate court for the appointment of a guardian for her brother, Thomas V. Martin, on the ground that he was dissipating his money away. Judge Ayer took the matter under advisement, and this morning made an order dismissing the petition.

Judge Willis is Here. Judge John W. Willis, of St. Paul, is in the city. This evening he will be succeeded by the City lawyer at the St. Louis hotel and may make a speech.

Death of Mrs. W. W. Henry, Jr. The friends of Mrs. W. W. Henry, Jr., were pained to learn yesterday of her death on Wednesday at Haymarket, Va. Mr. Henry brought his bride to Duluth early in July on their wedding journey and all who met her were charmed by her winning personality. Mr. and Mrs. Henry were on their way to the old homestead of the Henrys, where Patrick Henry, their illustrious ancestor lived, when word reached here of Mrs. Henry's death from typhoid fever. She was a sister of Robt. Dulany, formerly of this city. Their many friends will sympathize with Mr. Henry in his great affliction.

Planting the Standard.

All hail Columbus! Behold the great navigator as he lands. The perils of the deep are past. The clouds of fear have vanished. The night of gloom has ended. In the heavens the sun of success shines resplendent. Morning has dawned.

Imperiously the banner of haughty Spain greets the daylight. Upon its fluttering folds are inscribed the destinies of a new world. Its gleaming surface marks a long advance in the evolution of the human race. It tells a story of prophecy unparalleled, of development unapproached in the fullness of recorded time. It crowns with triumph the efforts of genius.

The World's Fair contained no finer statue of the great discoverer than this colossal figure. It commanded from its pedestal, the eastern entrance to the Administration building. The majesty of its dimensions, the vigor and aggressiveness of its expression and the artistic finish of its composition made it admired as a genuine sculptural triumph.
